

HYPERLOCAL RESEARCH ON MISINFORMATION IN FOUR NYC COMMUNITIES

3 June 2021

NYC Vaccine Command Center

Executive Summary

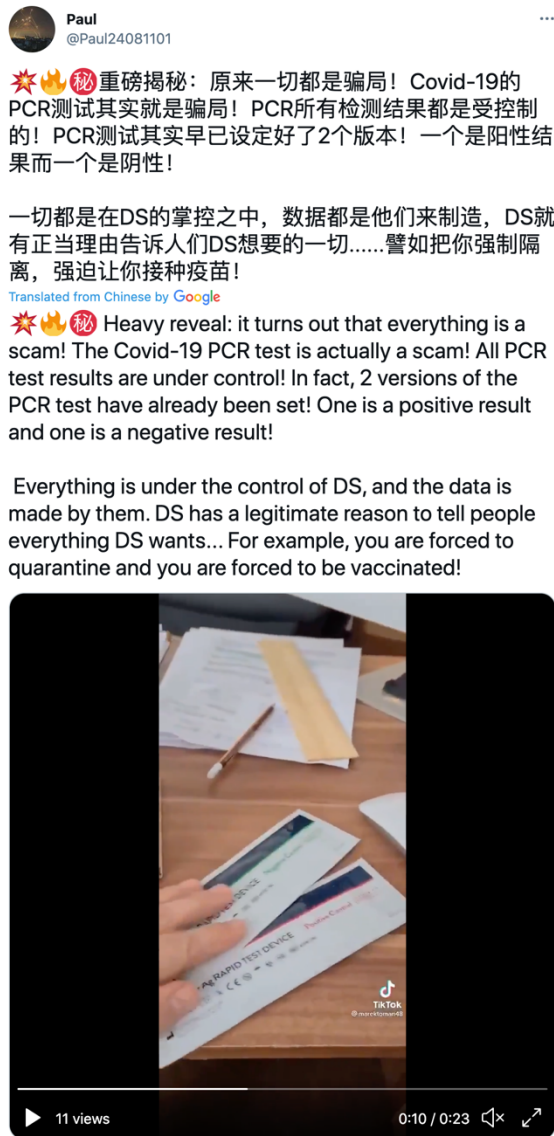

- GroupSense conducted in-depth research of how misinformation spreads in the following four demographics: (1) Chinese-American community in Flushing, Queens, (2) the Russian-American community in South Brooklyn; (3) The neighborhood of East New York, Brooklyn; (4) The Nation of Islam in the Bronx and across NYC.
- Misinformation shared within the four observed communities very often originates from sources in other languages and outside of those communities. For example, a recent TikTok video in Czech that shows access to PCR tests was subsequently shared by a Chinese-language Twitter user located in New York who claims COVID-19 PCR tests are a scam.
- Some Russian and Chinese-language articles that slightly mischaracterize COVID-19 vaccine information in their headlines use variations of English language articles as their source. We surmise that this slight change in translation is not being done to deliberately spread disinformation, but rather as a tactic to sensationalize headlines and to achieve more views.
- The misinformation appears to be similar across the studied communities: namely, mistrust of authorities and skepticism about the safety and effectiveness of the vaccines. Among the East New York, and Nation of Islam communities, skepticism of the vaccine centers on issues of racism and evokes historical wrongdoings against African-Americans.

Misinformation Impacting the Chinese-American Community in Flushing

Source and Description of Threat	GroupSense conducted a search of geotagged tweets in Chinese for the Flushing, Queens and surrounding region and found multiple discussions related to COVID-19 vaccines. In the period of 2-4 June 2021 we saw over 40-vaccine related conversations geotagged to Flushing, Queens and the surrounding NY area. We highlight below a sample of observed misinformation included in those tweets: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • On 4 June, @jamespeng001, who self-reports as residing in New York, NY, tweeted (translated from Chinese), that according to NHK News, the vaccine “did not stop the infection.” • On 4 June, @Finder198107, tweeted (translated from Chinese) the “domestic vaccine” is “useless.” • On 3 June, @Paul24081101 tweeted a video by Czech TikToker @marektoman48 which shows a box of rapid test devices marked “Positive Control” and Negative Control.” @Paul24081101 tweeted (translated from Chinese) “The Covid-19 PCR test is actually a scam! All

	PCR test results are under control! In fact, 2 versions of the PCR test have already been set! One is a positive result and one is a negative result!" (Figure 1). We also searched for news and blog sites local to Flushing, Queens or with content that is likely to be viewed by residents of Flushing. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • On 1 June 2021, the Chinese-language news site Flushing New Media published an article titled "It's a mess! A 13-year-old girl was given the wrong vaccine, and 10 others were injected with saline" (Figure 2). The article cited an earlier report by the Canadian news outlet CBC published on 31 May 2021. We were unable to determine who is behind the site Flushingmedia[.]com, which was registered in February 2021 and hides its registrant information using WHOIS privacy protection. • We searched the Flushing-based Chinese media outlet Sinovision (sinovision[.]net) for vaccine content. However, we did not observe any false or misleading articles posted on this site. We searched the popular Chinese-language search engine Weibo for vaccine-related content potentially being shared by users who self-report from Queens or neighboring New York neighborhoods. However, we did not observe any vaccine misinformation posted in recent months. Most of the shared content with keywords in Chinese related to Flushing or Queens resulted in sharing of factual vaccine-related reporting.
Channels	Sinovision and Flushingmedia allow users to share content via social media platforms, including Facebook, Twitter, as well as the Chinese language platform WeChat. GroupSense did not observe any misinformation spread on NYC-related channels on WeChat. As in other platforms, content shared on WeChat is primarily sourced from mainstream news outlets, including Tweets in English by Governor Cuomo, the New York Times, and Chinese news outlets (Figure 3). It is plausible that misinformation is being spread in closed chats. However, we do not have visibility into any private chat groups set up among friends or small community groups.
Types of Misinformation	Most of the observed misinformation in this community consists of themes we have seen spread in English and in other communities: complaints of mismanagement of the vaccination process, claims that the vaccine is ineffective, and the sharing of conspiracy theories surrounding COVID-19 controls.

Figure 3: A screenshot of the WeChat group “New York Hipster” that republishes news from Gov. Cuomo’s Twitter account related to a confirmed case of the British variant of the virus found in New York. We consider the title “Be careful if you’ve been here..” (translated from Chinese) potentially sensationalizing the news report and spreading fear.

Misinformation Impacting the Russian-American Community in South Brooklyn

Source and Description of Threat	As with the geotag search conducted in Chinese, we searched for mentions of the vaccine in Russian by users located in Brooklyn and surrounding NYC area. However, we observed only a small number of tweets in recent months discussing vaccines in the area. One of these tweets stated that there are insufficient vaccines in NY and another claimed severe arm pain from the vaccine: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• On 13 May 2021, Twitter user @AlizaZilber tweeted (translated from Russian) “Here [in New York] we also didn’t have enough vaccines, despite the fact that I was considered a priority.”• On 30 March 2021, Twitter user @dsgnttwrks tweeted (translated from Russian) “I got the vaccine on Thursday...my arm still hurts. I think I will die from the pain...” We also conducted a search of Russian language news outlets with content focused on Brooklyn and New York. <ul style="list-style-type: none">• The Russian language news site BrightonBeachnews[.]com occasionally publishes anti-vaccine content. On 3 May 2021 it posted a video 1976 video by 60 minutes on the swine flu (Figure 4). The author who posted the video added a caption stating that the scary video speaks to the “terrible consequences of vaccination against influenza” and asks “how does it remind you of the ads promoting COVID-19 vaccines?” On a few occasions, users comment on the articles. For example, in 5 January, BrightonBeachNews published a video of Mayor De Blasio discussing vaccinations. One user, “Valery”, posted two comments with negative commentary directed at Bill de Blasio and claiming that both the mayor and the New York Governor should be “imprisoned.”• A 2 May 2021 article posted on the Russian news site vnovomsvete[.]com is titled “Personal experience: how I tried to sign up for vaccinations in New York” and discusses difficulties with scheduling a vaccine in NYC, that the vaccine registration websites are not easy to use,

	and uses anecdotal examples to explain that there were no readily available vaccines in New York for her husband. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The news site newyork.forumdaily.com publishes content in Russian, and frequently covers news of the pandemic and the vaccine. On 31 March 2021, Forum Daily author Olga Derkach published the article “Resident of New York Got Sick with COVID-19 After Being Fully Vaccinated” (translated from Russian). The article cited an English-language article published the previous day on pix11.com, titled “Long Island woman among small percentage to test positive for COVID after 2 vaccine shots.”
Channels	Most observed misinformation occurs in the form of news articles that are then shared on users’ individual social media pages. We observed that Facebook, VK, Odnoklassniki, Telegram, Twitter, Viber, and WhatsApp are the most popular social media platforms among the Russian-speaking community in Brooklyn. New York-themed communities on the popular Russian platforms Vkontakte (VK) and Odnoklassniki (OK) are primarily used to share information on immigration, housing, and job vacancies in the New York area. While some groups post news articles related to the Russian-American community, these are primarily from reliable news sources, and we have not observed misinformation being spread in these channels. Similarly, on Facebook, the top New York and Brooklyn-themed Russian-language groups are devoted to immigration topics, employment, and housing ads. On the New York-themed Telegram groups, including @NYchatik, which has 11,939 members, the only vaccine-related conversation we observed in recent weeks was by user “Zarina” who asked whether a vaccine was necessary for visiting New York City or if a PCR test was sufficient. Other Russian language forums related to Brooklyn, including 100real[.]ru/brooklyn/forum are either largely dormant or do not contain content related to the vaccine.
Types of Misinformation	Themes included criticism of Mayor Bill de Blasio and Gov. Cuomo, complaints of side effects following the vaccine, and lack of access to vaccines/inadequate online resources for getting vaccinated.

Misinformation Impacting the Neighborhood of East New York, Brooklyn

Source and Description of Threat	GroupSense conducted a geotag search of vaccine-related Tweets originating from East New York, Brooklyn, and found two relevant mentions from February and March 2021: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> On 11 March 2021, @RomarioRickettz, who self-reports as being from Brooklyn, NY, tweeted “Can’t to see racism? [sic] Take a look at the distribution of vaccine sites across NYC. Locations in low-income neighborhoods like mine are few and far between. East New York and Brownsville are not just food deserts. They are also healthcare deserts.” On 17 February, @IamClassicBeats, who self-reports as residing in East New York, Brooklyn, tweeted “Booking a vaccine appointment for my mother in law here in East New York, Brooklyn is damn near impossible and im tech savvy. It’s also no coincidence that East New York has one of the lowest vaccination rates in the city. Structural racism is exhausting” (Figure 5). In April, GroupSense reported on the popular Brooklyn-based social media influencer Jovi beauty, who promoted misinformation around the Johnson & Johnson vaccine. Jovi Beauty’s content is primarily apolitical, and her target audience appears to primarily be African-American women viewers.
Channels	The app Nextdoor appears to be popular in East New York, as we have seen that the app recognizes East New York (Fntn-Flatlands) as a neighborhood, and there are dozens of posts to that neighborhood chat in recent weeks. However, the only vaccine related posts we observed, were factual (Figure 6). The Facebook group “East New York” has 6,342 followers and is highly active. We reviewed content dating back to 15 May, but did not observe any vaccine misinformation being discussed.
Type of Misinformation	Vaccine-related commentary in East New York, Brooklyn appears to primarily center on claims of structural racism and difficulties registering for vaccinations.

Misinformation Related to the Nation of Islam Across NYC

Source and Description of Threat	The Nation of Islam (NOI) has a strong and vocal anti-vaccine stance that is visible in the messaging on its website, Instagram page, and comments made by its members. The NOI has a web page (noi[.]org/vaccine) that urges followers not to take the vaccine (Figure 7). On 20 May 2021, Nuri Muhammad, who has been with the Nation of Islam since 1992, participated in a videoconference streamed on the YouTube channel The STEM files (no known affiliation with the Nation of Islam). Mr. Muhammad suggested that because vaccines are tested on “white mice” and Caucasian people before they are released to the public, they need to be critical of its effects on “melinated” people (Figure 8). A sermon published on 2 May 2021 by the New York city-affiliated NOI minister Abdul Muhammad speaking of efforts to vaccinate people and says that “we could never trust white people...what makes you think you can go to the doctor and you could trust that doctor to give you a shot.”
Channels	NOI New York’s Instagram page https://www.instagram.com/noinewyork/ repeatedly pushes messaging critical of the vaccine (Figure 9). These messages claim that “biotech companies manipulate living organisms or their components through processes like genetic engineering” and cite NOI Minister Louis Farrakhan stating “Don’t let them vaccinate you, with their history of treachery through vaccines, through medication.” The Facebook group Muhammad Mosque No.7 Historic Harlem, NYC is the official Facebook page associated with the NOI. However, we have not observed vaccine-related messaging posted in recent weeks in this group.
Type of Misinformation	NOI’s anti-vaccine stance is viewed through the prism of racial inequality. NOI Minister Farrakhan’s statements remind followers of a “history of treachery” through vaccines and medication.

WARNING: Do Not Take the Experimental COVID-19 Vaccine

The Honorable Minister Louis Farrakhan warns the Black community against taking the Covid-19 Vaccine with the US Government's treacherous history of experimentation, medications and vaccines. This publication provides information, facts and history to why we should not take "their vaccine" along with protect yourself, family and community.

"Don't let them vaccinate you, with their history of treachery through vaccines, through medication. Are you listening? I say to the African presidents, do not take their medications! I say to those of us in America, we need to call a meeting of our skilled virologists, epidemiologists, students of biology and chem look at not only what they give us. We need to give ourselves something better."

Below the bio are navigation tabs for 'POSTS', 'IGTV', and 'TAGGED'. Six posts are visible, each with a dark background and white text. The posts are titled 'JUST THE FACTS' and 'DID YOU KNOW?'. The content of the posts includes:

- Post 1: A quote from Minister Louis Farrakhan: "Don't let them vaccinate you, with their history of treachery through vaccines, through medication. Are you listening? I say to the African presidents, do not take their medications! I say to those of us in America, we need to call a meeting of our skilled virologists, epidemiologists, students of biology and chemistry, and we need to look at not only what they give us. We need to give ourselves something better." - THE HONORABLE MINISTER LOUIS FARRAKHAN
- Post 2: "Did You Know? The Cuban antiviral drug, Interferon Alpha 2b has been used to fight the COVID-19 outbreak. Interferons are "signaling" proteins that are produced and released by the body in response to infections and alert nearby cells to heighten their antiviral defenses. It is not a cure or a vaccine to COVID-19, but an antiviral that boosts the human immune system."
- Post 3: "On July 4, 2020, Minister Farrakhan said it would be a declaration of war if the government tried to physically force us to take the vaccine. Within days after he spoke, the U.S. government completely changed its strategy for getting the country to take the Covid-19 vaccination by using Black medical and health care professionals, politicians, educators and clergy members to urge people to take the vaccine."
- Post 4: "Did You Know? Pharmaceutical companies manufacture medicines and develop vaccines whereas biotech companies manipulate living organisms or their components through processes like genetic engineering. Pfizer (a pharmaceutical company) has partnered with BioNTech (a biotech company based in Germany) to produce the COVID19 vaccine. While Moderna, a biotech company, has never developed an approved vaccine, they are now producing an mRNA COVID19 vaccine."
- Post 5: "Did You Know? "The vaccine requires two doses: one to prime the body; a few weeks later, another one to boost the response. It normally takes 5-15 years to develop a vaccine because years are needed to realize the long-term effects. The Covid-19 vaccine is completely experimental. Worse, it comes after 20 years of 100 percent failure in the effort to create a coronavirus vaccine."
- Post 6: "Did You Know? Between 1929 and 1974, North Carolina sterilized more than 7,600 individuals in the name of "improving" the state's human stock. By the time the program was halted, the majority of those neutered were young, black, poor women."

Recently Observed Mis/Disinformation Potentially Impacting NYC Vaccination Efforts

 GroupSense continues to track multiple disinformation narratives surrounding the vaccine and its distribution. We include below a sample of the most prominent recent narratives and highlight information specific to New York City where applicable.

Doctor Promotes Claims of Vaccine-Induced Cardiovascular Damage on Ask Dr. Drew

Source and Description of Threat	On his 26 July episode of his podcast Ask Dr. Drew, addiction specialist and media personality Dr. Drew Pinsky hosted Dr. Kelly Victory, a trauma and emergency specialist associated with the Early Covid Care Experts group led by vaccine skeptic Dr. Peter McCullough. In the interview, Dr. Victory claims that COVID-19 vaccines are causing a host of severe cardiovascular conditions in recipients, including significant rates of myocarditis. Dr. Victory claims that this is due to production of SARS-CoV-2 spike proteins in the body spurred by the vaccines. She claims that the vaccine thus spreads toxic proteins throughout the body that attack a recipient's organs.

Claims that Vaccines Contain Graphene Oxide Spreading in Polish

Source and Description of Threat	In recent days, GroupSense has observed multiple articles and social media posts in Polish promoting claims that COVID-19 vaccines contain graphene oxide. One major drive of this narrative appears to be a 29 July 2022 article from the Polish outlet News Na Dzis (News for Today), which claims that a British laboratory had confirmed that graphene oxide is contained in the vaccines. This narrative was additionally promoted in an article-length post on the social media site gloria[.]tv that was created 27 July 2022. This post was made in Polish by a user named Edward7, and is a translation of an article written by British conspiracy theorist Mark Steele for the Canadian conspiracist think tank Center for Research on Globalization. The article ties graphene oxide narratives to narratives surrounding 5G and microwave weapons. Gloria[.]tv is a Catholic-oriented social media and video-sharing site that hosts a wide range of conspiracy content.

Children's Health Defense Claims that 15% of American Adults Developing New Conditions Following Vaccination

Source and Description of Threat	In a press release from 27 July 2022, anti-vaccine advocacy organization Children's Health Defense claims that 15% of American adults are being diagnosed with new conditions soon after receiving COVID-19 vaccines. The claim is based on two polls Children's Health Defense commissioned with John Zogby Surveys, which had a total sample size of 1,867 people. The fifth question on the survey read, "After receiving a COVID vaccine, were you diagnosed by a medical practitioner with a new medical condition within a matter of weeks to several months?" Although the poll did not specify a strict timeframe and did not ask if such diagnoses had at all been connected to vaccines, Children's Health Defense's suggests that these survey results are indicative of possible vaccine harms and warrant further investigation, thus undermining trust in vaccines.

The Epoch Times* Claims Moderna Vaccine Trials Based on “Irrelevant Studies and Deceptive Practices”

Source and Description of Threat	On 26 August 2022, the media outlet The Epoch Times published an article claiming that trials for the Moderna COVID-19 vaccine Spikevax were based on irrelevant prior studies and possibly deceptive practices. According to the article, a Freedom of Information Request by the organization Judicial Watch obtained 700 pages of internal Moderna documents that were given to pharmaceutical analyst Alexandra Latypova. Alexandra Latypova claims that 400 of the documents included content that should not have been relevant to vaccine trial filings with public health agencies, and that many of the documents served to obfuscate and mislead readers trying to understand the process of the trial.

Substack Writer Claims that COVID-19 Vaccines are Causing Brain Tumors and Cancer

Source and Description of Threat	On 31 August 2022, Substack writer Texas Lindsay published an article in which she shares a supposed interaction with her new neighbor. When talking to her neighbor, she claims that the latter's son had experienced sharp pains in his head and developed a tumor shortly after receiving his second dose of a COVID-19 vaccine. Texas Lindsay claims that the woman then said that a nurse at Baylor University Medical Center had told her that the hospital was seeing a dramatic rise in brain cancer patients. Texas Lindsay then pivots to VAERS data that she claims shows that incidents of cancer are at historic highs following COVID-19 vaccine rollout.

Russian Article Promotes Narrative that Vaccines Severe Cause Cardiovascular Conditions

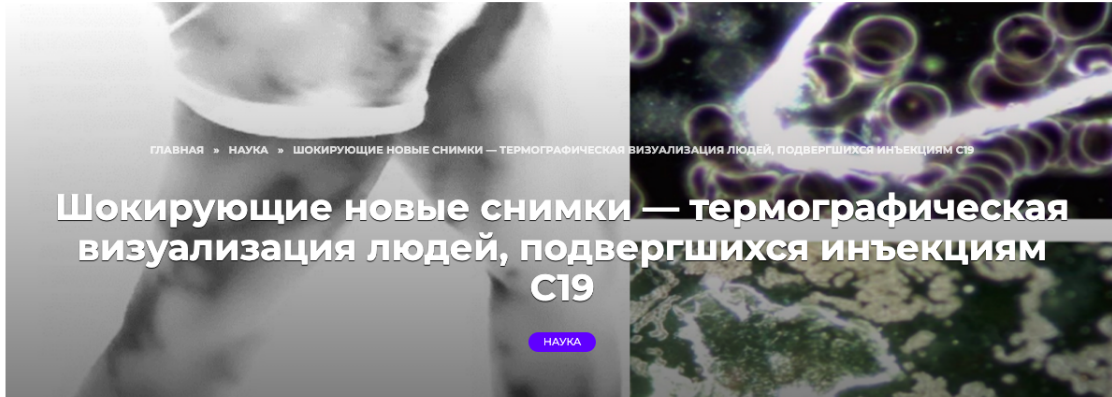

Source and Description of Threat	On 24 August 2022, a Russian news site called redko-da-metka[.]ru published an article advancing false claims about cardiovascular conditions affecting people vaccinated against COVID-19. The article references a research study on diagnosing deep vein thrombosis published by the United States National Library of Medicine and claims that this study had discovered cardiovascular damage caused by mRNA COVID-19 vaccines. The article then promotes claims put forward by Brighteon founder Mike Adams suggesting that COVID-19 vaccines are causing dangerous metallic structures to grow in the blood vessels of recipients.

 GroupSense continues to track multiple disinformation narratives surrounding the vaccine and its distribution. We include below a sample of the most prominent recent narratives and highlight information specific to New York City where applicable.

NYC-Based Journalist Suggests COVID-19 Vaccines Caused Death and Collapses at Brooklyn Half Marathon

Source and Description of Threat	On 23 May 2022, Kyle Becker published an article on his website Becker News discussing sixteen runners who collapsed and one who died during and immediately after the 2022 Brooklyn Half Marathon. Throughout the article, he draws attention to the fact that all the runners were vaccinated, and says that COVID-19 vaccines are known to cause cardiovascular complications. Despite saying that no definitive connection can be made, the framing employed by Kyle Becker throughout the article heavily implies that the vaccines caused the runners to collapse. Kyle Becker is a New York City-based journalist. He has been sharply critical of COVID-19 vaccines and promoted misleading narratives in his articles and on social media.

Telegram Channels Link Buffalo Shooting to Vaccines

Source and Description of Threat	GroupSense has observed conspiracy narratives surrounding the 14 May 2022 mass shooting at a Buffalo, New York supermarket circulating on Telegram. One narrative that has emerged on Telegram blames COVID-19 vaccines for the shooting. For example, a post in the Telegram channel Anti-Vaccin3s contained a ten-second clip from the shooter's livestream and claimed that the massacre was caused by chemicals in the vaccine driving the perpetrator crazy. GroupSense has observed similar narratives connecting COVID-19 vaccines to the recent Uvalde shooting (see our report of 26 May 2022). The intersection of conspiracy narratives and anti-vaccine sentiment will likely result in the continued attribution of mass shootings and other violent events to COVID-19 vaccines.

ABSTRACT

According to data collected in the UK for weeks 34-52 in 2021 (excluding week 51 which was not covered) and in weeks 1-12 of 2022 — a period of 28 weeks during which the genetic “vaccines” from Pfizer, Moderna, and AstraZeneca were being pressed upon the public — deaths reported to Public Health England (PHE) from their hospital “trusts” were being tabulated in a series of vaccine surveillance reports. Each source for the data analyzed here covered a four-week

Recently Observed Mis/Disinformation Potentially Impacting NYC Vaccination Efforts

 GroupSense continues to track multiple disinformation narratives surrounding the vaccine and its distribution. We include below a sample of the most prominent recent narratives and highlight information specific to New York City where applicable.

NYC Twitter User Promotes False Claims About Vaccines in Haiti

Source and Description of Threat	On 27 April 2022, Twitter user @montaga tweeted, “Fact: Haiti rejected the vaccine’s as a result their anti globalist president was assassinated by 26 CIA trained mercenaries. Yet they still remain 0% Vaxxed with less than 1000 Covid deaths through the entire pandemic.” This tweet refers to President of Haiti Jovenal Moïse, who was killed by foreign mercenaries in July 2021. @montaga’s tweet suggests that the assassination was orchestrated or backed by the U.S government for opposing COVID-19 vaccines. Narratives claiming that President Moïse opposed vaccines and was possibly killed for his opposition began spreading shortly after his death. Additionally, @montaga notes Haiti’s very low vaccination rate (while it is not zero, it is only 1.1%) and low recorded COVID-19 deaths. Based on this tweet and the user’s promotion of other false narratives, this may be a suggestion that vaccines spread or worsen COVID-19 infections. @montaga is the Twitter account of Antoine Tucker, a former candidate for U.S House of Representatives in New York’s 14th Congressional District. This district includes large portions of the New York City boroughs of the Bronx and Queens.

Article Claims that mRNA Vaccines Do Not Reduce All-Cause Mortality

Source and Description of Threat	On 27 April 2022, digital news outlet Just the News published an article claiming that foreign research had discovered that the Pfizer and Moderna mRNA vaccines do not reduce all-cause mortality. The research in question is a Danish study currently hosted as a preprint by The Lancet. This study concluded that the Pfizer and Moderna vaccines are effective at protecting against severe cases of COVID-19, but do not reduce all-cause mortality, while adenovirus-vector vaccines such as the Johnson & Johnson vaccines substantially reduce all-cause mortality. The article does not appear to promote explicitly false claims; however, the article's framing ignores the effectiveness of mRNA vaccines against severe illness and appears to portray the not yet peer-reviewed article as representative of a broader consensus. As a result, this article may be interpreted as presenting a case that mRNA vaccines are overall ineffective. Just the News is operated by John Solomon, a journalist who has been known to advance conspiracy theories.

Canadian Cardiology Technologist Claims “New Nuremberg Trials” Coming Due to Vaccine Injuries Among Children

Source and Description of Threat	On 29 January 2022, the website “No More Silence” (nomoresilence[.]world) posted a video of a man claiming to be a cardiology technologist who works in a Canadian pediatric ward. In the video, the man says he was inspired to speak out by the recent trucker protest against Canadian vaccine mandates. He claims that masks don’t work, that he has seen a surge in myocarditis cases among children, and that the COVID-19 vaccines are dangerous. He says that it is his duty to speak out due to serving Canada in the military and healthcare, and warns that there will be a, “New, possibly Nuremberg-type trial for the evils that have been done.” GroupSense was not able to identify the man in the video. Video Blogger Claims NYPD “Bullied” an Unvaccinated 5-Year-Old and that Pfizer is Using Children to Shield Itself from Liability

Source and Description of Threat	On 2 January 2022, the video blogger “Resisting The Rest” AKA @PressResetEarth, published a video to his BitChute channel titled “Cops Bully Unvaxxed 5 Year Old in NYC Pfizer Using Children to Shield From Vaccine Liability” (Figure 1). The video consists of a compilation of vaccine-related news, and a cell phone video of NYPD officers at a restaurant requiring a child to leave the premises, seemingly because the child does not have proof of vaccination. The video clip first emerged on or shortly before 24 December 2021, and was widely circulated on social media as an example of the NYPD “traumatizing” unvaccinated children. @PressResetEarth says the NYPD is “forcing a five-year old to leave a restaurant because they can’t show their papers...their proper medical history...this is so evil.” @PressResetEarth also cites a 29 December 2021 article published to Substack by former Breitbart News author Jordan Schachtel; the article is titled “Shell Game? There remains no FDA approved COVID vaccine in the United States – Pfizer is using children as legal human shields to get full authorization?” @PressResetEarth describes himself on his Twitter account as a “proud conspiracy theorist” and frequently promotes false and misleading vaccine information.
Reach	@PressResetEarth’s 2 January 2022 BitChute video received 255 views; the account has 2,766 subscribers. Clips of the NYPD at the restaurant have received hundreds of thousands of views. One video posted by Instagram user @lexitmovement on 24 December referred to the NYPD as “Gestapo” for “kicking women and children out for no vaccine”; the video received 201,745 views.

Podcaster Suggests COVID-19 Vaccines Increase Cancer Risk

Source and Description of Threat	On 2 January 2022, Dan Astin-Gregory tweeted, “Could covid vaccines be increasing cancer risks in susceptible patients” with a link to a case study published in the journal Frontiers in Medicine on 25 November 2021 (Figure 3). In a reply to the tweet, Astin-Gregory suggested that this may be connected to Pfizer’s recent acquisition of companies specializing in the treatment of blood cancer and autoimmune diseases. The article discusses the case of a man who experienced unexpected rapid lymphomatous lesions after receiving a Pfizer - BioNTech COVID-19 booster shot. The authors of the article discuss at length the possibility that the lymphoma progression may have been induced by the patient’s receipt of an mRNA vaccine and suggest further study; however, they explicitly state that it is premature to apply the findings from this case to other cases and that the patient may receive other, non-mRNA COVID-19 vaccines. Dan Astin-Gregory is a British business strategist, podcaster and founder of Elevate MEDIA (listed as Unstoppable Media on some websites). He hosts The Pandemic Podcast, which claims to tell the “untold story of the pandemic.” On his Twitter account, Mr. Astin-Gregory regularly promotes misinformation regarding the pandemic and the safety of COVID-19 vaccines.

Swedish Study on mRNA Vaccines Gaining Traction Among Anti-Vaxxers, Particularly on Telegram

Source and Description of Threat	In our report of 28 February 2022, GroupSense notified VCC that a Substack writer was using a recent study on mRNA vaccines by University of Lund researchers to promote the narrative that mRNA vaccines cause harmful changes to human DNA. Since that report, GroupSense has observed an increasing spread of this narrative among anti-vax channels and influencers. A major point of spread is the Telegram channel Jerm Warfare Battleground, where a 1 March 2022 post promoting the narrative has been seen over 60,000 times. It is also being promoted in other Telegram channels, on Twitter, and by known vaccine misinformation outlets and influencers such as the Epoch Times and Dr. Robert Malone.
Reach	The post promoting this narrative in Jerm Warfare Battleground received 61.8k views. The channel has 19,996 subscribers; the discrepancy suggests that the post has been viewed significantly beyond the channel, either by non-member visitors to the channel or by shares in other channels. Anti-Vaccine Page in Tagalog Promotes Graphene Oxide Study

Source and Description of Threat	On 2 March 2022, Facebook page Isang Malaya (“An Independent”) posted “A study on CV vaccines under a microscope. This is no longer a ‘Conspiracy Theory’...” As source material, the post linked to a January 2022 study by an Argentinian doctor and two biotechnologists: Martín Monteverde, Anabela Femia, and Lisandro Lafferreire. In the study, the researchers claim that COVID-19 did not originate in nature and that research into it and the vaccines for it is being censored. As a result, they claim to have conducted their own study of COVID-19 vaccines, which supposedly found graphene oxide in the Pfizer, Moderna, Johnson & Johnson, and AstraZeneca vaccines. The page Isang Malaya was created on 27 June 2020 and is managed in the Philippines. It frequently posts anti-vaccine and anti-mask content on Facebook and TikTok, and maintains a presence on Instagram and Telegram as well. It posts in Tagalog and English. Martín Monteverde is an Argentinian doctor who has promoted narratives claiming that COVID-19 vaccines contain graphene oxide since as early as June 2021. He has also promoted narratives claiming that PCR tests are fraudulent and that graphene oxide in flu vaccines created the first wave of COVID-19.

Conspiracy Website Uses Pfizer Document to Claim Vaccines are Dangerous and Company Knew

Source and Description of Threat	On 2 March 2022, news site Big League Politics published an article claiming that a leaked Pfizer document revealed that the company's COVID-19 vaccine produced a wide range of adverse effects in clinical trials that the company then tried to hide. The article gives particular attention to 1p36 deletion syndrome, a condition that can cause intellectual disability. It then listed the eight pages of side effects. However, such effects were not observed in the clinical trials; rather, they were listed in the document as conditions that Pfizer intends to monitor for as its vaccines are rolled out. Big League Politics is a media website that was founded in 2017 by former employees of Breitbart News. British Cardiologist Calls for Suspension of COVID-19 Vaccines

Source and Description of Threat	In two articles published in Journal of Insulin Resistance on 26 September 2022, British cardiologist Dr. Aseem Malhotra claimed that a review of studies on COVID-19 vaccines shows reduction in all-cause mortality from the vaccines is outweighed by deaths likely caused by vaccine adverse effects. As a result, Dr. Malhotra claims most COVID-19 interventions are a mistake and calls for vaccination against the virus to be suspended. His article and claims have taken off across anti-vaccine social media, websites, and television, with multiple outlets reporting on his article and featuring interviews with him. Dr. Aseem Malhotra has faced criticism for promoting misinformation during the pandemic due to his claims that his 21-day dieting plan can dramatically reduce an individual's vulnerability to COVID-19. Curing the pandemic of misinformation on COVID-19 mRNA vaccines through real evidence-based medicine - Part 1

Abstract

Background: In response to severe acute respiratory syndrome coronavirus 2 (SARS-CoV-2), several new pharmaceutical agents have been administered to billions of people worldwide, including the young and healthy at little risk from the virus. Considerable leeway has been afforded in terms of the pre-clinical and clinical testing of these agents, despite an entirely novel mechanism of action and concerning biodistribution characteristics.

Aim: To gain a better understanding of the true benefits and potential harms of the messenger ribonucleic acid (mRNA) coronavirus disease (COVID) vaccines.

Methods: A narrative review of the evidence from randomised trials and real world data of the COVID mRNA products with special emphasis on BionTech/Pfizer vaccine.

Results: In the non-elderly population the “number needed to treat” to prevent a single death runs into the thousands. Re-analysis of randomised controlled trials using the messenger ribonucleic acid (mRNA) technology suggests a greater risk of serious adverse events from the vaccines than being hospitalised from COVID-19. Pharmacovigilance systems and real-world safety data, coupled with plausible mechanisms of harm, are deeply concerning, especially in relation to cardiovascular safety. Mirroring a potential signal from the Pfizer Phase 3 trial, a significant rise in cardiac arrest calls to ambulances in England was seen in 2021, with similar data emerging from Israel in the 16–39-year-old age group.

Conclusion: It cannot be said that the consent to receive these agents was fully informed, as is required ethically and legally. A pause and reappraisal of global vaccination policies for COVID-19 is long overdue.

Contribution: This article highlights the importance of addressing metabolic health to reduce chronic disease and that insulin resistance is also a major risk factor for poor outcomes from COVID-19.

Video of Orthodox Monk Claiming Vaccines Alter DNA Goes Viral on VK

Source and Description of Threat	On 30 September 2022 the Russian-language VK group Вы - Свет Мира (Translation: You are the light of the world) shared a video of Archimandrite Elpidius of the Orthodox Christian monastery at Mount Athos, Greece in which the monk discusses COVID-19 vaccines. In the video, Archimandrite Elpidius claims that COVID-19 vaccines are tools of the devil that are being used to alter recipients' DNA. He claims that the use of two-sequence vaccines and booster shots is deliberate: he says that the first two shots allow a person to be tracked, and that subsequent boosters will alter a recipient's DNA in order to make them amenable to orders from the Devil.

Семь вакцин от COVID-19 превратят человеческую ДНК в бесовскую

Архимандрит Элпидий Афонский: "...Дьявол, чтобы победить семь даров благодати Святого Духа человеку, вмешается семь раз своим способом (через вакцинацию), чтобы изменить нашу ДНК. Он вмешается в Богом созданную ДНК и превратит ее в бесовскую ДНК. Первые две вакцины имели цель - отслеживание человека. Последующие три, которые сейчас нас ждут, имеют цель - координировать ДНК. Шестая и седьмая - это синхронизация приказов дьявола. Две последние будут вишенкой на торте, заключительным этапом. С этими двумя последними вакцинами люди станут чем-то (средним) между человеком и машиной... Самыми опасными будут те три вакцины, которые сейчас последуют. Хотим или не хотим, они постараются ввести их нам. Это наша борьба, наш выбор. Их целью является, чтобы все мы получили номер, по нему мы и отслеживаемся".

Claims Vaccine Harms Female Fertility Resurface Following New Study

Source and Description of Threat	On 27 September 2022 The BMJ published a study by a team of American doctors investigating the effect of COVID-19 vaccines upon menstruation. The study found that participants experienced a menstrual cycle that was on average one day longer after vaccination, but that cycles returned to normal length after a month. This study has circulated swiftly through anti-vaccine networks on the internet, who have used it as proof that COVID-19 vaccines are harmful to female fertility and the broader reproductive system. These claims are often being paired with findings that male sperm counts drop temporarily after vaccination in attempts to prove that the vaccines damage human reproduction and can at worst be used for population control.

Narrative Claiming Vaccines Contain Harmful Lipid Reemerges on Telegram

Source and Description of Threat	On 3 April 2022, Telegram channel Agenda 21 Channel posted a video of a person searching for ingredients in the Moderna COVID-19 vaccine on Google's United Kingdom site. The video shows an ingredients list, and then highlights and searches for a component of the vaccine called SM-102. The individual recording the video then pulls up a safety fact sheet listing supposedly harmful side effects caused by SM-102, including cancer and toxicity. In reality, SM-102 is a harmless lipid, and the safety fact sheet is for a product containing SM-102 and chloroform. Agenda 21 Channel promotes a variety of conspiracy narratives, including anti-vaccine and New World Order narratives.

Economic Forecaster Claims that COVID-19 Vaccines Cause Hearing Loss

Source and Description of Threat	On 4 April 2022, economic forecaster Martin Armstrong posted an article to his blog Armstrong Economics claiming that the World Health Organization has said COVID-19 vaccines cause hearing loss. The WHO report he cites does indeed discuss rare instances of hearing loss and tinnitus following vaccination and advocates for more research. However, Martin Armstrong overstates this discussion and claims that the cases are further proof that the vaccines are dangerous and need to be pulled from the market. He also repeats narratives claiming that the vaccines widely cause a variety of health conditions and even death. Martin Armstrong is an American economic forecaster known for his Economic Confidence Model. WHO: COVID Vaccine Can Cause Hearing Loss

Blog/Tyranny | Posted Apr 4, 2022 by Martin Armstrong

Spread the love

The skeptics were concerned about the long-term effects of the mRNA vaccines. "Safe and effective" was the slogan promoted to the masses as the major pharmaceutical companies refused to reveal their initial studies. We know that the vaccine can cause heart inflammation (myocarditis), menstrual changes, anaphylaxis, thrombosis, Guillain-Barré Syndrome, and even death.

The World Health Organization (WHO) is reporting on a new side effect: hearing loss. The WHO has recorded 367 cases of tinnitus and 164 cases of hearing loss. The Pfizer/BioNTech vaccine specifically was responsible for around 80% of reported cases, according to the WHO. Hearing loss is

Independent Researcher Implies COVID-19 Vaccines Are Causing Tissue Destruction

Source and Description of Threat	On 3 April 2022, a Twitter user named Walter M. Chesnut posted a twelve-tweet thread in which he claimed to discover that exposure to Sars-CoV-2 spike proteins causes cancerous tissue destruction that spreads similarly to Alzheimer's. At the end of the thread, he claims that his findings mean that all spike protein therapies (which would include mRNA COVID-19 vaccines) must be immediately halted, as they are supposedly causing horrible tissue destruction. Walter M. Chesnut describes himself as an independent medical researcher and writes regular posts on Substack. Recently Observed Mis/Disinformation Potentially Impacting NYC Vaccination Efforts

 GroupSense continues to track multiple disinformation narratives surrounding the vaccine and its distribution. We include below a sample of the most prominent recent narratives and highlight information specific to New York City where applicable.

Source and Description of Threat	On 02 August 2022, the digital news outlet The Epoch Times published an article featuring Dr. Robert Malone, a physician and biochemist who has worked on mRNA technology. He describes himself as “the original ‘inventor’ of mRNA and DNA vaccines.” The article was also posted on the Epoch Times’ Spanish language site. In the interview, Dr. Malone claims that people who have received several COVID-19 vaccines and vaccine boosters are dying due to “immune imprinting.” This process occurs when initial exposure to a virus strain prevents the body from producing enough antibodies against newer strains. He claims that current COVID-19 vaccines are based on the spike protein of the original virus strain; that strain no longer exists and thus, vaccinated people will not produce antibodies against newer strains. The article also claims that developing nations with low vaccination rates have lower rates of COVID-19 related deaths, as evidence of the vaccines’ ineffectiveness and high rates of death. Dr. Robert Malone has a history of promoting unfounded claims surrounding COVID-19, including promoting hydroxychloroquine as a treatment to the disease. The Epoch Times frequently promotes misleading narratives around COVID-19 vaccines in its reporting.

#PfizerDocuments Trending on Twitter with New Focus to Claims

Source and Description of Threat	In the week of 2 May 2022, Pfizer released 80k pages of internal documents pertaining to its COVID-19 vaccine in response to a court order. By the morning of 5 May 2022, #PfizerDocuments was trending on Twitter with 56.7k tweets using the hashtag. While many of these tweets continue to focus on side effects and adverse events, there appears to be a strong surge in attention given to the supposed effects of the vaccine on pregnant people. Numerous tweets have been observed arguing that the vaccine caused spontaneous abortions during trials, caused other pregnancy complications, and was not recommended for pregnant women by researchers. Multiple users were observed tying this matter to broader abortion debates in the United States with claims that the leak of a draft Supreme Court opinion overturning Roe v. Wade was coordinated to cover up supposed bombshell revelations regarding Pfizer.
Reach	At time of observation, the trending topic #PfizerDocuments had 56.7k tweets using the hashtag.

NYC Specifics	GroupSense observed several New York City-based accounts tweeting about this topic; none of the observed tweets had gained traction.
New or evolving narrative?	Evolving narrative: this week has seen a shift away from focusing on side effects in narratives surrounding the released Pfizer documents and toward effects on pregnancies.
Response	GroupSense will continue monitoring for the spread and evolution of this narrative.

Congenital anomalies ^{j,k}	3	16/724 (2.2)
Neonatal death ^{l,m}	<1	0/724

^a The populations from which these rates are derived are not matched to the current study population for age, race and ethnic group, or other demographic and clinical factors.

^b Data on pregnancy loss are based on 827 participants in the v-safe pregnancy registry who received an mRNA COVID-19 vaccine (BNT162b2 [Pfizer–BioNTech] or mRNA-1273 [Moderna]) from December 14, 2020, to February 28, 2021, and who had a completed pregnancy. A total of 700 participants (84.6%) received their first eligible dose in the third trimester. Data on neonatal outcomes are based on 724 live-born infants, including 12 sets of multiples.

^c A total of 104 spontaneous abortions (92.3%) occurred before 13 weeks of gestation. No denominator was available to calculate an estimate for spontaneous abortions, because at the time of this report, follow-up through 20 weeks was not available for 965 of the 1224 participants vaccinated within 30 days before the first day of the last menstrual period or in the first trimester. Furthermore, any risk estimate would need to account for gestational week-specific risk of spontaneous abortion.

^d The denominator includes live-born infants and stillbirths.

^e The denominator includes only participants vaccinated before 17 weeks of gestation.

^f Small size for gestational age indicates a birthweight below the 10th percentile for gestational age and infant sex according to INTERGROWTH-21st growth standards (<http://intergrowth21.ridg.ac.uk>). These standards draw from an international sample including both low-income and high-income countries but exclude children with coexisting conditions and malnutrition. They can be used as a standard for healthy children growing under optimal conditions.

^g Values include only major congenital anomalies in accordance with the Metropolitan Atlanta Congenital Defects Program 4-Digit Code Defect List (www.cdc.gov/nceh/bdd/birthdefects/mcdp.htm); all pregnancies with major congenital anomalies were exposed to COVID-19 vaccines only in the third trimester of pregnancy (i.e., well after the period of organogenesis).

^h Neonatal death indicates death within the first 28 days after delivery.

Popular Telegram Channels Use Misrepresented Graphs to Push False Claims About Vaccines

Source and Description of Threat	On 4 May 2022, the Telegram channel Covid Truth Network shared a time-lapse video of graphs comparing COVID-19 deaths and vaccine rates between Canada and Afghanistan (which have similarly-sized populations.) The video shows Canada having a consistently increasing number of deaths as well as a rising number of vaccine doses, while Afghanistan's vaccine deaths and vaccine uptake are both low (but the number of deaths spikes as the number of vaccine doses spikes). This data is likely legitimate, as it is watermarked from the trusted source ourworldindata[.]org. Based on other posts in the channel, this data is likely to be shared in an attempt to prove that vaccines cause death or spread the virus by showing high numbers of COVID-19 deaths in a country with high vaccination rates having increasing deaths and a country with low deaths seeing a surge once vaccines were introduced. However, this comparison ignores the significant gap between Canada and Afghanistan in monitoring COVID-19 cases, and also ignores that Afghanistan did not begin receiving significant shipments of vaccines until around the time of the delta variant surge.

Michael Yeadon Claims that a Vaccine Cannot be Safely Developed During a Pandemic

Source and Description of Threat	In a video clip posted on Red Voice Media on 4 May 2022, former Pfizer scientist and anti-vaccine influence Michael Yeadon claimed that vaccination has been a completely wrong response to the COVID-19 pandemic. In the interview with Jane Ruby, he claims that every measure taken by governments to respond has been wrong, with vaccines foremost among them. He claims that developing and releasing a vaccine for a disease during its pandemic stage has never been done, and that any effort to safely develop a vaccine will last longer than any pandemic.

NYC Vaccine Command Center

Recently Observed Mis/Disinformation Potentially Impacting NYC Vaccination Efforts

GroupSense continues to track multiple disinformation narratives surrounding the vaccine and its distribution. We include below a sample of the most prominent recent narratives and highlight information specific to New York City where applicable.

Dutch Facebook Group “Vax Verzet” Promotes Vaccine Disinformation

Source and Description of Threat	GroupSense recently observed a highly active Dutch-language public Facebook group named Vax Verzet (English: “Vax Resistance”) that is being used to disseminate vaccine disinformation. The group has 3.7k members and is used by its members to post anti-vaccine memes and messaging promoting false and misleading narratives. For example, on 5 January 2022, Facebook user Maayan Coppens posted to the group: “Just heard on the news via cds that there is a death toll of 1000 people per week in the Netherlands! According to them it is not ruled out that it is due to C O V I D 19 shots. It is being investigated now.” (Figure 1). The primary administrator of Vax Verzet is user Paul Vdk, who self-reports as residing in the Netherlands.

Recently Observed Mis/Disinformation Potentially Impacting NYC Vaccination Efforts

 GroupSense continues to track multiple disinformation narratives surrounding the vaccine and its distribution. We include below a sample of the most prominent recent narratives and highlight information specific to New York City where applicable.

Widely-Shared Article by Naomi Wolf Calls Vaccines “Genocide”

Source and Description of Threat	On 29 May 2022, anti-vaccine activist and DailyClout CEO Naomi Wolf published a Substack article alleging that the Pfizer COVID-19 vaccines are causing mass death and injury on a level tantamount to genocide. She claims that a team of 3,000 researchers working with DailyClout and Steve Bannon’s War Room podcast have found that thousands of people throughout Pfizer’s vaccine trials experienced severe harms such as neurological injury, miscarriage, cardiovascular injury, and death. GroupSense has previously reported on various claims put forward by this project; however, Naomi Wolf’s recent article appears to comprise a significant summary of the narratives this project is promoting. This article also appears to be gaining significantly more traction than prior reports from this project.

Dear Friends, Sorry to Announce a Genocide

It's Really True: They Know they are Killing the Babies

1,501 972

I've been silent for some weeks. Forgive me.

The truth is: I've been rendered almost speechless — or the literary equivalent of that — because recently I've had the unenviable task of trying to announce to the world that indeed, a genocide — or what I've called, clumsily but urgently, a “baby die-off” — is underway.

The WarRoom/DailyClout Pfizer Documents Research Volunteers, a group of 3000 highly credentialed doctors, RNs, biostatisticians, medical fraud investigators, lab clinicians and research scientists, have been turning out report after report, as you may know, to tell the world what is in the 55,000 internal Pfizer documents which the FDA had asked a court to keep under wraps for 75 years. By court order, these documents were forcibly disclosed. And our experts are serving humanity by reading through these documents and explaining them in lay terms. You can find all of the Volunteers' reports on DailyClout.io

The Gateway Pundit Article Alleges that Vaccines Cause Incurable Brain Disease

Source and Description of Threat	On 5 June 2022, conspiracy news outlet The Gateway Pundit published an article claiming that two studies had been released that prove that COVID-19 vaccines cause Creutzfeld-Jakob disease, a severe neurodegenerative disease with no known cure. The cited studies are an exploratory case study and a preprint by several French researchers who are opposed to COVID-19 vaccines. In addition to The Gateway Pundit, this narrative has been promoted by The Epoch Times.

Podcast Host Claims Australian Hospitalization Statistics are Proof Vaccines Don't Work

Source and Description of Threat	On 3 June 2022, podcast host Daniel Horowitz published an article in which he claims the most recent COVID-19 hospitalization statistics from the Australian state of New South Wales are further proof that COVID-19 vaccines are ineffective. The data, provided by the public health agency of New South Wales in the week ending 28 May 2022, showed 474 hospitalizations of individuals with COVID-19 that week. Of that number, 352 people had received at least one dose of a COVID-19 vaccine, and only one person was confirmed completely unvaccinated. David Horowitz cites this as proof that the vaccines do not work; however, his claim does not account for 121 individuals with unknown vaccination status, a vaccination rate of 95% among New South Wales residents aged 16 and older, and the fact that the report explicitly states that it documents individuals hospitalized while infected with COVID-19 but not necessarily those hospitalized specifically for the illness. Daniel Horowitz hosts the podcast Conservative Review and is a senior editor at The Blaze. He regularly promotes anti-vaccine content and narratives.

Recently Observed Mis/Disinformation Potentially Impacting NYC Vaccination Efforts

 GroupSense continues to track multiple disinformation narratives surrounding the vaccine and its distribution. We include below a sample of the most prominent recent narratives and highlight information specific to New York City where applicable.

Anti-Vaxxers Suggest FDA Autopsy Reports Show Vaccine Deaths

Source and Description of Threat	In the past week, GroupSense has observed a narrative emerging suggesting that the FDA will not release autopsy reports submitted to VAERS due to the reports showing that people are dying due to COVID-19 vaccines. This narrative appears to have emerged after 29 September 2022, when The Epoch Times published an article claiming that the FDA had withheld VAERS autopsy reports when the media organization requested the reports. Since then, other outlets and social media users have claimed that the FDA is withholding the reports because the reports show mass deaths caused by COVID-19 vaccines.

Study in Anti-Vaccine Journal Claims COVID-19 Vaccine Alters Blood Cells

Source and Description of Threat	On 12 August 2022, an article was published in International Journal of Vaccine Theory, Practice, and Research by three Italian medical researchers. In the article, the researchers claimed to have conducted dark-field microscopic analysis on 1,006 symptomatic individuals who had received mRNA COVID-19 vaccines since March 2021. According to the researchers, 94% of the participants had aggregating red blood cells and unknown particles of varying shapes and sizes present in their blood. The researchers conclude that this aggregation indicates that the vaccines are causing blood clotting, and further suggest that the unknown particles may be graphene. International Journal of Vaccine Theory, Practice, and Research was first published in July 2020. ABSTRACT

The use of dark-field microscopic analysis of fresh peripheral blood on a slide was once widespread in medicine, allowing a first and immediate assessment of the state of health of the corpuscular components of the blood. In the present study we analyzed with a dark-field optical microscope the peripheral blood drop from 1,006 symptomatic 948 cases that showed the same sorts of abnormalities). The 4 cases summarized and illustrated here are, according to our understanding and in our opinion as clinical experts, absolutely representative of all 948 cases with peripheral blood alterations.

Lawyer Claims that mRNA Vaccines Change Human DNA and Make Recipients Property

Source and Description of Threat	In a 28 September 2022 episode of Dr. Jane Ruby Show , lawyer Todd Callendar claimed that mRNA COVID-19 vaccines alter human DNA. He claims that they are a form of gene modification that was forced on people without informed consent and that the terms of the patents give the pharmaceutical companies ownership of the gene-altered recipient. He further claims that people who have received COVID-19 vaccines are a new species of human called “homo borg genesis” with unclear legal rights. Tom Callendar and Jane Ruby connect this to other narratives of vaccine-induced mind control, metallic growths in vaccinated people’s blood streams, and martial law.

Recently Observed Mis/Disinformation Potentially Impacting NYC Vaccination Efforts

GroupSense continues to track multiple disinformation narratives surrounding the vaccine and its distribution. We include below a sample of the most prominent recent narratives and highlight information specific to New York City where applicable.

Growing Narrative that COVID-19 Vaccines Cause Aphasia after Bruce Willis Announcement

Source and Description of Threat	In the past week, a narrative has surged claiming that COVID-19 vaccines cause the neurological condition aphasia. Such claims appear to have been spurred by the announcement that actor Bruce Willis is retiring due to a diagnosis with the condition. Many anti-vaccine activists immediately responded to this news with suggestions that the actor's condition may have been induced by COVID-19 vaccines. GroupSense observed many social media users sharing a December 2021 case study on a man who developed aphasia after receiving his second dose of an mRNA vaccine; the authors note that his condition went away within several days. Among the most prominent voices to promote this narrative is Steve Kirsch, executive director of the Vaccine Safety Research Foundation. In a Substack article published on 30 March 2022, he claimed that Bruce Willis's condition needs to be investigated for possible vaccine connections and that vaccines have caused aphasia rates to rise.

Epoch Times Article Used to Suggest that Vaccines Spread Virus

Source and Description of Threat	On 4 April 2022, The Epoch Times published an article claiming that even after adjusting for population, CDC data shows that the most highly-vaccinated U.S counties have higher rates of COVID-19 cases than the least-vaccinated counties. Although the article does note that this may be due to other factors, such as lack of testing in less-vaccinated counties, anti-vaccine activists and social media users have used the article as evidence that the vaccines do not work, or even spread the virus. Among the most prominent examples is an article from The Gateway Pundit published 6 April 2022.

Counties With Highest Vaccination Rates See More COVID-19 Cases Than Least Vaccinated

By Petr Svab | April 4, 2022 Updated: April 5, 2022A   Print

U.S. counties with the highest rates of vaccination against COVID-19 are currently experiencing more cases than those with the lowest vaccination rates, according to data collected by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC).

The 500 counties where 62 to 95 percent of the population has been vaccinated detected more than 75 cases per 100,000 residents on average in the past week. Meanwhile, the 500 counties where 11 to 40 percent of the population has been vaccinated averaged about 58 cases per 100,000 residents.

The data is skewed by the fact that the CDC suppresses figures for counties with very low numbers of detected cases (one to nine) for privacy purposes. The Epoch Times calculated the average case rates by assuming the counties with

GroupSense continues to track multiple disinformation narratives surrounding the vaccine and its distribution. We include below a sample of the most prominent recent narratives and highlight information specific to New York City where applicable.

Medical Researcher Claims Vaccines Creating “Zombie Pandemic” on Chilean Radio

Source and Description of Threat	On 1 February 2022, the Chilean internet talk show El Mirador del Gallo streamed an interview with Dr. Astrid Stuckelberger. In the interview, Dr. Stuckelberger repeats a variety of false claims about COVID-19 vaccines. In a section of the interview that has spread, she claims that the vaccines contain graphene oxide that produces Wi-Fi and Bluetooth signals and interacts with the body’s bioelectricity. These signals can supposedly be used to identify an individual like a digital barcode and can also be used to take control of the body’s movements. Dr. Stuckelberger claims that this can be used to reanimate the dead and create a “zombie pandemic.” El Mirador del Gallo is an internet talk show based in Población San Eugenio, Santiago, Chile. They primarily post to Twitch and YouTube. They have streamed interviews with anti-vaccine activists previously. Dr. Astrid Stuckelberger is a former lecturer and researcher at the University of Geneva, Switzerland. She has worked at the World Health Organization in several different capacities. Since at least mid-2021, Dr. Stuckelberger has promoted a variety of false narratives surrounding COVID-19 vaccines, including that they are dangerous and are part of a depopulation plot.

Conspiracy News Site Claims Pfizer Documents Prove that COVID-19 Vaccine Causes Vaccine-Associated Enhanced Disease

Source and Description of Threat	On 3 February 2022, British conspiracy site news site The Exposé (dailyexpose[.]uk) published an article claiming that confidential Pfizer documents reveal that the company knew about the possibility that its COVID-19 vaccines could cause Vaccine-Associated Enhanced Injury (VAED). The document in question is titled “Cumulative Analysis of Post-Authorization Adverse Event Reports of PF-07302048 (BNT162B2) Received Through 28-Feb-2021.” The Pfizer report notes that no such cases were identified during development, though several hundred adverse reactions after rollout were being monitored for VAED. The article from The Exposé takes this information out of context and uses partially-cut quotes and screenshots to advance claims that the Pfizer vaccine is dangerous and that Pfizer sought to bury the risk. The Exposé (formerly The Daily Exposé) is a conspiracy theory website that has regularly promoted anti-vaccine and COVID-denial information since November 2020. Growing Number of Tweets Suggesting Link Between COVID-19 Vaccines and HIV

Source and Description of Threat	Beginning 3 February 2022, news outlets began reporting on new research discovering that a particularly virulent strain of HIV had been circulating in the Netherlands over the past several decades. Several days later, it was reported that for the first time in decades, HIV diagnoses among heterosexuals outpaced those among gay men in the United Kingdom. In response to this news, GroupSense has observed numerous tweets suggesting that these discoveries are in some way connected to COVID-19 vaccines. Popular theories include that the vaccines spread HIV directly, that the vaccines cause vaccine-induced autoimmune deficiency syndrome (VAIDS) that makes people more vulnerable to HIV, and that the sudden interest in HIV is a fearmongering tactic to encourage further vaccination.
Reach	GroupSense observed hundreds of tweets promoting narratives connecting HIV and COVID vaccines that were created in the past four days. Polish Twitter User Claims mRNA from Vaccines Spreads Toxins in Body

Source and Description of Threat	On 3 July 2022, Polish-speaking Twitter user @PiotrWitczak_ posted two tweets discussing a recent study by Romanian researchers published in International Journal of Molecular Sciences. The study found that synthetic mRNA from the Pfizer-BioNTech vaccine persisted in the bloodstream of a group of healthy individuals for at least two weeks post-vaccination. The study affirms the safety and effectiveness of COVID-19 vaccines. However, @PiotrWitczak_ does not mention those claims and instead focuses on the persistence of the synthetic mRNA. @PiotrWitczak_ instead focuses on the persistence of the mRNA. He claims that if the mRNA is circulating through the body for weeks, it is passing through bodily tissues and triggering a buildup of toxic spike proteins that will harm the body. He then addresses vaccinated individuals, telling them that health authorities have lied to them and to stop listening to them. @PitorWitczak_ identifies as Piotr Witczak, and claims in his Twitter bio to have a Ph.D in medical biology and immunology. He claims to be a former analyst at Poland’s Agency for Health Technology Assessment and Tariff System and self-reports as living in Warsaw, Poland. Skeptics' Website Claims that Twice as Many U.S Households Have Lost Members to Vaccines as to COVID

Source and Description of Threat	On 7 July 2022, news site The Daily Skeptic published an article on a poll of 1,500 Americans commissioned by anti-vaccine activist Steve Kirsch. The article reports that the poll found that 3.6% of respondents said that somebody in their household had died of COVID-19 while 7.9% said that somebody in their household had died from vaccination. Additionally, it reports that 8.5% of respondents said they had been injured by their vaccines. The article claims that the poll employed a random sample and thus was not biased toward any specific demographic, but acknowledges that there could be self-selection bias in responses. The Daily Skeptic originated as a site for sharing anti-lockdown articles and studies in early 2020, and has since also begun platforming anti-vaccine studies and news.

Journalist Claims that COVID-19 Vaccines are Causing Immune Suppression and SADS

Source and Description of Threat	In a video posted to Facebook on 3 August 2022, journalist Ben Swann amplifies a variety of false claims regarding COVID-19. He claims that the vaccines cause severe immunosuppression, citing a paper published by prominent anti-vaccine advocates Stephanie Seneff and Peter McCullough that has received significant criticism in the scientific community. He further echoes claims from the study that the vaccines contribute to DNA damage, Bell's palsy, neurodegenerative disease, and other conditions. Later in the video, Ben Swann echoes narratives claiming that vaccines are causing Sudden Arrhythmic Death Syndrome (SADS), and cites cardiac arrests among athletes. Ben Swann is a former television news anchor at various United States local stations, as well as a former journalist at the Russian state media outlet RT. Throughout the video, the two men echo common narratives claiming that the vaccines cause cardiac and genetic harm to children. They further describe the vaccines as “child sacrifice,” language that appeals to many vaccine-skeptical religious communities. Nguyetthao added a Vietnamese translation and subtitles to the video, as well as summarizing its claims in Vietnamese in an accompanying post. Nguyetthao appears to be a Vietnam-based lifestyle influencer active on SafeChat, Facebook, and Telegram who regularly posts content that spreads false narratives about COVID-19 vaccines. Retired Epidemiologist Claims Insurers Will Sue Vaccine Manufacturers Over Deaths

Source and Description of Threat	In an article published 3 August 2022, digital news outlet Just the News reported on an interview that Yale emeritus professor of epidemiology Dr. Harvey Risch gave on one of the outlet's television programs. In the interview, Dr. Risch suggests that life insurance providers will likely sue vaccine manufacturers in the near future over recent surges in death rates. Dr. Risch claims that mass death caused by COVID-19 vaccines has forced insurance companies to give greatly above-average life insurance payouts that threaten their bottom lines. As proof of his suggestion, Dr. Risch points to previous statements made by insurance executives regarding high rates of unexplained deaths, which many other anti-vaxxers have claimed is evidence of mass vaccine deaths.

Substack Writer Claims Vermont Death Data Shows Vaccines Worsened COVID

Source and Description of Threat	On 6 December 2022, Substack writer Ashmedai published an article analyzing deaths from COVID-19 in Vermont. Basing their analysis on Vermont death certificates and excess mortality numbers, Ashmedai claims that COVID-19 deaths in Vermont increased dramatically in 2021 and 2022. Noting the state's very high vaccination rate, Ashmedai suggests that COVID-19 vaccines severely increased the virulence of the disease, resulting in higher death rates. Ashmedai describes themselves as providing an alternative analysis on scientific and public health issues. Claims Spread that Chinese-Made Vaccine Causes Leukemia

Source and Description of Threat	In recent weeks, an increasing number of social media users in China have claimed that they and their family members were diagnosed with leukemia and type 1 diabetes after receiving the Sinovac vaccine. Recently, GroupSense has observed English-language media outlets reporting on this trend, including vaccine-skeptical The Epoch Times. So far, we have not observed this specific narrative be applied to vaccines used in the United States. However, it is highly likely that this will emerge in the near future given the flexibility of misinformation narratives and preexisting narratives attributing a host of conditions to vaccines. Additionally, as misinformation about COVID-19 vaccines has spread to vaccines broadly, possible misinformation about vaccines not used in the U.S will likely be used to undermine the credibility of those that are.

Anti-Vaxxers Claim Cases of Sudden Adult Death Syndrome Caused by Vaccines

Source and Description of Threat	Recently, doctors and public health officials in Australia have drawn attention to developing a registry and better tracking measures for Sudden Adult Death Syndrome after several high-profile cases among seemingly healthy young people. Discussion of this syndrome has been met with hostility by anti-vaxxers on social media. The emergent narrative primarily consists of claims that deaths attributed to SADS are actually caused by side effects of COVID-19 vaccines, particularly myocarditis and other cardiovascular complications. Lawyer Claims on Podcast that Vaccine Causes Marburg Virus, 5G Zombification

Source and Description of Threat	On 2 May 2022, Rumble account True World News posted a video featuring a discussion between podcaster Jeremy Prather and attorney Tom Callendar. In the video, which is a clip from the 22 April 2022 episode of Jeremy Prather's podcast The Prather Point, Tom Callendar claims that COVID-19 vaccines cause an infection of Marburg virus. According to this claim, the virus lies dormant until activated by a special 5G signal, which causes the virus to begin attacking. This is supposedly coupled with the deletion of genes to reduce independent thought and increase impulses to bite as part of a form of "zombification." Tom Callendar claims that this is the New World Order's plan, and that it has begun preparing the public to accept it through such actions as the CDC blog post "Preparedness 101: Zombie Apocalypse." Jeremy Prather is a retired soldier and law enforcement officer who regularly promotes conspiracy theories on his podcasts and livestreams. Todd Callendar is an international law attorney who has represented U.S military members in lawsuits against vaccine mandates.
Reach	This video as shared by True World News has received 8,229 views. It has been shared on Facebook, Twitter, Gab, Bitchute, and Gettr. The original 52-minute episode received 44,680 views on Brighteon and has been shared on Gettr and Gab. The Exposé* Claims That 90% of Pregnant Women Who Took Pfizer Vaccine Miscarried

Source and Description of Threat	On 9 May 2022, British conspiracy news site The Exposé published an article claiming that 82% to 97% (averaged as 90% in the headline) of pregnant women who took the Pfizer-BioNTech COVID-19 vaccine in the months following emergency authorization experienced miscarriages. The article makes this claim using data from recently-released Pfizer internal documents. Similar to other articles from this source, the article manipulates and misinterprets the statistics to support claims that the vaccine is dangerous.

Anti-Vaccine Twitter Uses Johnson & Johnson Restriction to Push False Narratives

Source and Description of Threat	On 5 May 2022, the FDA restricted the use of the Johnson & Johnson COVID-19 vaccine to those who request it or do not have access to other vaccines due to rare risk of blood clotting. This news has been met with a sense of vindication by many anti-vaccine users and activists on Twitter, who have taken it as proof that COVID-19 vaccines are categorically dangerous. In addition, the announcement has been used to attack efforts to push back against vaccine misinformation and promote broader anti-vaccine narratives.

She then posted a follow-up video continuing her thoughts. @marina_izyurova appears to live in Novokuznetsk, Russia, based on previous TikToks. Out-of-Context Clip from BBC Documentary Used to Support Claims that COVID-19 Vaccines Cause HIV

Source and Description of Threat	On 7 February 2022, Twitter user @SuperNipsy tweeted, “BBC admits they use HIV to make the covid vaccine.” Attached to the tweet was a 36-clip from an episode of the BBC documentary series Horizon. The episode, which aired in June 2021, is about the development of the mRNA COVID-19 vaccines. The clip features Dr. Keith Campbell, a vaccine researcher from the University of Queensland, discusses how his solution to ensuring an antibody response to the COVID spike protein was attaching a tiny fragment of HIV protein to the viral structure. Replies to @SuperNipsy’s tweet reveal that many of their followers take this clip as evidence that mRNA COVID-19 vaccines are dangerous. @SuperNipsy regularly posts and shares content claiming that the COVID-19 pandemic is fake and that vaccines against the virus are dangerous. Their account does not include a bio, and they appear to primarily post content related to the United States, Australia, and Canada.

Dr. Robert Malone Amplifies Narrative that Vaccines Have Caused Cancer in Military

Source and Description of Threat	On 3 February 2022, a clip from Steve Bannon’s War Room show featuring an interview with Dr. Robert Malone was posted to Rumble. In the clip, Dr. Malone cites unsourced data provided by Dr. Ryan Cole (a prominent anti-vaccine pathologist in Idaho) to claim that COVID-19 vaccines have enabled sharp increases in rates of cancer, ovarian dysfunction, and other severe health conditions. Dr. Malone singles out the effect of vaccines on the U.S military, claiming that it has wreaked mass harm among service members and other Department of Defense personnel. Dr. Robert Malone is a medical researcher and one of the most prominent voices opposing COVID-19 vaccines. He originally centered his opposition solely against vaccinating children while claiming he himself supported it for adults; however, in recent months he appears to be pivoting to claim that the vaccines are dangerous for all age demographics.

Fitness TikToker Claims that Washington State Will Discuss Involuntary Detainment of Unvaccinated Individuals

Source and Description of Threat	On 8 January 2022, TikTok user @geastey posted a video claiming that the Washington State Board of Health will begin discussion on 12 January 2022 of applying specific infectious disease codes in relation to COVID-19. The codes in question allow for the detainment and mandatory quarantine of individuals deemed a public health risk by public health officials. Due to the discretion that would be given to officials, @geastey claims that these codes will be used to persecute people who decline to be vaccinated against COVID-19. This narrative has promulgated throughout Washington, and the State Board of Health issued a public statement rebutting it. @geastey is Grant Eastey, an actor and a social media fitness influencer. New Zealand Doctor Claims that Vaccines are Used for Population Control

Source and Description of Threat	On 4 January 2022, Dr. Sam Bailey posted a video to her channel on the video sharing platform odysee[.]com claiming that numerous global organizations involved in vaccination efforts for COVID-19 (including the World Health Organization and the Gates Foundation) have historically sought to implement population control through the use of vaccines. Dr. Bailey is a New Zealand-based general practitioner who has regularly promoted conspiracy theories regarding viruses and vaccines since 2019. She and her husband Dr. Mark Bailey have repeatedly referred to the COVID-19 pandemic as “the covid fraud,” claiming that the virus does not occur in nature and is used as a pretext for global elites to seize control. A key component of her arguments is a rejection of the established germ theory model of disease transmission and a belief that viruses are a pretext for malicious exploitation of the public.

TikTok Video on Rumble Claims NYC COVID Cases Due to 5G Networks

Source and Description of Threat	On 10 January 2022, Rumble user nonvaxer420 posted a video by TikTok user @taurus.music claiming that COVID-19 is caused by radiation from 5G towers. The video has since been deleted from TikTok, and appears to have been originally created in April 2020 judging by the date on the COVID case tracker shown in the video. In the TikTok, @taurus.music alleges that there is a direct correlation between COVID-19 cases and 5G deployments. Study Claims that People Under 50 are More Likely to Die from Vaccine than from COVID-19

Source and Description of Threat	On 13 February 2022, Dr. Stephanie Seneff and Kathy Dopp released a paper online in which they claimed analysis on all available data from the U.S and UK on COVID-19 vaccines demonstrates that people under 50 who are vaccinated against COVID-19 are more likely to die than than all unvaccinated individuals from the same demographic. They then claim that COVID-19 vaccines are ineffective for all age groups under 80. In the first two weeks of March, this study began to spread as anti-vaccine media outlets discovered it and began reporting on the supposed findings. Dr. Stephanie Seneff is a lecturer in computer science at Massachusetts Institute of Technology. COVID-19 and All-Cause Mortality Data by Age Group Reveals Risk of COVID Vaccine-Induced Fatality is Equal to or Greater than the Risk of a COVID death for all Age Groups Under 80 Years Old as of 6 February 2022.

Kathy Dopp, MS Mathematics and Stephanie Seneff, PhD
13 February 2022.

Abstract

As of 6 February 2022, based on publicly available official UK and US data, all age groups under 50 years old are at greater risk of fatality after receiving a COVID-19 inoculation than an unvaccinated person is at risk of a COVID-19 death. All age groups under 80 years old have virtually no benefit from receiving a COVID-19 inoculation, and the younger ages incur significant risk. This analysis is conservative because it ignores the fact that inoculation-induced adverse events such as thrombosis, myocarditis, Bell's palsy, and other vaccine-induced injuries can lead to shortened life span. When one takes into consideration the fact that there is approximately a 90% decrease in risk of COVID-19 death if early treatment is provided to all symptomatic high-risk persons, one can only conclude that mandates of COVID-19 inoculations are ill-advised. Considering the emergence of antibody-resistant variants like Delta and Omicron, for most age groups COVID-19 vaccine inoculations result in higher death rates than COVID-19 does for the unvaccinated.

InfoWars Video Suggests Link Between mRNA Vaccines and U.S Biolabs in Ukraine

Source and Description of Threat	On 5 March 2022, InfoWars released a video by editor and producer Greg Reese claiming that the United States maintains illegal bioweapons in Ukraine, some of which are working on a pathogen specifically tailored to Russian DNA. The video also connects U.S biology labs in Ukraine to mRNA vaccines, claiming that the two are linked in destroying humans at the genetic level as part of the “Great Reset” planned by the global elite.

Greenwald Slays 'Fact Checkers' After Nuland's Ukraine Biolab Bombshell

More and more evidence suggests the U.S. and other western nations have been funding clandestine bioweapons labs in Ukraine, which represents a security threat not only to Russia, but to the world at large.

The screenshot shows a scientific article from MDPI. The title is "Intracellular Reverse Transcription of Pfizer BioNTech COVID-19 mRNA Vaccine BNT162b2 In Vitro in Human Liver Cell Line". The abstract discusses preclinical studies of the BNT162b2 mRNA vaccine, noting reversible hepatic effects in animals and the potential for reverse-transcription of the vaccine RNA into the genome of human cells. The study investigated the effect of BNT162b2 on the human liver cell line Huh7 in vitro, finding high levels of the vaccine in the cells and changes in gene expression of LINE-1, an endogenous reverse transcriptase. Immunohistochemistry showed increased nucleus distribution of LINE-1 in cells treated with BNT162b2. PCR on genomic DNA of Huh7 cells exposed to BNT162b2 amplified the DNA sequence unique to BNT162b2. The results indicate a fast up-take of BNT162b2 into human liver cell line Huh7, leading to changes in LINE-1 expression and distribution. It also shows that BNT162b2 mRNA is reverse transcribed intracellularly into DNA as fast as 6 h upon BNT162b2 exposure.

Polish Medical Researcher Claims Vaccines Injuring Masses of Hospital Workers

Source and Description of Threat	On 9 November 2022, self-reported Polish medical researcher Piotr Witczak tweeted (in Polish), "In 4 months, out of 4,700 Pfizer vaccinated workers in one Portuguese hospital, 3,668 reported complications of 528 BIG events (most in gr 40-59) "Noteworthy is the report of a case of miscarriage." Reaction to vaccines more troublesome than c19." In subsequent tweets, he insisted that these findings are proof of mass adverse effects and injuries stemming from COVID-19 vaccines among hospital workers, as well as proof of harms to pregnant women and children.

Spontaneous Adverse Event Reporting by COVID-19 Vaccinated Healthcare Professionals Through an Electronic Form Implemented by the Hospital Pharmacy

Abstract

Aim: Implementation of a web-form based pharmacovigilance plan for the spontaneous notification of adverse events to the Comirnaty® COVID-19 vaccine during its administration to hospital healthcare professionals. Methods: An electronic pharmacovigilance form was developed containing 8 pre-defined event options, an open answer option for the description of other events and/or symptoms, and a question about the overall intensity of symptoms. The adverse events reports were standardized according to physiological and pathological condition. Results: A total of 4119 adverse events notifications were obtained with a 45% rate of electronic notification. The most clinically relevant events reported were tachycardia (n = 19), dyspnea (n = 7), chest pain (n = 6), facial/labial edema (n = 6), lipotymia (n = 5), bronchospasm (n = 2), herpes infection (n = 2), vasculitis (n = 2), arthropalgia (n = 2), difficult to control arterial hypertension (n = 2), gastritis (n = 1), and spontaneous abortion (n = 1). Regarding the intensity of symptoms (n = 2928), 79.8% were reported as mild, 23.8% as moderate, and 4.27% as severe, with higher intensity in the second dose compared to first dose. The highest frequency of severe events were reported in the groups from 40 to 59 years in both vaccination periods. During the vaccination process, no hospitalizations and no deaths were verified and/or recorded. Conclusion: In this real world study, comparing with Comirnaty clinical trials program, it was observed a higher frequency of adenopathy and gastrointestinal disorders. Noteworthy, the notification of a case of miscarriage. The use of hospital pharmacy pharmacovigilance electronic forms, seemed to be relevant to notification adherence and to obtain a greater and faster knowledge of

Australian Video Claiming to Show Vaccine Nanostructures Shared by Popular VK Account

Source and Description of Threat	On 25 October 2022 Australian conspiracy theorist Maria Zee interviewed Dr. David Nixon, whom she claims had made alarming findings while researching COVID-19 vaccines under a microscope. In the interview, Dr. Nixon claims nanostructures with robotic arms assembling themselves in realtime in COVID-19 vaccine fluid. InfoWars Writer Claims that NYC Marathon Runner Collapsed Due to Vaccine

Source and Description of Threat	On 7 November 2022 InfoWars writer Adam Salazar posted an article discussing a video of Brazilian long distance runner Daniel Do Nascimento collapsing during the 2022 New York City Marathon. The article acknowledges how the runner's representatives stated that he collapsed due to dehydration and low blood sugar. However, the article then links Daniel Do Nascimento's collapse to other supposed sudden health issues among young athletes in recent years. The article points to a claimed stream of athletes experiencing health issues since the introduction of COVID-19 vaccines, thereby implying that Daniel Do Nascimento's collapse may have been due to the vaccines.

Popular Tweet Suggests COVID-19 Vaccine Causes Female Hair Loss

Source and Description of Threat	On 10 April 2022, Twitter user @DaniiiiV tweeted, “So now a bunch of women I went to high school with lost all their hair from an autoimmune disease....?? They all have one thing in common.. take a wild guess.” Replies to this tweet have overwhelmingly interpreted this to mean that women have been losing their hair due to receiving COVID-19 vaccines. At least one reply connected this suggestion to a recently-emerged conspiracy theory claiming that Chris Rock’s joke about Jada Pinkett-Smith at the 2022 Academy Awards was intended to lift the public profile of the hair-loss condition alopecia areata in preparation for Pfizer to release a drug treating it. This and other replies also claim that the “Pfizer docs” list alopecia as a vaccine side effect. @DaniiiiV self-reports as Danielle Vanasse, and describes herself as a homesteader in her bio. Source and Description of Threat	On 9 April 2022, prominent British conspiracy site The Exposé published an article discussing rising cases of hepatitis among children in the United Kingdom. In response to the announcement by the UK Health Security Agency, The Exposé claims that the rise is due to COVID-19 vaccines. As evidence, The Exposé includes screenshots of Pfizer trial documents discussing liver enlargement. Substack Writer Claims that Chronic Covid Fueled By Vaccines

Source and Description of Threat	On 9 April 2022, Substack writer Igor Chudov posted an article discussing chronic COVID-19 and repeat infections in Europe, Australia, and New Zealand. He claims that these cases are caused in part by COVID-19 vaccines, which supposedly erode people's immune capacity. Igor Chudov claims that vaccinated people cannot develop natural immunity and that the vaccines are ineffective, and thus are vulnerable to reinfections that in turn weaken their immune systems even further. Igor Chudov has previously promoted narratives of vaccine-induced immune system damage before.

This article will explain exactly why endless Covid reinfections happen, and the dangerous consequences that they lead to, based on recent scientific advances.

What's happening?

When Omicron appeared around December of last year, the powers-to-be in most Western countries found themselves in a situation of mass vaccine failure, where a Covid variant Omicron, about infectious as measles, was spreading like wildfire, while at the same time evading vaccine immunity.

So, the clever solution was to abolish containment altogether, wish "illness and death" on the unvaccinated people, and hope that the vaccinated world gains "herd immunity" while enjoying relatively low mortality.

Anti-Vaxxers Claim that Denmark has Banned COVID-19 Vaccines for People Under Eighteen

Source and Description of Threat	In recent days, GroupSense has observed narratives emerge claiming that Denmark has banned the administration of COVID-19 vaccines to people under eighteen due to the risk of side effects. This narrative appears to have first emerged on Twitter on 7 August 2022 in a tweet from user @CBroendsholmA. This user appears to actually be pro-vaccination, and appears to have been criticizing Danish health authorities for their decision to roll back their vaccination campaign for the season and restrict under-18 vaccination to those individuals with a doctor's recommendation and immunocompromised individuals. This narrative appears to have been picked up in anti-vaccine circles by 9 August and has been distorted to claim that Denmark has banned COVID-19 vaccines for all people under 18 regardless of health status and medical recommendation. The primary proponents of this narrative so far appear to be American anti-vaccine novelist and former journalist Alex Berenson, who has promoted it on Twitter and Substack, and the Canadian digital outlets The Western Standard and The Counter Signal.

Dutch Vaccine Researcher Claims that Boosters Killing 1 in 800 People Over 60

Source and Description of Threat	In an interview that first appeared online on 30 July 2022, American anti-vaccine advocate Dr. Robert Malone and Dutch veterinary vaccine researcher Dr. Theo Schetters discussed COVID-19 vaccines. In the interview, Dr. Schetters claims to have parsed Dutch government data on vaccination and excess deaths and to have discovered that excess deaths increased in weeks following a week of high vaccine uptake. Dr. Schetters claims that after analyzing the data, he found that around 1 in 800 people over 60 years of age who received a COVID-19 booster shot died. Substack Writer Claims Monkeypox Vaccines are Ineffective and Dangerous

Source and Description of Threat	In a Substack article published on 11 August 2022, anti-vaccine activist Dr. Meryl Nass claimed that the monkeypox vaccine Jynneos fails to prevent infection. In light of this, she claims that the vaccine is too dangerous to be worth taking and should be avoided at all costs. She goes on to claim that the Centers for Disease Control are hiding the results of trials of the vaccine and that shortages of monkeypox vaccines are fake. Dr. Nass also insinuates that plans to offer diluted doses of the vaccine will result in unknown and harmful substances being added to the vaccines. Dr. Meryl Nass is a Maine physician who had her medical license suspended earlier this year for her promotion of misinformation surrounding COVID-19.

The vaccine does not prevent infection

Just like the COVID vaccines, turns out that in the animal experiments, Jynneos did not stop monkeys getting monkeypox, but did stop them from dying. Since the current strain of monkeypox is mild, and virtually no one dies from monkeypox, this is another reason to avoid these dangerous vaccines like the plague—they won't stop the infection!

Canadian Conspiracy Think Tank Promotes False Claims About Children and Vaccines from Israeli Conspiracy Outlet

Source and Description of Threat	On 13 June 2022, the Israeli conspiracy outlet Real Time Magazine published an article alleging that VAERS data shows that 58 children under three years of age experienced life-threatening side effects after receiving Pfizer's COVID-19 vaccine. In addition, it claims that such incidents began occurring before the vaccine was approved by the FDA for use on children under five, suggesting that the vaccine was tested on babies. Spread of this article jumped in early July after it was republished on 6 July 2022 by the Centre for Research on Globalization, a Canadian think tank operated by former University of Ottawa professor Michel Chossudovsky. The Centre for Research on Globalization is known for promoting a variety of conspiracies, and has historically been a key spreader of Russian disinformation narratives.

The screenshot shows a webpage from Real Time Magazine (RTMAG.CO.IL) with a dark blue header. The main article is in Hebrew, with a title in English: "Breaking: 58 babies who received mRNA COVID-19 vaccines suffered life-threatening adverse events". The article text states: "An analysis of VAERS reports shows that contrary to the FDA's briefing document claiming that the majority of adverse events in Pfizer's clinical trial were non-serious – at least 58 cases of life-threatening side effects in infants under 3 years old who received mRNA vaccines were reported. For some, it is unclear if they survived. It is also unclear why the infants were vaccinated, and whether they were part of the clinical trials. However, in the upcoming FDA meeting on Wednesday, the FDA will not be able to argue it did not know". The author is identified as Ranit Feinberg & Yaffa Shir-Raz, dated 13 יוני 2022. A sidebar on the right titled "You might also like..." features a highlighted article: "Breaking: The Israeli MOH is hiding a study it conducted, showing a 2-4 times higher rate of adverse events reports following Pfizer COVID vaccine in kids aged 5-11 vs ages 12-17". The sidebar text continues: "The study, commissioned by the MOH, also indicates new adverse events not reported in Pfizer's leaflet, and that some adverse events last more than a year. Despite being aware of these findings, the MOH is hiding them from the public and has recently authorized the booster dose for ages 5-11 and is preparing to approve the vaccine for infants". Below this is another article snippet: "New Data From Ichilov Hospital: A drop in the number of live births starting 9 months after the beginning of vaccine rollout".

The screenshot shows the top of a web browser displaying the Global Research website. The header includes the site logo, navigation menu (US Nato War, Economy, Civil Rights, Environment, Poverty, Media, Justice, 9/11, War Crimes, Militarization, History, Science), search bars, and social media links. The main article title is "Pfizer Crimes against our Children: Cardiac Arrest of Two Month Old Baby an Hour after Experimental Vaccine". Below the title is a sub-headline: "58 Babies Who Received mRNA COVID-19 Vaccines Suffered Life-threatening Adverse Events". The author information is "By Ranit Feinberg and Yaffa Shir-Raz" with publication dates "Global Research, July 06, 2022" and "Real Time Magazine 13 June 2022". A region tag indicates "Region: USA" and a theme tag indicates "Theme: Crimes against Humanity, Science and Medicine". The article body contains a small image of a baby, followed by text stating that all articles can be read in 51 languages and providing a link to the daily newsletter. It also includes social media follow instructions and an "Editor's Note" section. The note reads: "Read carefully. Pfizer is committing crimes against humanity, specifically against our children. The vaccine has resulted in cardiac arrest not in an elderly person but in a two month old baby. 'Why did they not follow up on the 2-month-old baby's condition, after going into cardiac arrest an hour after receiving an experimental vaccine? Why is there no further information? Is it because he died? Or was the baby removed from an experiment? Why would the author of the report not mention this?' We call upon the US Department of Justice to undertake a criminal investigation against Pfizer."

High-Profile Political Commentator Promotes Died Suddenly Documentary

Source and Description of Threat	On 9 December 2022, political commentator Candace Owens tweeted, “Anybody seen the documentary #DiedSuddenly? All of the coroners and doctors afraid to speak out regarding all of these young people dropping dead suddenly? I maintain that the vaccines were and continue to be a crime against humanity. They knew.” With her promotion of the documentary, Candace Owens insinuates that supposed mass blood clots and caused by the vaccines are intentional by political and public health elites.

Alternative Medicine Practitioner Cites Moderna Patent Lawsuit to Suggest Plandemic

Source and Description of Threat	On 6 December 2022, Pfizer requested a federal court to dismiss a lawsuit brought against the pharmaceutical company by its competitor Moderna. In the lawsuit, the latter alleged that Pfizer infringed on Moderna patents when developing and manufacturing its mRNA COVID-19 vaccine. A screenshot of a Boston Business Journal article about this lawsuit was shared on Twitter by alternative medicine practitioner Dr. Dennis Walker on 8 December 2022. Along with the screenshot, Dr. Walker tweeted, "Vaccine patent filed before CV19 pandemic. Moderna filed between 2010 & 2016. Moderna alleges patents cover 2 particular components of the vaccine: the exact chemical modification to the RNA molecules in the vaccine, & the exact target of the vaccine, the full-length spike protein." This tweet leans into narratives alleging that the COVID-19 pandemic was planned in advance, which often point to pre-existing patents on parts of vaccine technology to suggest that pharmaceutical companies knew.

Anti-Vaxxers Promote German Study to Claim Vaccine Cause Lethal Myocarditis

Source and Description of Threat	On 27 November 2022, a study by German researchers on post-COVID vaccine myocarditis was published in Clinical Research in Cardiology. The study conducted standardized autopsies on 25 people who had died unexpectedly within 20 days of receiving COVID-19 vaccines. The study found that four of the patients had experienced acute myocarditis, with no detection of other significant health conditions. The study suggests that myocarditis can be a lethal complication of COVID-19 vaccination; however, the authors emphasize that they did not observe a direct causal link and that myocarditis can be caused by COVID-19 infection as well. This study has been promoted by numerous anti-vaccine influencers, social media users, and media outlets, who point to it as proof that COVID-19 vaccines are dangerous. Many of these users have overstated the study's findings and claimed that there is direct causality despite the authors emphasizing that causality has not been proven.

Popular Commentator Suggests Pandemic was Orchestrated to Sell Vaccines

Source and Description of Threat	On 11 May 2022, political commentator Candace Owens tweeted, “Doesn’t Bill Gates just have the best luck? Just like with the COVID vaccine– he makes an investment, and then suddenly there is a pandemic or shortage and everyone must line up for his product. Of course he’s invested in lab produced breast milk!” This comment was a quote tweet suggesting that it is suspicious that Bill Gates is invested in lab-produced breast milk given the current baby formula shortage. Candace Owens’s tweet suggests that both this shortage and the COVID-19 pandemic are manufactured crises intended to return value on Bill Gates’s investments in technologies that can solve them. Candace Owens is a popular political commentator who has repeatedly promoted conspiracy theories about the pandemic and COVID-19 vaccines.

Pathologist Claims that Vaccines are Reducing Immunity to Viral Diseases and Cancer

Source and Description of Threat	On 5 May 2022, the anti-vaccine advocacy group Children’s Health Defense released its 27th episode of Doctors & Scientists, a show hosted by Dr. Bryan Hooker. In the episode, Dr. Hooker interviews pathologist Dr. Ryan Cole. In their conversation, Dr. Cole claims to have seen significant surges in a variety of conditions, including shingles, molluscum contagiosum, and all varieties of cancers since the rollout of COVID-19 vaccines. Furthermore, he claims that this data has been suppressed by the government in a scandal of “Watergate proportions.” Dr. Cole claims that doctors all over the world are reporting such conditions caused by or worsened by COVID-19 vaccines. He additionally claims that the vaccines are causing blood clots and reproductive problems. Dr. Ryan Cole has repeatedly made claims that COVID-19 vaccines cause immunosuppression and cancer and has been featured by other popular anti-vax and vaccine-skeptical outlets, including The Epoch Times.

noun
1. murder of people by a government which has power over them.

Democide
Democide is a concept proposed by American political scientist Rudolph Rummel to describe "the intentional killing of an unarmed or disarmed person by government agents acting in their authoritative capacity and pursuant to government policy or high command." According to Rummel, this definition covers a wide range of deaths, including forced labor and concentration camp victims, killings by mercenaries and unofficial private groups, extrajudicial summary killings, and mass deaths due to governmental acts of criminal omission and neglect, such as in deliberate famines, as well as killings by de facto governments.

Anti-Vax News Site Claims 129,027 Miscarriages Caused by COVID-19 Vaccines

Source and Description of Threat	On 12 January 2022, health misinformation news site HealthImpactNews[.]com published an article by its editor, Brian Shilhavy. In the article, Mr. Shilhavy claims to have conducted data analysis on the federal government’s Vaccine Adverse Effect Reporting System (VAERS) and identified 3,147 miscarriages caused by COVID-19 vaccination. However, based on another article published by HealthImpactNews[.]com that claims that COVID-19 vaccine-related deaths have been underreported by a factor of 41 times, Shilhavy claims that the actual total of fetal deaths caused by COVID vaccines numbers 129,027. Brian Shilhavy founded HealthImpactNews[.]com in 2011, and followed it with VaccinImpactNews[.]com. He is a long-time opponent of mainstream medicine and vaccination and has been a proponent of the “plandemic” narrative since early in the pandemic.

TikTok Video Echoes Claims that mRNA COVID-19 Vaccines Cause Organ Failure

Source and Description of Threat	On 11 January 2022, TikTok user @anik718brooklyn posted a video claiming that vaccines using mRNA technology makes recipients more susceptible to COVID-19. The video is rooted in claims by Dr. Sucharit Bakhdi and Dr. Arne Burkhardt that mRNA vaccines trigger an antibody response in the blood but not the mucus membrane, causing the body to cease lymphocyte production there and the immune system to attack the body itself. This supposedly results in organ failure, particularly the heart, and is thus claimed to be the source of incidents of myocarditis and cardiac arrest among vaccinated individuals. Dr. Bakhdi's and Dr. Burkhardt's study supporting these claims has been debunked. @anik718brooklyn describes himself in his TikTok bio as living in NYC and being anti-vax. He regularly posts anti-COVID vaccine content directed at New Yorkers on his TikTok. Dr. Sucharit Bakhdi is a retired professor of microbiology from the University of Mainz in Germany. Dr. Arne Burkhardt is a professor of pathology at the University of Tübingen in Germany. Dr. Bakhdi and Dr. Burkhardt have been consistent purveyors of COVID-19 misinformation.

Twitter Suggests Claims Rising Cases Prove that NYC Vaccine Mandate is Ineffective

Source and Description of Threat	On 13 January 2022, Twitter user @covid_clarity tweeted, “Minneapolis and St. Paul just announced new vaccine mandates for bars and restaurants. NYC implemented similar mandates weeks ago in an effort to curb the spread. How has it worked for NYC? Cases are up 1,800% since the mandate began and are 6x higher than ever.” The tweet was accompanied with a graph showing New York City’s COVID-19 case numbers since March 2020. The tweet does not include context regarding deaths, hospitalizations, or the increased infectiousness of the omicron variant. @covid_clarity describes themselves as an Ivy League medical professional and statistician in Minnesota in their Twitter bio. They tweet exclusively about COVID policy and vaccinations, and frequently cast doubt on the efficacy of COVID-19 vaccines.

 GroupSense continues to track multiple disinformation narratives surrounding the vaccine and its distribution. We include below a sample of the most prominent recent narratives and highlight information specific to New York City where applicable.

Prominent Conspiracy Outlet Claims that Monkeypox is a Coverup for Vaccine-Induced Illnesses

Source and Description of Threat	On 10 June 2022, the British conspiracy news outlet The Exposé published an article claiming that the monkeypox outbreak is actually a coverup for illnesses supposedly produced by COVID-19 vaccines, including autoimmune blistering disease, hepatitis, and shingles. The article claims that it is highly suspicious that monkeypox has suddenly spread widely outside Africa for the first time since its discovery, and uses maps showing vaccine distributions and monkeypox spread to suggest that monkeypox cases are associated with the Pfizer vaccine.

Anti-Vaxxers Claim Justin Bieber's Paralysis Caused By COVID-19 Vaccine

Source and Description of Threat	On 10 June 2022, singer Justin Bieber announced that the left side of his face had been paralyzed by Ramsay Hunt Syndrome, a condition caused by shingles outbreaks close to ear and facial nerves. Almost immediately, anti-vaccine influencers and social media users began claiming that the singer's condition was caused by COVID-19 vaccines. That day, anti-vaccine influencer Steve Kirsch published a Substack article claiming that VAERS data proves that Ramsay Hunt Syndrome is a side effect of COVID-19 vaccines. Other activists and social media users have drawn comparisons to the March 2022 hospitalization of Justin Bieber's wife Hailey Bieber for stroke-like symptoms. This event has also been repeatedly cited by anti-vaxxers as evidence of the harms of COVID-19 vaccines.

Why I'm 99% certain that Justin Bieber's facial paralysis was caused by the COVID vaccine

Was it vaccine related? That's what the math says. Here's my calculation. And I give two reasons why he will never admit this publicly.

Executive summary

The VAERS data shows that Ramsay Hunt Syndrome (RHS) is 160 times more likely after a COVID vaccination than for all the other vaccines combined in any given year. And if you exclude the anthrax vaccine from that comparison, the likelihood is simply too high to calculate (0 cases in 32 years).

So the COVID vaccine should definitely be considered as a possible cause for this rare disease because when you've been vaccinated, it's no longer rare. For example, one doctor tweeted he saw 4 cases in a month, but had never seen any cases before in the 32 years he's practiced medicine. All the cases had gotten the COVID vax 3 to 4 months earlier.

I show below that the estimated rate of RHS after COVID vaccination is likely at least 338

Substack Writer Suggests Vaccines Causing Developmental Disorders in Babies

Source and Description of Threat	On 10 June 2022, influential anti-vaccine Substack writer Igor Chudov published an article in which he suggests that mRNA COVID-19 vaccines administered to pregnant women are causing developmental disorders in their newborn children. As evidence, Igor Chudov cites above-average numbers of deaths and low Apgar scores among newborns in Scotland. He also points to a recent change in the CDC's developmental milestones for children that has faced criticism among some experts, suggesting that this may be a method of saving face from the fallout of vaccines.

Viral Video Claims that COVID-19 Vaccines Inject Snake Venom and DNA

Source and Description of Threat	On 11 April 2022, the Rumble account of Stew Peters Network posted a 59-minute video titled “Live World Premier: Watch the Water.” The video centers on an interview between Stew Peters and Dr. Bryan Ardis, an alternative medicine practitioner and COVID-19 truther. Dr. Ardis claims that the COVID-19 pandemic was caused by global elites inserting snake venom into the world’s water supply. Likewise, he claims that COVID-19 vaccines and treatments such as remdesevir further inject snake venom into a recipient. Furthermore, he claims that mRNA vaccines rewrites a recipient’s DNA with snake DNA, which is tied to Satan.

Brazilian Doctors' Group Twists Legitimate Studies to Promote Vaccine Misinformation on Telegram

Source and Description of Threat	On 12 February 2022, the Telegram channel MÉDICOS PELA VIDA (translation: Doctors for Life) posted a message titled “Estudos interessantes sobre as vacinas experimentais” (translation: interesting studies on experimental vaccines). The post then lists questions about various narratives doubting the safety and efficacy of COVID-19 vaccines, including claims that mRNA vaccines cause autoimmune disease, that they are ineffective against the omicron variant, that they cause heart damage, and that the process involved in their creation was corrupt. After each question, the post links a study that confirms a “yes” answer to the question; taken together, the questions and studies are framed as proving that COVID-19 vaccines are ineffective and dangerous. Every study is from a legitimate source, including Nature, The BMJ, Immunology, and The Lancet. One link was to a post on a blog called “El Colectivo de Uno” that listed 1,000 studies on the vaccines; the blog post framed the studies as proof that the vaccines are unsafe and ineffective. Médicos pela Vida is a group of Brazilian doctors who claim to provide early treatment for COVID-19 to patients and promote medical autonomy. The group promotes claims that downplay the pandemic, accuse health authorities of corruption, and cast vaccines for the virus as dangerous and useless. Their posts in their Telegram channel frequently cite doctors who are skeptical of the pandemic and vaccines, as well as citing legitimate studies that have been taken out of context.

Anti-Vax Influencer Promotes Narrative that COVID-19 Vaccines Linked to HIV/AIDS

Source and Description of Threat	On 13 February 2022, a YouTuber using the name WhatsHerFace posted a video about links between HIV and COVID-19 vaccines. Referencing recent news about a powerful HIV variant in the Netherlands and more new HIV cases among heterosexuals than gay men in the United Kingdom, as well as reports that COVID-19 vaccines in Australia caused HIV false positives, WhatsHerFace suggests that the vaccines are causing a surge in HIV/AIDS cases. She cites early warnings from scientists regarding the possibility that COVID-19 vaccines may make people more vulnerable to AIDS, including concerns from Luc Montagnier (the virologist who discovered AIDS.) WhatsHerFace also notes Montagnier's recent death, possibly hinting at a conspiracy. This video was removed by YouTube for violating community guidelines almost immediately after posting, but WhatsHerFace reposted it to her Odysee channel. Additionally, it has been shared multiple times across other major platforms, including Telegram, Twitter, Rumble, and Bitchute. WhatsHerFace maintains an active presence on YouTube, Telegram, Odysee, and Patreon. She joined YouTube in 2018 and appears to have originally created self-help, lifestyle, and relationship advice, before pivoting to politics and COVID-19 around a year ago. She frequently posts content attacking COVID-19 response, masking, and vaccines, and has promoted the Great Reset conspiracy theory. She has mentioned that she currently lives in Canada in previous videos. GroupSense was not able to confidently identify her real name.

New or evolving narrative?	Evolving narrative: GroupSense is beginning to see the narrative linking COVID-19 vaccines to HIV/AIDS incorporate speculation and warnings that were first promulgated circa October 2020. Additionally, this is the first time GroupSense has seen suggestions that the passing of Dr. Luc Montagnier on 8 February 2022 is part of a coverup regarding this supposed link.

Source and Description of Threat	On 12 March 2022, radio station 89.3 BNFM Cotabato City posted a video to Facebook of an interview with Nor Kaising, widow of the recently-deceased administrator of the Poblacion VIII barangay (ward) of Cotabato City in the Philippines. In the text post accompanying the video, the radio station said, “Listen to the exclusive interview with the wife of Poblacion 8 Administrator Nor Kaising after he lost his life after being forced to inject the COVID vaccine yesterday,” thereby directly tying the administrator’s death to COVID-19 vaccines. Many of the comments on the video treat it as proof that COVID-19 vaccines are dangerous. 89.3 BNFM Cotabato City is a radio news station based in Contabo City, Philippines. Clip of Anti-Vaccine Activist Goes Viral Across Multiple Platforms

Source and Description of Threat	On 4 March 2022 at a Pennsylvania General Assembly hearing on medical freedom, anti-vaccine activist Steve Kirsch claimed that more people died after receiving the Pfizer COVID-19 vaccine in trials than received the placebo. He claims that after analyzing the recently-released Pfizer documents, he concludes that COVID-19 vaccines only saved possibly 10,000 people from COVID-19 while killing 150,000. Narrowing it down, he claims that 117 children have been killed for every one person saved. A clip of these comments has since gone viral across multiple platforms. Text Post Shared on Telegram Claims that mRNA Vaccines are Prelude to Death By Radiation

Source and Description of Threat	On 7 March 2022, Telegram channel dark_universe_9 shared a text-based image claiming that mRNA vaccines cause a 90% suppression of a mechanism DNA uses to repair itself. It then suggests that such suppression causes malign micro tumors, and that it would make it easy for globalists to kill five billion people through the release of low-level ionizing radiation throughout the world. In the Telegram post with the image, the administrator of dark_universe_9 claims to have discovered 47 pathogens and 8 forms of HIV protein and carcinogens in the vaccines. They additionally repeat claims that the vaccines contain graphene oxide and luciferase. The Telegram channel dark_universe_9 regularly promotes anti-vaccine narratives and conspiracy theories. mRNA spike protein + low-level nuclear radiation will result in global cancer deaths

It is now becoming abundantly obvious what the next phase is going to be for achieving global depopulation.

The spike protein mRNA injections cause about a 90 percent suppression of the DNA repair mechanism known as NHEJ - Non-Homologous End-Joining. This is a cellular mechanism that exists inside the cells of humans, animals and plants to maintain genetic integrity -- a necessary condition for life.

When NHEJ is suppressed, the body cannot repair DNA damage and begins to grow micro tumors.

All that is necessary for globalists to kill those five billion people is to unleash a new source of low-level ionizing radiation that circulates across the globe... and then let physics do the rest.

This is why you should never trust the government or the deadly covid-19 death jab.

From doing extensive research I have found that The jabs are filled with over 47 pathogens, 8 stands of foreign HIV & deadly cancer causing chemical toxic poisons. These pathogens are not airborne but can be injected & passed into the bloodstream.

Remember the death jab also Contains graphene hydroxide which is used to speed up data transfer in computers, it can change structure within the body once activated by radioactive frequencies known as 5G.

Luciferase is also present in the death jab, this can be barcoded and detected using X-ray ultraviolet lights.

The jab contains mRNA spike proteins which literally creates synthetic DNA known as c-DNA within the body, recipients become walking manufacturers of mRNA and sickness. this is what helps bind the graphene and Luciferase to DNA/cDNA on a cellular basis.

Russian Outlet Suggests that COVID-19 Vaccines are Responsible for Maternal Mortality Increase

Source and Description of Threat	On 8 November 2022 Russian-language outlet Nakanune published an article reporting that maternal mortality in Russia had tripled in 2021, according to statistics from the Russian Federal State Statistics Service. The article states that officials have attributed this increase to COVID-19. However, it also states that the increase may be due in part to maternal deaths caused by COVID-19 “gene drug” vaccines. The article additionally claims that the United Kingdom has suspended the use of COVID-19 vaccines for pregnant women, which has been previously debunked.

Материнская смертность в 2021 году подскочила в три раза

Материнская смертность в 2021 году неожиданно резко выросла в три раза. Такая информация опубликована в сборнике "Семья и дети в России", который представили Росстат и Общественная палата РФ. Nakanune.RU приводит наиболее интересные данные.

Если в 2020 году в России умерла 161 мать, то в прошлом году — 482. Показатель вырос с 11,2 до 34,5 на 100 тыс. родившихся живыми. При этом показатель материнской смертности от прямых причин, связанных с беременностью, составил лишь 3,6 на 100 тыс. рожденных, то есть всего 10%. Остальная смертность пришлась на причины, напрямую не связанные с беременностью, сообщили ранее власти Санкт-Петербурга. Они списали резкий рост материнской смертности на коронавирус, но причиной могла быть и ковид-вакцинация генными препаратами, которые в Британии недавно были признаны небезопасными для беременных, а массовая вакцинация в РФ шла именно в 2021 году, но не в 2020-м.

Младенческая и вообще детская смертность выросли на 1,8% и 5% соответственно. Интересно, что у детей было зафиксировано почти 1 млн случаев ковида, а рост смертности до 18 лет составил 728 человек. Даже если бы все они умерли из-за ковида, то летальность была бы около 0,07%.

Продолжает медленно расти заболеваемость онкологией среди детей. Но с 2010 года она увеличилась в 1,8 раза. Сегодня почти 30 тыс. детей имеют зарегистрированные злокачественные новообразования, в том числе более 6 тыс. до 5 лет. То есть каждый тысячный несовершеннолетний россиянин болен раком. Эта тенденция пугает экспертов, которые бьют тревогу по поводу огромной детской онкологии.

За четыре года (2016-2020) резко упало число детей, занимающихся спортом, — с 49% до 40%. Причем это было зафиксировано еще до ковида.

NYC-Based Writer Claims mRNA Vaccines Cause Brain Inflammation

Source and Description of Threat	On 9 November 2022 writer Alex Berenson published a Substack article discussing a recent study on real-time safety outcomes in recipients of mRNA COVID-19 vaccines. In his article, he claims that the study found that people who received the Pfizer vaccine had a 40% to 70% higher chance of developing inflammatory brain conditions in the six weeks following vaccination, and that Moderna recipients had an even higher chance. The study authors claimed that their sample size was not large enough to derive statistically significant observations. However, Alex Berenson disputes this and claims that the article provides strong evidence that mRNA vaccines cause significant damage through brain inflammation. He suggests that the study authors downplayed their own findings under FDA pressure.

Brain inflammation and the mRNA vaccines

Case reports and a major new study raise troubling signals

537

Three large insurance databases showed sharp increases in cases of severe brain inflammation after the Covid mRNA shots, according to a new peer-reviewed paper.

People who received the Pfizer jab or booster had a 40 to 70 percent higher chance over the next six weeks of encephalitis or encephalomyelitis. The Moderna jab carried an even higher risk after the second primary dose or a booster.

Encephalitis is inflammation of the brain itself, while encephalomyelitis is inflammation of nerve sheaths in the brain or spinal cord. Both can range from relatively mild conditions to serious or even fatal illnesses. The researchers reported 47 cases following Pfizer's jab; they did not disclose an exact figure for Moderna's.

Though the finding was published in the peer-reviewed journal Vaccine, it has received little attention - in part because the authors presented the findings in a way that made them seem less statistically robust than they were.

Anti-Vaxxers Claim that COVID Vaccines Cause Reinfections

Source and Description of Threat	On 15 August 2022, the anti-vaccine Telegram channel Forecast 432Hz (52,052 subscribers) posted, “New Icelandic Study Shows Covid Reinfection Rates Rise With Number of Vaccine Doses in Most Age Groups” with an accompanying graph and link. The post was based on a research letter published in JAMA Network Open by Icelandic medical researchers. The letter was about a study the researchers conducted regarding COVID-19 reinfection rates in Iceland, and among their findings was that individuals who had received 2 or more COVID vaccines appeared to have a slightly higher reinfection rate than those who had received 1 or less. The researchers noted the limitations of their study and cautioned against deriving strong general conclusions from it, but anti-vaxxers have seized on it to justify claims that the vaccines cause reinfections. Shortly after posting, this post was shared in the Telegram channel Arkmedic’s feed (4,843 subscribers). Это одна из причин, по которой здоровые люди просто падают замертво после этих ужасных прививок.

Вот почему вы видите так много якобы здоровых спортсменов среди мертвых: потому что они нагружают свое сердце и кровеносную систему до предела, и они просто не могут функционировать с такими закупорками, которые растут внутри них и это убивает их.

Если в вашей жизни все еще есть кто-то, кто сомневается в том, чтобы сделать себе эту дурацкую инъекцию, или вы пытаетесь убедить друга или родственника больше не делать инъекций, это может быть экстремальным, но эффективным способом вернуть их к реальности.

The Exposé Claims that Pfizer Docs Prove that 9 in 10 Pregnant Women in Vaccine Trials Miscarried

Source and Description of Threat	In an article published on 15 August 2022, British anti-vaccine outlet The Exposé claimed that the most recent dump of confidential Pfizer vaccine trial documents show that the great majority of pregnant women who participated in the trials experienced miscarriages as a direct result of the vaccine. The article walks through an analysis of the reported adverse effects data and concludes that between 82% and 97% of pregnancies in the trial ended in miscarriages. However, this analysis is based on numerous assumptions regarding the applicability of data on reported miscarriages to the hundreds of pregnancy outcomes of which Pfizer has no knowledge of, as well as assuming strict causality from the vaccine.

 GroupSense continues to track multiple disinformation narratives surrounding the vaccine and its distribution. We include below a sample of the most prominent recent narratives and highlight information specific to New York City where applicable.

Vietnamese-Speaking SafeChat Users Promotes False Narratives from Plandemic Scientist

Source and Description of Threat	On 15 September 2022, SafeChat user John Huynh shared a Brighteon video featuring an interview with Judy Mikovits, a former research scientist and current anti-vaccine activist who was one of the key originators of the plandemic narrative. In the video, which was originally posted to Brighteon on 15 April 2022, Judy Mikovits claims that COVID-19 vaccines contain synthetic viruses that cause cancers in recipients. She claims that natural immunity can beat all diseases and that arguments otherwise are part of globalist plots, and discourages viewers from getting vaccinated. In their post, John Huynh translates Judy Mikovits' core false claims into Vietnamese. This user joined SafeChat in December 2020. Most of their posts consist of translating claims from anti-vaccine sources in English into Vietnamese.

A screenshot of a SafeChat post by John Huynh. The post features a profile picture of a person with the name 'John Huynh' and a 'Follow' button. The text of the post discusses Dr. Judy Mikovits and her views on mRNA vaccines, claiming they are synthetic viruses. It includes several paragraphs of text and a link to a video on Brighteon. At the bottom of the screenshot is a video player showing a close-up of a woman with glasses.

DR. JUDY MIKOVITS: NHỮNG LOẠI VACCINE mRNA THỰC TẾ LÀ MỘT LOẠI VIRUS TỔNG HỢP.

Tiến sĩ Judy Mkovits là một nhà khoa học nghiên cứu y sinh vô cùng xuất sắc với rất nhiều đóng góp khoa học cho thế giới. Bà là người lên án gay gắt cái gọi là đại dịch covid và vaccine đến nỗi đã bị Big Tech câu kết với chính quyền bỏ tù và bịt miệng. Bà nói với người dẫn chương trình Clay Clark trong tập ngày 15/4/2022 của chương trình "Thrive Time Show" trên Brighteon.TV :

"Mỗi loại vaccine covid sử dụng công nghệ mRNA về bản chất đều là một loại virus được tổng hợp mà thôi. Bởi vậy mỗi mũi chích ngừa đều là một loại virus tổng hợp có nguy cơ cao gây ra một loại bệnh ung thư. Khi bạn chích DNA, RNA tức là bạn đang chích bản thiết kế virus của một con vật khác và nó phát triển không giới hạn trong cơ thể bạn... Mỗi lần chích là một lần bạn đưa hạt nano lipid tổng hợp vô cơ thể. Đó là bản chất của vaccine mRNA và nó được tổng hợp để thực hiện nhiệm vụ theo ý đồ của nhà sản xuất".

Bà còn cho biết, hệ thống miễn dịch của mỗi con người do Chúa ban tặng có thể đánh bại mọi bệnh tật, và đó là điều mà những người theo chủ nghĩa toàn cầu luôn lo sợ. Bà nói thêm rằng mọi người cần thực phẩm sạch tốt để xây dựng hệ miễn dịch bền vững suốt đời.

Trước đây, bà đã từng đưa ra ba cách hiệu quả nhất để đối phó với kịch bản cái gọi là COVID là ngừng xem các phương tiện truyền thông chính thống đang lấp đầy tâm trí của mọi người bằng các thông tin dối trá độc hại; không đeo khẩu trang; và không nên chích ngừa vaccine covid.

Mikovits nhấn mạnh rằng mọi người không bao giờ nên chích ngừa vaccine vì chúng đều là GMO hoặc sinh vật biến đổi gen. Bà lưu ý rằng mỗi người đều có một gen nhạy cảm do Chúa ban tặng và đặc biệt là con người không tiến hóa từ khỉ.

Source and Description of Threat	On 9 September 2022, The Epoch Times published an article claiming that a new study had found beyond a doubt that mRNA COVID-19 vaccines have severe side effects, including lasting damage to a recipient’s cardiovascular system. Substack Writer Claims that Pfizer Vaccine Damages Male Fertility

Source and Description of Threat	On 5 September 2022, Substack writer Amy Kelly published an article in which she claims that a wide array of evidence proves beyond doubt that the Pfizer COVID-19 vaccine inhibits male fertility. She claims that this occurs due to lipid nanoparticles that she claims are in the vaccines, which then spread through the body and damage the ability of males to produce sperm. She also claims that the vaccine was insufficiently tested on this point and that health officials thus cannot otherwise claim that the vaccine is safe and does not hurt fertility. Amy Kelly is Program Director for the War Room/DailyClout Pfizer Documents Analysis Project. This is a joint venture between Steve Bannon's War Room podcast and Naomi Wolf's digital outlet DailyClout. This project has been a major contributor of false narratives around the Pfizer COVID-19 vaccine, and has been a primary promoter of narratives claiming that the vaccine harms human reproduction.

Virologist Claims COVID-19 Vaccines Can Cause Permanent Organ Damage in Children

Source and Description of Threat	On 11 December 2021, the site Global Covid Summit (globalcovidsummit[.]org) published a statement by Dr. Robert Malone, an immunologist who has previously promoted disinformation about the safety and effectiveness of COVID-19 vaccines. The 11 December article is titled “Before your child is injected, watch Dr. Robert Malone’s statement on child COVID vaccinations” (Figure 2). The article consists of a statement by Dr. Malone, in both text and video format, where Dr. Malone claims the reasons behind the push to vaccinate are a lie and that there is no benefit in vaccinating children. Dr. Malone also states that the vaccine “forces your child’s body to make toxic spike proteins. These proteins often cause permanent damage in children’s organs.” The Global Covid Summit website describes itself as an alliance of doctors “committed to speaking truth to power about Covid pandemic research and treatment.” The site primarily hosts anti-vaccine content that promotes misleading information by various medical professionals.

Before your child is injected, watch Dr. Robert Malone's statement on child COVID vaccinations

Before you vaccinate your child, which is irreversible and potentially permanently damaging, find out why 15,000 physicians and medical scientists around the world signed a declaration publicly declaring that healthy children should NOT be vaccinated for COVID-19. On behalf of these MDs and PhDs, Dr. Robert Malone, who has devoted his career to vaccine development, provides parents a clear statement outlining the scientific facts behind this decision.

Anti-Vaxxers Discredit Toddler Vaccines Immediately After Moderna Approval

Source and Description of Threat	On 15 June 2022, the FDA approved Moderna's COVID-19 vaccine for children between six months and five years old. Immediately after the decision was publicized, anti-vaxxers began attacking it in articles and on social media. Such attempts to sow credibility of under-five vaccines have repeated persistent narratives. Common narratives include that the vaccines are ineffective, that children do not need the vaccines due to lower danger from COVID-19, and that the vaccines are harmful.

Naomi Wolf Claims that COVID-19 Vaccines are Preventing Women from Breastfeeding and Poisoning Breastfed Babies

Source and Description of Threat	On 10 June 2022, anti-vaccine activist Naomi Wolf made a variety of false claims around the effects of COVID-19 vaccines on women and infants in an interview with Deanna Lorraine of Red Voice Media. Supposed harms of COVID-19 vaccines to expectant and new mothers form the core of false narratives promoted by Dr. Wolf. In this interview, she claimed that the Pfizer vaccine is causing significant harm to the ability of women to breastfeed, and that as a result the number of U.S women who breastfeed is dropping precipitously. Additionally, she claimed that the vaccine injects poisons into women, including petroleum chemicals, which are then transferred into babies through breastfeeding. Naomi Wolf is a feminist author, media CEO, and conspiracy theorist who has emerged as a leading anti-vaccine voice over the past year. Video of Navy Surgeon Attacking Vaccines Spreading on Russian Social Media

Source and Description of Threat	On 15 June 2022, the VK page Единение (Unity) posted a video of an individual claiming to be a U.S Navy surgeon discussing COVID-19 vaccines. In the video, the surgeon says that there were only 20 active duty deaths from COVID-19 in the U.S military, but that there have been tumors and 80 cases of myocarditis, which she claims has a 66% mortality rate. The surgeon also says that there has been a spike in leukemia cases, vaccine side effects, and almost every other harmful condition among U.S service members. The surgeon then describes COVID-19 vaccines as a weapon of fifth-generation warfare being used to take down Western civilization. The entire video is subtitled in Russian. In the VK post with the video, Единение said in Russian, “The CDC is publishing a hidden Pfizer document that proves that mandatory vaccination rules for the military are illegal. A military surgeon’s proof of high mortality and severe side effects and consequences after vaccination of U.S army soldiers.” Единение’s VK description says, “Spiritual poetry/quotes. Article Suggests that Recent Strokes Among Politicians Due to Vaccines

Source and Description of Threat	On 15 May 2022, an article on the website of digital news aggregator The Liberty Daily reported on two politicians who experienced strokes over the weekend, Pennsylvania Lieutenant Governor and Senate candidate John Fetterman and Maryland U.S Senator Chris Van Hollen. The article notes that the two officials have both been vaccinated and boosted against COVID-19, and mentions other recent strokes and stroke-like symptoms among politicians and celebrities. The article directly suggests that the strokes were caused by COVID-19 vaccines and claims that a broader spike of strokes may be caused by vaccines, and that data must be released to confirm or deny this. Finally, the article suggests that it is suspicious that numerous headline-dominating events such as the leak of a draft Supreme Court opinion have happened recently, and that they may be intended to distract from “official” narratives about the pandemic.

Substack Writer Claims that Vaccine is Responsible for Excessive Deaths

Source and Description of Threat	On 14 May 2022, Substack writer Joel Smalley published an article in which he discusses the excess mortality in the United States before and after the rollout of COVID-19 vaccines. He claims that between the increased number of COVID-19 deaths after vaccine rollout and the increased level of excess mortality, the logical conclusion is that the vaccines have failed to prevent COVID-19 deaths and are actively killing people at a significant rate. Joel Smalley's analysis does not acknowledge the increased infectiousness and resistance to prior immunity of the omicron surge in late 2021, nor does it account for undercounts of COVID-19 deaths. Joel Smalley claims to be conducting pro bono COVID-19 data analysis for legal challenges and independent media; his analysis and writings are regularly anti-vaccine.  GroupSense continues to track multiple disinformation narratives surrounding the vaccine and its distribution. We include below a sample of the most prominent recent narratives and highlight information specific to New York City where applicable.

Vaccine-Skeptic Outlets Promote Claims of Tinnitus after COVID-19 Vaccine

Source and Description of Threat	On 14 March 2022, The Epoch Times published an article reporting on a study conducted by a team of medical researchers regarding incidence of tinnitus in individuals who have been vaccinated against COVID-19. The study notes that this is an infrequent occurrence and emphasizes the value of COVID-19 vaccines, but also notes the need to research and treat this phenomenon. The article does not in of itself state any false information; however, The Epoch Times has promoted anti-vaccine narratives and conspiracy theories previously, and GroupSense has observed the article be shared on Twitter, Facebook, and Gettr as an argument against vaccination.
Reach	This article has been shared by multiple accounts on Facebook, Twitter, and Gettr. A republication of the article by ZeroHedge has received 114,550 views and has received 539 likes and 192 retweets on Twitter.

Vietnamese Anti-Vaxxers Claim that Vaccines Cause Adenoviruses in Children

Source and Description of Threat	In recent weeks, GroupSense researchers have observed narratives in Vietnamese-language channels claiming that COVID-19 vaccines cause adenovirus-based diseases in recipients. Proponents of this narrative have further claimed that these adenoviruses are causing children to get sick and die, and that parents who have their children vaccinated are giving their children over to demons. This narrative has primarily singled out the Oxford/AstraZeneca vaccine for supposed dangers; however, it is likely that it will also be applied to the Johnson & Johnson vaccine given that the latter is also an adenovirus-based vaccine.

Telegram Channel Purporting to Be Robert Malone Promotes Snake Venom Narrative

Source and Description of Threat	On 18 April 2022, the Telegram channel Robert W. Malone created a post claiming that a group of scientists had verified claims of snake venom in COVID-19 vaccines. According to the channel, the scientists discovered that undiluted vials of the Pfizer vaccine contain organoid materials from the venom glands of the king cobra. GroupSense assessed with high confidence that this Telegram channel is not the official channel of prominent anti-vaccine influencer Dr. Robert Malone, but rather one run by supporters. Many posts use first person when discussing statements by Dr. Malone, and other channels have shared posts from this account and seem to believe that its views are either those of or directly endorsed by Dr. Malone. Source and Description of Threat	On 16 April 2022, freelance writer Gregory Hoyt published an article discussing a recent White House equity discussion featuring Cabinet secretaries and presidential policy advisors. At one point, Secretary of Health and Human Services Xavier Becerra says that a year ago, vaccines were killing people of color at rates twice that of white people. In his article, Gregory Hoyt says that this is saying the “quite part out loud,” and suggests that this contradicts White House messaging that COVID-19 vaccines are “safe and effective.” He then promotes several narratives suggesting that the vaccines are dangerous, including the Pfizer documents narrative.

 GroupSense continues to track multiple disinformation narratives surrounding the vaccine and its distribution. We include below a sample of the most prominent recent narratives and highlight information specific to New York City where applicable.

Comedy Duo Claims on Twitter that FDA has announced

Source and Description of Threat	On 17 December 2022, the official account of stand-up comedy and political commentary duo the Hodgetwins tweeted, “So the FDA finally came out and said that Pfizer’s Covid shot causes blood clots? Only 2 years late!” This tweet appears to be the most wide-spread of numerous social media posts claiming that the Food and Drug Administration has stated that mRNA-vaccines cause blood clots at high rates. This narrative is built on misinterpretation of a recently-published study surveilling COVID-19 vaccine safety and adverse reaction signals among elderly populations. This study included several FDA-affiliated researchers among its co-authors. Since 17 December 2022, this narrative has spread rapidly across multiple platforms and been promoted by significant anti-vaccine influencers.
Reach	This tweet received 165.9k likes, 34.6k retweets, and 2,197 quote tweets. The Hodgetwins have 1.6 million followers on Twitter. GroupSense further saw this narrative spread on Gab, Gettr, and Parler. Activist Group Implies that Baby Died After Receiving Vaccinated Blood Transfusion

Source and Description of Threat	On 14 December 2022, anti-vaccine advocacy group Defeat the Mandates posted a thread on Twitter about the death of a newborn infant in Washington named Alex. In the thread, the group claimed that Alex’s parents had sought blood from an unvaccinated donor for a transfusion that Alex needed due to his anemia. The thread claims that the hospital misplaced the blood and instead gave Alex blood from the general stockpile without the parents’ consent. Defeat the Mandates claims that as a result of the transfusion, Alex developed a massive blood clot and died after twelve days. The group further claims that Sacred Heart Children’s Hospital is covering up Alex’s death. This thread heavily implies that infant Alex died from receiving a transfusion from a vaccinated donor, given the attention drawn to efforts to procure an unvaccinated donor and the cause of death (blood clot) being popularly attributed as a side effect of COVID-19 vaccines.
Reach	The initial tweet in this thread received 12.7k likes, 7,157 retweets, and 2,525 quote tweets. This narrative was shared on Substack by anti-vaccine writer Celia Farber. GroupSense has additionally observed it promoted on Facebook, Gettr, Gab, and Telegram.

Polling Company Claims 41% of Americans Have Experienced Vaccine Side Effects

Source and Description of Threat	On 7 December 2022, polling company Rasmussen Reports released a report and an accompanying YouTube video discussing findings from a recent telephone and online poll of 1,000 American adults regarding their feelings toward COVID-19 vaccines. In response to a question about whether an individual experienced side effects after being vaccinated, the company reported that 7% of respondents claimed to experience a major side effect and that 34% claimed to have experienced a minor side effect. In the video discussing the findings, Rasmussen head pollster Mark Mitchell extrapolates these numbers to claim that based on the poll, over 72 million Americans have experienced side effects from COVID-19 vaccines, with 12 million (over eleven times the reported COVID-19 death toll) experiencing major side effects.

Misinformation from NYC-Based Anti-Vaccine Group Spreads in Vietnamese

Source and Description of Threat	Millions Against Medical Mandates (MAMM) is an organization describing itself as a think tank for research on and opposition to medical mandates, including mask and vaccine mandates. The group regularly promotes COVID-19 vaccine misinformation, including claims that the vaccines are dangerous. The group's articles, videos, and podcasts have elevated prominent anti-vaccine advocates, including Robert F. Kennedy Jr., Sherri Tenpenny, and Andrew Wakefield. The group appears to have been founded in 2020, and its headquarters is listed as in New York City. Recently, the homepage of MAMM was shared on the blog of Dr. Hoang Lee, a Vietnamese pharmacist and natural health advocate. Google Drive Folder with Article Screenshots Used to Tie COVID-19 Vaccines to HIV/AIDS

Source and Description of Threat	GroupSense researchers recently identified a Google Drive folder containing screenshots of news articles discussing links between COVID-19 vaccines and HIV/AIDS. Many of the articles are from fake news and conspiracy sites, such as The Exposé and Natural News. Each screenshot is provided in English and Vietnamese, indicating a desire to reach Vietnamese-speaking audiences. The folder was created on 16 April 2022 by a Google Drive user named Connect the Dots and was last modified on 4 May 2022. Dr. Robert Malone Claims that Majority of Vaccinated have Myocarditis

Source and Description of Threat	In a 13 May 2022 episode of The HighWire with Del Bigtree, anti-vaccine influencer Dr. Robert Malone, Dr. Ryan Cole, and Dr. Richard Urso made a variety of false claims. Among these claims, Dr. Malone said that, if one tests the right enzymes, the majority of individuals who have received COVID-19 vaccines may be experiencing myocarditis due to the vaccines. He claims that it has become clear that the vaccines were rushed to production and insufficiently tested, and that they are now causing widespread cardiotoxicity issues. Dr. Malone also claims that 1 in 2,000 to 3,000 male children who have received the Pfizer vaccine have been hospitalized. Finally, he claims that the cardiotoxicity builds with more doses, and thus the risk of myocarditis increases with every dose received. The host of this show is Del Bigtree, an American film producer and the CEO of the Informed Consent Action Network. He has been highly active in anti-vaccine circles since 2003
Reach	This video has received 21,708 views on Rumble. It has been shared on Gettr, Parler, Gab, Twitter, and Facebook. A two-minute clip of the segment where Dr. Malone discusses myocarditis has received hundreds of thousands of views on Twitter.

Recently Observed Mis/Disinformation Potentially Impacting NYC Vaccination Efforts

 GroupSense continues to track multiple disinformation narratives surrounding the vaccine and its distribution. We include below a sample of the most prominent recent narratives and highlight information specific to New York City where applicable.

Alex Berenson Claims that Denmark has Banned Vaccinations for People Under 50

Source and Description of Threat	On 14 September 2022, Alex Berenson published a Substack article claiming that Denmark has banned COVID-19 vaccines for people under the age of fifty. This claim was based on a recent guideline published by the Danish Health Authority regarding its autumn vaccination campaign, which states that updated variant-specific mRNA vaccines will be offered to people over fifty years old categorically and to people under fifty who are at higher risk from COVID-19. This guidance is due to low risk of serious infection for people under fifty and the majority of Danes in this age demographic COVID-19 immunity due to previous vaccine series and natural infection. However, Alex Berenson claims that this guidance proves that the Danish Health Authority has assessed that the risks of COVID-19 vaccines outweigh the benefits for people who are not in high-risk demographics. Alex Berenson is an NYC-based novelist and former The New York Times journalist. He is a prominent anti-vaccine influencer.

Unreported Truths

Su

Denmark ENDS Covid vaccinations for almost everyone under 50.

Remember mandatory vaccinations? This is, well, the opposite. We've come a long way in a year. Except at American colleges - which, insanely, are forcing mRNA boosters on students.

Denmark will bar almost everyone under 50 from receiving more mRNA Covid jabs, the Danish Health Authority said yesterday.

Denmark had already ended Covid shots for nearly everyone under 18. The new rules go much further.

Danes under 50 will only be allowed to receive the shots if they are "higher risk of becoming severely [emphasis added] from Covid-19."

The Danish Health Authority has not yet defined those groups, but they will likely include only a handful of people, such as those receiving cancer treatments that suppress their immune systems. Pregnant women are unlikely to be included.

Denmark did not explicitly say the risks of mRNA jabs now outweigh their benefits for healthy people under 50.

Anti-Vaxxers Promote Study Suggesting that COVID-19 Vaccines Negatively Affect Corneal Transplants

Source and Description of Threat	In the past week, multiple high-profile anti-vaccine activists have promoted a study by a team of medical researchers from Japan that was published in Journal of Clinical Medicine. The researchers found that COVID-19 vaccination may cause an individual's body to reject a corneal transplant due to vaccine-induced inflammation. The researchers do not conclude that the vaccines are dangerous, but encourage further research on this phenomena in order to understand the causes and address future challenges. Many anti-vaxxers on social media have interpreted this story as additional proof that COVID-19 vaccines are dangerous. Narratives surrounding this study include that it is evidence that COVID-19 vaccines negatively impact other medical procedures and that the transplant rejections are caused by spike proteins and lipid nanoparticles in the vaccines.

The Gateway Pundit Claims that Canadian Study Proves Vaccines are Ineffective

Source and Description of Threat	On 19 September 2022, The Gateway Pundit published an article claiming that a study prepared by independent researchers for the Canadian Liberal Party proves that COVID-19 vaccines are ineffective by looking at Ontario vaccine data. The study claims that vaccines do not prevent serious hospitalization or death in people under sixty years old. Additionally, the study claims that five times as many vaccinated as unvaccinated individuals are hospitalized in Ontario with COVID-19, with no reference to Ontario's high vaccination rate. The study as reported by The Gateway Pundit claims that Canadian vaccine policies should cease immediately due to the supposed dangers of the vaccines. Misleading Tweet Suggests that Masks and Vaccines Have Failed to Reduce COVID-19 Spread in NYC

Source and Description of Threat	On 17 December 2021, @ianmSC tweeted a graph showing average COVID-19 case numbers in New York City since 16 June 2021. The graph includes the dates of major recent events in NYC's COVID-19 response. @ianmSC accompanied the graph with the message: "Cases in New York City have nearly doubled in just 11 days since the mayor announced a vaccine mandate for private businesses, yet he's doing celebratory media tours and promoting stricter mandates while ignoring that his policies are currently failing. The gaslighting is endless." The tweet leaves out important context surrounding the case numbers, including the expected holiday and winter surge, the spread of the more contagious omicron variant, and the dates on which policies took effect (rather than the dates they were announced.) @ianmSC regularly posts tweets expressing skepticism of the efficacy of vaccines and masks in reducing the spread of COVID-19. Their tweets frequently take the form of posting graphs of rising cases in cities in countries and criticizing masking and vaccination policies. In addition, they maintain a Substack newsletter titled "Unmasked" where they regularly post long-form articles with similar themes to their tweets.

GroupSense continues to track multiple disinformation narratives surrounding the vaccine and its distribution. We include below a sample of the most prominent recent narratives and highlight information specific to New York City where applicable.

Following CDC Report, Surge in Claims that Natural Immunity is Superior to Vaccines

Source and Description of Threat	On 19 January 2022, the Centers for Disease Control released a study on COVID-19 cases in New York and California from May to November 2021. This study found that infection rates were lower among individuals who had previously contracted and then recovered from COVID-19 than they were among those who had only been vaccinated against the virus. However, the authors included a variety of caveats, including that this study was conducted before the omicron variant (which is known to be much more resistant to both vaccination and prior infection) became the dominant variant in the United States. On Twitter, numerous users have cited this study as evidence that natural immunity is superior to vaccination as a protection strategy against COVID-19. Many individuals are using this argument to deride the efficacy of vaccines, attack vaccine mandates, and accuse the media of a coverup. Some individuals, such as Becker News CEO Kyle Becker, are calling on people to use this study as evidence when suing cities that have implemented vaccine mandates, including New York City.
Reach	Tweets espousing this narrative are receiving likes and retweets in the tens of thousands. Kyle Becker's tweet calling for lawsuits against New York City has received 14k likes, 4,356 retweets, and 165 quote tweets.

NYC Specifics	The CDC study was conducted on COVID-19 cases in New York state, which are concentrated in New York City. Additionally, New York City was singled out by Kyle Becker as a city that should be sued for vaccine discrimination in wake of the release of the study.

New or evolving narrative?	Evolving narrative: superiority of natural immunity over COVID-19 vaccines has been a consistent narrative for the past year; however, GroupSense expects that this study will likely be triggerh a significant surge in promotion of natural immunity over vaccines, and may be misrepresented to portray vaccines as ineffective.
Response	GroupSense will continue monitoring for the spread of this narrative and misuse of the CDC study.

Widely-Shared Facebook Post Uses Video to Suggest Vaccines are Dangerous

Source and Description of Threat	On 16 January 2022, Facebook user Bing Raterta Gadian posted a video of a man writhing on the ground and moaning as onlookers speaking Russian try to decide how to help. In Cebuano, Bing Raterta Gadian claimed that the man was suffering a severe reaction after receiving a COVID-19 vaccine. The video was posted to an album called "COVID HEALTH PROTOCOLS & VACCINATION." Some commenters are disputing the post, claiming that the video is actually of a man having a severe reaction to a street drug called flakka. The video itself was watermarked from the video-sharing site Leaked Reality, but GroupSense was not able to find it on the site. Bing Raterta Gadian self-reports as residing in Cagayan de Oro, Philippines. When those "cops" get to the pearly gates one day they will find they don't have the right papers to enter either. I just hope law & order are restored in our country soon so they can face the music at a modern Nuremberg Trial. "Following orders" doesn't cut it—not then, and not now.

This is why you don't trust thugs in state costumes with a badge. They better pick a side and stop issuing unlawful orders. I already have no sympathy for the things that already happen to them. I actually applaud the tragic things that happen to them at this point.

Recently Observed Mis/Disinformation Potentially Impacting NYC Vaccination Efforts

GroupSense continues to track multiple disinformation narratives surrounding the vaccine and its distribution. We include below a sample of the most prominent recent narratives and highlight information specific to New York City where applicable.

Twitter User Suggests Vaccines are Causing Brain Injuries

Source and Description of Threat	On 16 June 2022, anti-vaccine influencer Dr. PeterMcCullough tweeted, “Berild, et al, JAMA, Norway, Finland, Denmark staggering brain damage data (p<0.05) N=7757 persons occurring<28 days of administration. Censored at before infection so cannot blame the virus as a causative agent. Many of these clinical events are disabling. All should be pulled.” This tweet references a study that found higher rates of coagulation disorders and cerebrovascular conditions associated with the Astrazeneca vaccine. However, Dr. McCullough does not link to the study, which did not find the same relationship for mRNA vaccines, and thus takes it out of context to imply that the Pfizer and Moderna COVID-19 vaccines should be pulled from the market. This tweet was quote tweeted by another Twitter with a significant following, @PiotrWitczak_. This account tweeted, “Increased rate of hospital contacts for clotting disorders and cerebrovascular disease <28 days after AstraZeneca vaccination and mRNA in NOR, FIN and DEN/Virus association excluded/By 16/05/21 almost 8,000 cases of severe brain damage <28 days post c19 vaccination” (translated from Polish). This tweet echoes the out-of-context claims regarding mRNA vaccines that were made by Dr. McCullough. @PiotrWitczak_ gives their name as Piotr Witczak and describes themselves as holding a Ph.D in medical biology and immunology in their Twitter bio. They self-report as living in Warsaw, Poland and frequently share anti-vaccine content in Polish on their account.
Reach	Dr. McCullough’s tweet received 2,489 likes, 1,431 retweets, and 76 tweets. His account has 478.5k followers. @PiotrWitczak_’s tweet received 381 likes, 120 retweets, and 3 quote tweets.

Source and Description of Threat	On 19 October 2022 an online actor called Himalaya Oxford Visionary Farm shared a 1:25 video clip from the podcast War Room across multiple platforms. In the clip, dated to 3 October 2022, host Steve Bannon interviews anti-vaccine activists Naomi Wolf and Amy Kelly. In her response, Naomi Wolf claims that released documents from Pfizer demonstrate that the company's COVID-19 vaccine does "360 degree" harm to human reproduction. Political Commentator Claims CDC Has Decided to Mandate Vaccines for K-12 Students

Source and Description of Threat	On 18 October 2022 political commentator Tucker Carlson claimed on his show Tucker Carlson Tonight that the CDC Advisory Board for Immunization Practices is about to add the COVID-19 vaccine to its list of required vaccines for children attending public school. Following this claim, he interviewed Dr. Martin Makary, who claimed that there is no medical basis for such a decision and that requiring these vaccines may result in mass myocarditis among children. In his statements and tweets about the topic, Tucker Carlson did not acknowledge that the CDC does not have the authority to mandate vaccines in schools, which is a decision made at the state level. Tucker Carlson is a Fox News political commentator and regularly promotes false narratives around COVID-19 vaccines on his show. Radio Station Suggests on Twitter that Vaccines are Killing Children in Philippines

Source and Description of Threat	On 19 October 2022, the Twitter account of UK-based Mum Says Radio tweeted, “Investigations have begun to see why 160 children died in the Philippines after taking the vaccine. Reports have suggested that it was the vaccines. Aljazeera reports.” Accompanying the tweet is a news segment from Al-Jazeera reporting on how conspiracy theorists backed by the Philippine Public Attorney’s Office have attributed the deaths of children to a vaccine for dengue fever. Source and Description of Threat	On 19 April 2022, Jennifer Sey tweeted, “My husband gave blood today. They only test the unvaxxed for antibodies & if they have them, they use their blood as treatment for those at risk of adverse outcomes. Why can't they use blood of vaxxed who also had Covid? Real question for MDs. What's wrong with vaxxed blood?” This tweet has been met with numerous replies claiming that this occurrence is proof that the vaccines are toxic, cause disorders, and are otherwise bad for health. Jennifer Sey is a former member of the U.S Women’s National Gymnastics and past brand president at Levi’s. Substack Writer Promotes Recently Reemerged SM-102 Narrative

Source and Description of Threat	On 21 April 2022, Substack writer Jessica Rose published an article discussing the lipid SM-102, which is an ingredient in the Moderna COVID-19 vaccine. In the article, Jessica Rose amplifies claims that SM-102 is toxic, at one point using the same screenshots that GroupSense reported to VCC in our cadence report of 4 April 2022. Among her claims, she suggests that SM-102 may make the Moderna vaccine carcinogenic. This narrative originally emerged in spring 2021, and appears to be experiencing a resurgence in recent weeks. Jessica Rose is an independent Canadian researcher with a background in computational biology. Tagalog-Speaking Anti-Vaxxer Uses “Snake Bite” as Code for Vaccine on Facebook Live

Source and Description of Threat	On 18 April 2022, Facebook user Gemma Parina Decin held a Facebook Live to promote a favored political candidate. She also attacked COVID-19 vaccines as dangerous during the video. In the video, Gemma Parina Decin uses the term “tuklaw ng ahas,” which translates to “snake bite,” to refer to the vaccine. This term could serve as a way to evade keyword-based social media restrictions on vaccine misinformation. Additionally, if this term crosses over to English-speaking audiences, it may further enable the newly-emerged narrative that COVID-19 vaccines are made with snake venom. Equity Investor Claims that Stock Trends Prove that COVID-19 Vaccines Kill

Source and Description of Threat	On 117 February 2022, equity investor Edward Dowd appeared on The Alex Jones Show. In the interview, Mr. Dowd claimed that the stock value of Moderna and Pfizer is plummeting due to Wall Street insiders receiving news that the companies’ COVID-19 vaccine trials were fraudulent and that the vaccines are killing people. He goes on to claim that vaccine deaths and cracking down on anti-mandate protests are methods that global elites are using to distract from an incoming sovereign debt crisis. The same day, Mr. Dowd tweeted “Funeral Homes...a picture is worth a thousand words. From $SCI 10K...notice the acceleration in stock returns starting in 2021 (vax rollout began). Both $SCI & peer group were up more than +40% versus $SPX +26%. Case closed IMHO.” Accompanying the tweet was a graph of stock trends for Service Corporation International (stock ticker SCI), a provider of funerary services. Mr. Dowd suggests that stock value for SCI grew dramatically in response to COVID-19 vaccine rollout due to investors knowing that the vaccines would kill people. Edward Dowd is a consultant at Symphonic Capital and formerly worked as equity portfolio manager at BlackRock. He regularly promotes anti-vaccine and conspiracy theory narratives on his Twitter account, @DowdEdward.
Reach	Alex Jones’s interview with Edward Dowd received 933,848 views on the channel The Alex Jones Show on Banned.video. Revelations About CDC Data Withholding Seized Upon by Anti-Vaxxers

Source and Description of Threat	On 20 February 2022, The New York Times reported that the Centers for Disease Control has not made public the bulk of its collected data regarding COVID-19. When interviewed by NYT, CDC spokesperson Kristen Nordlund said that the agency was slow to publish data due to a desire to ensure that it was accurate and actionable, as well as out of a concern that the data would be misinterpreted. The news has been met with outrage by many anti-vaccine and anti-mandate users on Twitter. It has been used to argue that the CDC is corrupt/incompetent and has lied to the public, and has been interpreted to suggest that data showing that the vaccines are dangerous or ineffective has been suppressed by the federal government.

Video of Doctor Claiming to See Widespread Vaccine Injuries Gains Popularity on VK

Source and Description of Threat	On 19 February 2022, the VK page Николай Левашов – Путь к развитию (translation: Nikolai Levashov - Path to Development) posted a video of a Russian therapist named Sofiya Alexandrovna Naumenko speaking at a panel on COVID-19 vaccines. Dr. Naumenko claims to have seen both immediate and widespread complications among individuals who have received the COVID-19 vaccine. She says that the vaccines are causing all the same symptoms as the disease does, as well as causing neurological conditions, and that their use must be stopped immediately. The original video was posted to YouTube by an account called Tsarkrest. GroupSense was not able to find the channel or video on YouTube, suggesting both had been taken down. However, a brief view of the channel in the VK video shows a logo similar to that of Движение Царский Крест (Tsar's Cross Movement), a Russian nationalist group. GroupSense was not able to find details on Dr. Naumenko. Popular Anti-Vaccine News Outlet Claims Canadian Government Stats Show Triple Vaccinated Developing AIDS

Source and Description of Threat	On 20 March 2022, the British conspiracy news outlet The Exposé published an article discussing Canadian vaccination data. Among various false claims, the article claims that Canadian government data shows that individuals who have received two initial doses of a COVID-19 vaccine plus a booster have lost 73% of their immune capability relative to unvaccinated individuals, which would demonstrate a form of acquired immunodeficiency syndrome (AIDS). The article additionally claims that boosted individuals are 3.7 times more likely to contract COVID-19 than unvaccinated individuals and are 5.1 times more likely to die from the disease than the unvaccinated. These claims are in keeping with The Exposé's typical narrative methods, which frequently rely on the manipulation of public health statistics to portray COVID-19 vaccines as dangerous.
Reach	The Exposé posted this article four separate times to Twitter, where it received a total of 520 likes and 413 retweets. The outlet has 16.1k followers on Twitter. The article was also posted to the official The Exposé Telegram channel, where it received 1,450 views. It has also been shared on Gettr and Facebook. Additionally, GroupSense observed the article be republished by numerous other conspiracy and anti-vaccine news sites.

New Zealand Court Ruling Renews Narrative of Aborted Cells in Vaccines

Source and Description of Threat	On 25 February 2022, the High Court of New Zealand ruled that a vaccine mandate for the country's police and defense forces is unlawful due to placing an undue burden on members' rights to manifest their religion. This ruling was in response to a suit claiming that such a mandate violated freedom of religion for the petitioners due to their pro-life beliefs and belief that COVID-19 vaccines were developed using cells from aborted fetuses. In recent days, GroupSense has observed multiple anti-vaccine news outlets reporting on this ruling and the arguments presented, such as U.S.-based Vaccine.news and Canada-based LifeSiteNews. Such articles have frequently treated the claim that COVID-19 vaccines were developed with or contain cells from aborted fetuses as fact.

Substack Writer Claims that CDC's Own Data Shows that Vaccines are More Dangerous to Children than COVID

Source and Description of Threat	On 18 March 2022, Substack writer El Gato Malo posted an article discussing CDC data regarding COVID-19 vaccination among children. Comparing data regarding reduced hospitalizations from vaccination to hospitalizations after vaccination reported in the CDC's V-Safe monitoring system, the author claims that vaccinating every child aged 5-11 in the U.S would only prevent 300 COVID-19 hospitalizations a week while causing 75,000 hospitalizations from vaccine side effects. While correctly following strictly from the data El Gato Malo provides, this analysis fails to consider a variety of key factors, such as the self-reporting nature of the V-Safe system, the relative severity and duration of COVID-19 hospitalizations versus vaccine hospitalizations, and the possible effects of long COVID in children. El Gato Malo regularly writes anti-vaccine articles on Substack. They appear to have had a significant following on Twitter before being banned in March. one fact in medical care is unarguable:

medical interventions are everywhere and always a risk/benefit calculation.

this is just bedrock reality. nothing is free. you must always compare that which a treatment will gain you to that which it will cost you. you must weigh risk as well as reward.

anyone pushing just reward is lying to you.

i could douse you in gasoline and light you on fire. it would reduce your chance of being stung by a bee.

seem like a good trade?

and the CDC is, yet again, failing to do this or even acknowledge the concept.

Brighteon TV Founder Claims that Vaccines Inject Self-Assembling Circuits

Source and Description of Threat	On 19 August 2022, Red Voice Media commentator Jane Ruby interviewed Mike Adams, the founder of the alt-tech video platform Brighteon TV. In the interview, Mike Adams claimed to have analyzed white clots that were supposedly extracted from the cadavers of deceased vaccinated people by embalmers. He claims that these are in fact not blood clots, but rather metallic, self-assembling circuits that have been injected by COVID-19 vaccines. Mike Adams claims that these circuits block all blood flow and can kill a person if dislodged.

The Exposé Claims that VAERS Reports Prove that COVID-19 Vaccines Cause Cancer

Source and Description of Threat	On 21 August 2022, the British conspiracy outlet The Exposé published an article claiming that the United States government's own data proves that COVID-19 vaccines cause cancer. The article claims that VAERS reports to the CDC listed 2,579 adverse events related to cancer between December 2020 and August 2022. The article claims that between 2008 and 2020 there were only 791 adverse events related to cancer. The article disputes possible objections that this number is due to the volume of COVID-19 vaccines administered in that period by claiming that over three times as many flu vaccines were administered between 2008 and 2020 with far fewer cancer incidents. As a result, the article concludes that COVID-19 vaccines increase an individual's risk of cancer by 143,233%.

Naomi Wolf Suggests that Participants in NIH-Moderna Vaccine Trial May Have Died

UK Doctors Call For Government Investigation Of mRNA Covid Vaccines

Doctors for Patients UK (DFPUK) was launched in September 2022 and has become a fast-growing group of UK doctors who are dedicated to practising ethical, evidence-based, patient-centred medicine. Our group was borne out of increasing concerns that core principles of medical ethics are being disregarded, such as the oath to "First do no harm", respect for individual bodily autonomy and the need to obtain full and informed consent for all medical interventions.

Dr Rohaan Seth
Former General Practitioner

Important: If sharing the video please link to this page to avoid bandwidth / censorship issues. (alternative video-streams below)

Many doctors, in the UK and internationally, have become increasingly concerned about the safety profile of Covid-19 vaccines and the continued rollout of these products to the public, including pregnant women and children. Several doctors in DFPUK have submitted multiple Yellow Card reports of adverse events to the MHRA, and have signed letters to the JCVI, MHRA, the RCOG, Prime Minister and others to express their concerns, but have seen little or no response or action taken.

They have, therefore, now compiled the video above in which they share their individual perspectives, clinical experiences and serious ethical concerns, in the hope that urgent action will finally be taken by the authorities.

Haitian and Diaspora News Outlets Express Concern Regarding U.S Donation of Johnson & Johnson Vaccines

Source and Description of Threat	On 19 December 2021, the United States Embassy to Haiti announced that Haiti had received 108,000 doses of the Johnson & Johnson COVID-19 vaccine donated by the United States via the global COVAX initiative. This announcement was met with skepticism by several Haitian and diaspora media outlets, including New York - based The Haitian Times. These outlets expressed concern regarding the U.S donation immediately following the Centers for Disease Control's recommendation on 16 December that U.S citizens receive the Pfizer and Moderna vaccines over Johnson & Johnson due to a small number of blood-clotting cases related to the latter. An article from NetAIKoi Media asked, "Why do [the CDC] advise against the [Johnson & Johnson] vaccine for American citizens, yet ship it to Haiti?" Another article on HaitiLibre[.]com said, "However, what the press release does not say is that Denmark has since May 3, 2021 abandoned the use of the Johnson & Johnson vaccine due to the (very low but existing) risks of atypical thrombosis."

"We are pleased to announce that Haiti's Ministry of Public Health and Population has received a donation of 108,000 Johnson & Johnson COVID-19 vaccines from the United States through the COVAX program. We are grateful for the collaborations that help fight the Covid-19 pandemic" said the United States Embassy in Haiti.

Recall that after the refusal of 756,000 doses of the AstraZeneca vaccine <https://www.haitilibre.com/en/news-33423-haiti-flash-haiti-refuses-a-donation-of-756-000-doses-of-the-who-astrazeneca-vaccine.html> who would have caused the ten cases of thrombosis (out of more than 20 million injections) which would be linked to the AstraZeneca vaccine, the Ministry of Health had asked the WHO to send it laboratory vaccines (J&J) (which is also not free from rare side effects). <https://www.haitilibre.com/en/news-33448-haiti-health-the-minister-of-health-wants-another-vaccine-than-astrazeneca.html> Note that the vaccine (J&J) requires only a single injection, which means that a person will only need to take one dose and it can be stored at temperatures between 2 and 8 degrees Celsius.

TikTok Account Spreads Misinformation Regarding New York State Assembly Bills Pertaining to Vaccination

Source and Description of Threat	On 18 December 2021, TikTok user @thetruthsetsfree posted a video of a man reading a list of New York State Assembly bills pertaining to vaccinations: A8378, A279A, A7289, A2240, A8398, S3041 (called A3091 in the video), and A416. The bills, all of which are in committee (except A416, which has been stricken since posting) are portrayed as grave and immediate threats to New Yorker's liberties. One of the bills, A729A, is greatly misconstrued: the man claims it will force all New York residents nineteen years and older who have been vaccinated to register in a state database. In reality, the bill requires physicians to report such vaccinations after administering, but only with the patient's consent. The account @thetruthsetsfree regularly posts content promoting conspiracy theories related to the COVID-19 pandemic, vaccines, Satanism, and the Illuminati.
Reach	This video has been viewed 492.7k times and received 54.1k likes on TikTok. The account @truthsetsfree has 97.6k followers.
Demography	Emphasis in the video on bills requiring vaccinations for children to attend daycare and school and allowing minors fourteen years old and up to decide on vaccinations for themselves could be seen as appealing to parents.
Geography	New York State
Language	English
NYC Specifics	The video is about bills in the New York State Assembly, which would likely affect New York City residents.
New or evolving narrative?	Narratives around Bill A416 in relation to the COVID-19 pandemic first emerged early last year. Such narratives experienced a strong resurgence in the past week, with claims that it would be passed on January 5. The other bills appear to have been lumped in with these narratives very recently.

New Study About Vaccine Adverse Events Going Viral Among Anti-Vaxxers

Source and Description of Threat	On 23 June 2022, the Social Science Research Network posted a preprint study by a mostly-American team of medical researchers concerning serious adverse events from COVID-19 vaccines. The study found that during trials, the Pfizer and Moderna vaccines increased the risk of serious adverse events among participants at a rate higher than they prevented hospitalization from COVID-19. The study did not differentiate patients by demographic factors or underlying conditions, and did not take a stance on whether these vaccines should be used. This study has quickly spread among anti-vaccine channels on social media. Numerous anti-vax influencers and outlets have begun pointing to the study as further proof that COVID-19 vaccines are dangerous and ineffective. It is likely that this study will continue to be discussed and utilized to discredit vaccines for the coming weeks.

UK Doctor Claims Pfizer Vaccine Causes COVID-19 in Children

Source and Description of Threat	In a video posted to YouTube and Twitter, British pathologist Dr. Clare Craig criticized the FDA's granting of emergency use authorization on children under five to Pfizer's COVID-19 vaccine. While criticizing Pfizer's trial that was used to justify the decision, Dr. Craig claims that based on the numbers of COVID-19 cases among participants, it is more likely that the vaccines actually gave the children COVID-19 than it is that they contracted it. Additionally, she attacks the ethics of carrying out the study, and further claims that COVID-19 does not naturally affect children. Dr. Clare Craig is a member of Health Advisory and Recovery Group, a UK-based organization of doctors who are skeptical of COVID-19 vaccines.

Naturopath Claims that Vaccines Inject Nanowires that are Used to Torture and Spy on Vaccinated

Source and Description of Threat	In a 17 June 2022 interview on The Stew Peters Show, naturopath Ariyana Love claimed to explain a variety of bizarre structures that are supposedly being injected into people via COVID-19 vaccines. She claims that these structures are transmitters and nanowires that are used to build “tissue scaffolding” within the body. According to Ariyana Love, these can then be used to spy on people, control their minds, and generate massive heat that can fry the vaccinated from the inside out. Ariyana Love is an American naturopath who has long promoted narratives that claim that various vaccines are used for technological mind control of human beings. Amplification in Claims that Child was Arrested During Museum of Natural History Protest

Source and Description of Threat	Over the weekend, GroupSense saw a significant surge in interest regarding the 18 January 2022 arrest of five protesters and detainment of a young girl at the New York City Museum of Natural History. Numerous anti-vaccine and anti-mandate activists and influencers have seized on this event to attack NYC vaccine policies. False claims have spread quickly that the girl was handcuffed and arrested. Many social media posts about the incident feature an article from the British tabloid The Daily Mail that claims the girl was arrested in the headline. Narratives surrounding this incident portray NYC vaccine policies as abuses of power, harmful to children, and as a misuse of city resources at a time of high crime rates.

TikTok Suggests that Lack of Package Insert with Vaccine is Evidence of Foul Play

Source and Description of Threat	On 21 January 2022, TikTok account @vaccinepolice1 posted a video in which the owner of the account, Christopher Key, questions pharmacists about the package insert with a COVID-19 vaccine being blank. He suggests that the blank insert, which would normally list ingredients, is suspicious and evidence of foul play. He then goes on to claim that an affidavit in Alabama testifies that 45,000 people recently died from the COVID-19 vaccine, that VAERS shows 20,000 deaths from vaccines, that a dossier proves the pandemic was planned and that the vaccines are a bioweapon, and that the vaccines violate the Nuremberg Code. GroupSense continues to track multiple disinformation narratives surrounding the vaccine and its distribution. We include below a sample of the most prominent recent narratives and highlight information specific to New York City where applicable.

Anti-Vaxxers Claim Health Issues for Tennis Champ Spring from Vaccine

Source and Description of Threat	On 21 March 2022, world champion tennis player Rafael Nadal experienced breathing difficulties and chest pain while competing in the Indian Wells Masters tournament. The athlete's health problem has since been determined to have been caused by a stress fracture in one of his ribs. However, anti-vaccine advocates have used the incident as evidence of harms caused by COVID-19 vaccines. One of the most prominent instances is a 21 March 2022 tweet by Australian Member of Parliament Craig Kelly. MP Kelly tweeted, "Well, well ... 'When I try to breathe, it's painful, and it's very uncomfortable. It's like a needle all the time inside. I get dizzy a little bit because it's painful. It's a kind of pain that limit me a lot' said Nadal...I wonder what Djokovic would say." This is a reference to Novak Djokovic, another champion tennis player who has been barred from multiple tournaments (including the Australian Open) for his refusal to be vaccinated against COVID-19. Craig Kelly has been known to promote falsehoods regarding COVID-19.
Reach	Craig Kelly's tweet received 10.6k likes, 3,439 retweets, and 420 quote tweets. This narrative has gained traction on Twitter, Getter, Gab, and Parler. It has been promoted by prominent British conspiracy theorist David Icke. On Facebook, GroupSense saw it promoted in a Cebuano-language video by a Philippines-based anti-vaccine user. This video has received 2.5k views.

Russian Disinformation Renews Narrative that COVID-19 is a U.S Bioweapon

Source and Description of Threat	Early in the pandemic, Russian sources promoted narratives claiming that COVID-19 was a U.S bioweapon. Such disinformation narratives have come to the fore again in recent weeks due to Russia's invasion of Ukraine, which has been justified in part due to the presence of U.S biolabs on Ukrainian territory. Russian accusations that these labs are manufacturing bioweapons have become one of the most salient disinformation narratives to emerge during the war so far. For example, on 13 March 2022 Russian media outlet Fondsk published an article claiming that COVID-19 was made by the United States as a bioweapon. The evidence given for this claim is the number of U.S biolabs in Ukraine and other countries, and the fact that U.S adversaries China and Iran were among the first countries to experience severe waves of the virus. Fondsk is a website of the Strategic Culture Foundation, a Russian think tank that was sanctioned by the United States for promoting disinformation during the 2020 presidential election. It is alleged to have ties to the Russian intelligence services.

 GroupSense continues to track multiple disinformation narratives surrounding the vaccine and its distribution. We include below a sample of the most prominent recent narratives and highlight information specific to New York City where applicable.

Prominent Archbishop Publishes Letter Promoting Falsehoods About COVID-19 Vaccines

Source and Description of Threat	On 18 October 2022, Catholic archbishop and former Apostolic Nuncio (Vatican ambassador) to the United States Carlo Maria Viganò released a letter addressed to multiple high officials in the Catholic Church concerning COVID-19 vaccines. In the letter, Archbishop Viganò claimed that the vaccines are dangerous gene therapy and urged officials to retract the Catholic Church's endorsement of the vaccines. The archbishop promoted a variety of false claims in his letter, including that the vaccines cause cancer, cardiovascular damage, and infertility.
Reach	This letter has been republished by numerous anti-vaccine media outlets, including The Gateway Pundit , NewsPunch , and LifeSiteNews . GroupSense observed this letter shared on Facebook, Twitter, Gettr, Gab, and Telegram. It has been translated into Spanish and Polish.

Your Eminence,

Last year, on October 23, 2021, I wrote a letter to the President of the United States Bishops' Conference, which was also sent to you, in which I expressed – as I have already done publicly – my very strong reservations on various extremely controversial aspects regarding the moral legitimacy of the use of experimental gene serums produced using mRNA technology. In that letter, which was written with the help of eminent scientists and virologists, I highlighted the need to update the Note on the morality of using some anti-Covid-19 vaccines, due to the scientific

Article Claims that 500 Children Hospitalized for Every Life Saved By Vaccination

Source and Description of Threat	On 24 October 2022, anti-vaccine digital outlet The Daily Skeptic published an article by its editor Will Jones concerning a recent study published by The Journal of the American Medical Association (JAMA). The study compared the safety of the Pfizer-BioNTech COVID-19 vaccine for children to the safety of non-COVID-19 vaccines. The study found that adverse reactions to the vaccine among children were comparable to those from other vaccines. However, in his article, Will Jones claims that extrapolation from the data demonstrates that 1 in 500 children in the study were hospitalized from COVID-19 vaccines. As a result, he claims that 1 in 500 children are hospitalized post-vaccination across the board, which he then says means that when compared to COVID-19 mortality rates, effectively 500 or more children are hospitalized for every one life saved by a COVID-19 vaccine. Will Jones is a British political philosophy Ph.D and anti-vaccine writer.

YouTube Video Claims that Pandemic was Planned to Distribute Killer Vaccines

Source and Description of Threat	On 18 October 2022 the Tagalog-language YouTube channel Propesiya TV (translation: Prophecy TV) posted a video in which a narrator claims that the COVID-19 pandemic was pre-planned. The video claims that this is proven in part by the supposed fact that the vaccines were in development for six years before the pandemic began. The video further claims that the vaccines are a plot by anti-Christian dark forces to kill people.

Recently Observed Mis/Disinformation Potentially Impacting NYC Vaccination Efforts

 GroupSense continues to track multiple disinformation narratives surrounding the vaccine and its distribution. We include below a sample of the most prominent recent narratives and highlight information specific to New York City where applicable.

Article Implies that Death During Moderna Booster Trial Proves Dangers of Vaccine

Source and Description of Threat	On 22 April 2022, Truth Press published an article claiming that Moderna is obscuring information about deaths during clinical trials for its COVID-19 booster shot. In a recently-released report, the company notes that a 72-year-old man died nine days after receiving his trial vaccine, but that medical investigators had concluded that the death was not in connection to the vaccine. However, the Truth Press article insinuates that the death was in the connection to the vaccine and was not sufficiently looked at by federal drug safety officials. The article also suggests that the fact that a 100 mg dose of the booster produced side effects is evidence that receiving multiple rounds of the Moderna vaccine is dangerous.

Former Health Economist Promotes Snake Venom Narrative

Source and Description of Threat	On 22 April 2022, political pundit and former health economist Dr. Jane Ruby released an episode of her online show in which interviewed Dr. Bryan Ardis, the originator of the narrative that mRNA COVID-19 vaccines contain snake venom. Jane Ruby echoes and amplifies Dr. Ardis's claims in the video. Additionally, she amplifies claims that snake venom peptides have been observed in the fluid of the vaccines. Jane Ruby has frequently echoed false claims regarding COVID-19 vaccines. British Commentator Claims that Triple-Vaccinated People are Much More Likely to Contract and Die from COVID than Unvaccinated.

Source and Description of Threat	On 22 April 2022, British commentator Mark Steyn claimed in his show on GB News that individuals who have received two doses of a COVID-19 vaccine plus a booster are contracting the disease at twice the rate of unvaccinated people. He further claims that those who have been boosted are dying from COVID-19 at three times the rate. He bases these claims on data from the United Kingdom Health Security Agency. Mark Steyn is the latest among prominent British anti-vaccine advocates who have misinterpreted data from the HSA to make these claims.

Former Biology Professors Promote Anti-Vaccine Narratives in YouTube Video

Source and Description of Threat	On 13 August 2022, podcasters Bret Weinstein and Heather Heying posted a Q&A video to YouTube. In the video, in which they took listener questions about managing their personal and family health, the two promoted a variety of false narratives about COVID-19 vaccines. The podcasters claimed that COVID-19 vaccines do not meet the medical definition of vaccines, that they should not be given to children, and that they are poisonous. Bret Weinstein and Heather Heying are former biology professors who became podcasters after resigning their positions at Evergreen State University. Nutritionist Suggests Clinical Trial for Vaccine Useless Following Respiratory Infections in Recipients

Source and Description of Threat	On 17 August 2022, Twitter user Chris Masterjohn tweeted, “Kids randomized to Moderna had more total upper respiratory infections than kids randomized to placebo, but FDA agrees with Moderna that it is ‘unrelated to the vaccine,’ thereby eliminating the whole point of a randomized controlled trial.” Attached to his tweet was a screenshot that appears to be taken from FDA documents regarding Moderna clinical trials for the latter’s COVID-19 vaccine. The document reports that the experimental group for the study experienced higher rates of upper respiratory infections than the control group, but that the FDA concurred with Moderna researchers that the cases were within the range of normal incidents and not cause for concern. In his tweet, Chris Masterjohn suggests that these cases are indeed caused by the vaccine, and that clinical trials for vaccines are useless if the FDA agrees with industry research regarding such a finding. Chris Masterjohn is a New York City-based nutritionist and Substack writer. Spanish Politician and Journalist Shares Clip Promoting Vaccine Immunosuppression Narrative

Source and Description of Threat	In a 21 July 2022 episode of his nightly show, political commentator Tucker Carlson promoted a study by prominent anti-vaccine advocates Stephanie Seneff and Peter McCullough that claimed to find that COVID-19 vaccines cause widespread immunosuppression, DNA damage, and neurodegenerative disease in recipients. Since then, clips from that broadcast have been spreading widely online since. On 23 August 2022, one such clip was shared on Twitter by verified user Bea Talegón. Along with the clip, Bea Talegón tweeted, “Estudios de los que no os van a hablar en los medios al servicio de las farmas. Estudios que señalan que las personas con dos dosis de las “vacunas” contra el COVID tienen peor respuesta inmune que las no vacunadas. Anti-Vaxxers Link Monkeypox Outbreak to COVID-19 Vaccines

Source and Description of Threat	Since reports emerged of an international outbreak of monkeypox in the past two weeks, a variety of narratives have emerged that claim that the outbreak is connected to COVID-19 vaccines. One prominent narrative alleges that monkeypox is spreading because COVID-19 vaccines have suppressed the immune systems of many people. Another narrative claims that the disease is a direct side-effect of the vaccine, with some versions of this narrative alleging that monkeypox is a misinterpretation of vaccine-induced shingles. One false theory is that monkeypox is caused by the use of chimpanzee adenovirus in the development of the AstraZeneca and Johnson & Johnson vaccines. In addition to narratives directly about vaccines, broader conspiratorial claims allege that monkeypox is a tool of the New World Order, and is frequently framed as being used to justify the WHO pandemic treaty that has become a target of many conspiracy theories. Prominent influencers who have promoted narratives linking monkeypox to COVID-19 vaccines include Alex Jones and GNews founder Miles Guo.

Vietnamese Anti-Vaxxers Claim Vaccine Caused School Shooting

Source and Description of Threat	On 25 May 2022, member Hoang Le of the Telegram group Việc làm Sức khỏe Giáo dục cho Anti-Vaxxers (trans. Jobs, Health, and Education for Anti-Vaxxers) shared a post from his own private Telegram channel Chân Lý Trọn Vẹn in which he claims that the recent school shooting in Uvalde, Texas was due to COVID-19 vaccines. While denouncing the shooting and policies he believes that he believes allowed it, Hoang Le claims that anger at the eighteen-year-old perpetrator is wrong because he is merely a victim of COVID-19 vaccines. Hoang Le claims that the vaccines are making people short-tempered and crazy. He suggests that this is due to the 5G Wi-Fi chips that are being implanted in people's brains during vaccination. Hoang Lee is a Vietnamese pharmacist and natural health advocate. Chỉ riêng năm 2022, đã có 27 vụ xả súng tại Mỹ.
Hôm qua, 1 vụ xả súng thảm khốc khác mới xảy ra trong trường học bên Mỹ, tiểu ban Texas, vào ngày 24 tháng 5, 2022 với 19 trẻ em và 2 cô giáo bị giết bởi vì 1 em trai 18 tuổi xả súng giết họ. Và hầu như cả thế giới lại đều tiếp tục bị cuốn vào sự SAI LỆCH trong vụ thảm sát tàn khốc này 😞😞😞

Thật đáng thương xót cho 19 em bé, 2 cô giáo và cả cho em trai xả súng.

Mọi người thì đều bị truyền thông tẩy não nên họ phẫn nộ bé trai xả súng và phẫn nộ việc chính phủ Mỹ cho phép sài súng thoải mái.

Việc chính phủ Mỹ cho sài súng thoải mái là rất SAI.
Nhưng nếu ai phẫn nộ em bé trai xả súng thì càng SAI.
Có một sự thật tàn khốc đang diễn ra đó là nhiều người sau khi tiêm COVID-19 Vắc-xin thì trở nên dễ dàng nóng giận, nóng nảy hay điên dại thì hầu như hiếm có ai biết rõ tường tận. Bé trai thanh niên xả súng này cũng là 1 trong những nạn nhân đáng thương đó, cũng trở nên điên dại sau khi tiêm COVID-19 Vắc-xin.

Sắp tới sẽ càng có VÔ SỐ cảnh người trở nên điên dại như Zombie, để rồi sẽ có vô số cảnh giết hại lẫn nhau, bây giờ chỉ mới là SỰ KHỞI ĐẦU mà thôi 🤖.

HÃY cầu nguyện cho tất cả những người u mê mau chóng SỚM THỨC TỈNH.

TRÁNH XA VẮC-XIN

TRÁNH XA TỘI ÁC của COVID-19 VẮC-XIN và nhiều Vắc-xin khác với các dịch bệnh giả dối khác như Monkeypox, Bird Flu...

Tất cả đều do Vắc-xin, sóng Wifi 5G, và hàng ngàn chất độc trong môi trường từ phía Thế Lực Ngầm gây ra cả mà thôi 🤖

New Study Promoted by Anti-Vaxxers as Proof Vaccines Ineffective

Source and Description of Threat	On 19 April 2022, a study on the persistence of anti-nucleocapsid antibodies following Moderna mRNA COVID-19 vaccination was posted to the preprint server MedRxiv. This study, which is still awaiting peer review, concludes that antibodies following COVID-19 infection are more sensitive in unvaccinated individuals than they are in vaccinated individuals. Anti-vaxxers have responded to this study with claims that it is further proof that COVID-19 vaccines are ineffective and actually hamper immune response to the virus.  GroupSense continues to track multiple disinformation narratives surrounding the vaccine and its distribution. We include below a sample of the most prominent recent narratives and highlight information specific to New York City where applicable.

Project Veritas Investigation Claims that Thousands of New Yorkers Have Received Improperly-Mixed Vaccines

Source and Description of Threat	On 26 January 2022, Project Veritas published an investigation claiming to have discovered that thousands of New Yorkers, including many children, received improperly-mixed COVID-19 vaccines that may cause harm. The investigation, relying largely on an interview and recordings from a woman named Victoria who claims to be a nurse with the city contractor DocGo/Ambulnz, says that DocGo/Ambulnz nursing staff frequently used the wrong diluent (bacteriostatic water instead of saline) when administering Pfizer vaccines. Such an improper mixture may render a vaccine inoperative or even cause adverse reactions. The investigation further alleges a general pattern of improper training and poor incident reporting that is causing improper mixing at high rates that may harm many people. Project Veritas is a non-profit investigative journalism organization founded in 2010 by James O’Keefe. The organization has been widely criticized for using deceptive interviewing practices and selective editing to present false or exaggerated claims. Project Veritas has released several investigations amplifying claims of danger regarding COVID-19 vaccines.
Reach	GroupSense has observed this video posted across multiple major social media platforms. It has received 278k views on YouTube and 19k on Rumble, both on Project Veritas official accounts. Vaccine Researcher Claims That Vaccinating Children Against COVID-19 is “Simply Unbelievable”

Source and Description of Threat	On 22 January 2022, Belgian vaccine researcher and consultant Dr. Geert Vanden Bossche posted a video to his website in which he claimed that it is “simply unbelievable to even think” of vaccinating children against COVID-19. Throughout the video, Dr. Bossche repeats a variety of disputed claims regarding the efficacy of COVID-19 vaccine development and trials and the safety of the vaccines for children, including that vaccination will damage children’s immune systems and make them more vulnerable to respiratory illnesses. Dr. Bossche has historically made alarmist claims regarding COVID-19 vaccines. He claims that the development of the vaccines was rushed, and that mass vaccination will weaken people’s immune systems and result in the development of more dangerous virus variants.

Anti-Vaxxers Claim that COVID-19 Vaccines Reduce Sperm Counts

Source and Description of Threat	On 17 June 2022, the medical journal Andrology published a longitudinal study on the effects of the Pfizer COVID-19 vaccine on male fertility. The study found that the vaccine likely causes a temporary drop in sperm production for several months, but that spermatogenesis levels return to normal and that sperm quality is unaffected. Anti-vaccine outlets and advocates on social media have seized upon this study to argue that COVID-19 vaccines harm male fertility. The arguments observed by GroupSense have frequently taken the findings out of context and misrepresented the conclusions of the study with claims that the drop in sperm production is permanent.

Indian Political Journal Claims COVID-19 Vaccines Cause Chickenpox and Shingles

Source and Description of Threat	On 25 June 2022, the online news site GreatGameIndia posted an article claiming that multiple studies have found that COVID-19 vaccines reactivate the chickenpox virus. The article cites case studies on young shingles patients to misleadingly claim that there is a growing body of research proving that COVID-19 vaccines cause shingles, herpes zoster, and other diseases in the chickenpox family. Among the conditions mentioned is Ramsay Hunt syndrome, a condition many anti-vaxxers have tied to vaccines after singer Justin Bieber was diagnosed with the syndrome. GreatGameIndia claims to be an India-based, English-language journal of politics and international relations. Regional media reported on his story and the struggles of his mother Daniela in finding adequate care for him. Among German anti-vax communities online, Jakob Eiserloh’s story has been met with skepticism. On 21 June 2022, the Telegram channel Kandel - Team 2020 (5,000 subscribers) shared a video about the boy’s struggles. In the accompanying post, the channel administrator claimed those who vaccinate children are committing horrible wrongs, and that long COVID is a cover-up term for vaccine injuries and side effects. Narratives surrounding Jakob Eiserloh have also spread into Russian. News of Teen's Suicide Sparks Outrage Among Anti-Vaxxers, Claims Caused by Vaccine Advocates

Source and Description of Threat	On 25 April 2022, the parents of a deceased teenager filed a lawsuit against the Latin School of Chicago alleging that the school had failed to act against relentless bullying that led the teen, named N.B. in the lawsuit, to take his own life. According to the suit, after N.B. transferred to the school, a fellow student started a false rumor that N.B. was unvaccinated against COVID-19 and began a campaign of harassment against the teen. Additionally, the suit alleges that N.B. was berated by a teacher at the school, and that the school did not act after he reported the bullying. News of this suit has been met with outrage among anti-vaxxers on social media. Many users allege that this incident is a prime example of COVID tyranny and the natural outcome of government vaccine advocacy. Such users claim that this is evidence of persecution against those who decline the vaccine, going so far as to claim that a cult mentality pervades among the vaccinated and is even corrupting the minds of children. This story was initially reported by CBS News Chicago on 25 April, which did not mention the vaccination status element; this part of the story was reported the following day by The Chicago Tribune. Since then, it has been reported by outlets that are less-reliable and some that generally promote fake news.

Student killed himself after bullying about his vaccination status: lawsuit

A 15-year-old boy who was initially targeted by a false rumor that he was unvaccinated was bullied relentlessly until he took his own life in January.

The suit filed Monday against the Latin School of Chicago alleges administrators at the private college prep school — which charges more than $40,000 annually in tuition — committed “willful failure” to stop the incessant bullying.

The Cook County filing named the school, several employees and parents of the alleged bullies as defendants. The late teen, identified as N.B. in the suit, transferred to the school due to its in-person learning during the coronavirus pandemic.

A student whose parents are named in the lawsuit then started spreading a rumor that the 10th-grader, Nate Bronstein, was unvaccinated.

Nate actually had been vaccinated, but he was still harassed on a regular basis due to his perceived status. The boy’s parents, Robert and Rosellene Bronstein, even reached out to the other student’s family about the constant badgering.

But the harassment only worsened — with Nate being told by a teacher in class that he was going “nowhere in life ”

Conspiracy News Site Claims that Vaccines are Causing Blindness

Source and Description of Threat	On 26 April 2022, British conspiracy site The Exposé published an article claiming that British government data proves that COVID-19 vaccines are causing blindness and other eye disorders in recipients. The article states that the highest number of such cases are among Pfizer recipients, and claims that a total of 24,516 Britons had experienced post-vaccine eye disorders, with several hundred resorting in temporary or total blindness. The article further suggests that these vision issues are caused in part by vaccine-induced strokes.

Daily Mail Article Suggesting Lab Leak Seized Upon by InfoWars to Claim Vaccine Genocide

Source and Description of Threat	On 23 February 2022, British tabloid Daily Mail published an article reporting on a study that identified a protein matching a sequence patented by Moderna three years before the pandemic. The article suggests that the rarity of this protein may suggest that Sars-CoV-2 was manipulated in a lab before escaping into the wider world. This article was cited as evidence by Alex Jones in a 26 February 2022 segment of The Alex Jones Show. In the segment, Mr. Jones claims that this is proof that Moderna and other pharmaceutical companies intentionally made COVID-19 to promote vaccines, which are then in turn being used by global elites to kill people off.

More evidence Covid was tinkered with in a lab? Now scientists find virus contains tiny chunk of DNA that matches sequence patented by Moderna THREE YEARS before pandemic began

- Genetic match discovered in Covid's unique furin cleavage site on spike protein
- Matched genetic sequence patented by Moderna for cancer research purposes
- Researchers say one in 3trillion chance Covid developed the code naturally

Fresh suspicion that Covid may have been tinkered with in a lab emerged today after scientists found genetic material owned by Moderna in the virus's spike protein.

They identified a tiny snippet of code that is identical to part of a gene patented by the vaccine maker three years before the pandemic.

Your Guide to Fifth-Generation Warfare

Corbett • 03/28/2022 • 2 Comments

We're in the middle of a world-changing war right now.

Oh, I don't mean the war in Ukraine, the one that all the media are asking you to focus your attention on. Yes, that conflict continues to escalate, and every day there are new stories about provocations and threats that could lead to a nuclear exchange . . . but that's not the war I'm referring to.

And I don't mean the war in Yemen or the other military conflicts that the media are ignoring entirely. Yes, these wars are every bit as bloody, gruesome and devastating as the Russian invasion of Ukraine (if not more so), and they also risk an escalation into a broader geopolitical and gloeconomic crisis . . . but they're not the wars I'm referring to, either.

No, the war I'm talking about is an even broader war. A war that is taking place everywhere on the globe, even as I write, and that involves virtually everyone on the planet, young and old, male and female, military and civilian. It is the war of every government against its own population and every international institution against free humanity.

This is no ordinary war, however. Most of the victims of this warfare aren't even able to identify it as war, nor do they understand that they are combatants in it.

British Oncology Professor Claims that COVID Boosters Increase Cancer Progression

Source and Description of Threat	On 26 November 2022, anti-vaccine digital outlet The Daily Skeptic published an article based on a letter written by Dr. Angus Dalgleish, a professor of oncology at St. George's University of London. In the letter, which is addressed to BMJ editor-in-chief Dr. Kamran Abbasi, Dr. Dalgleish calls for an end to vaccination with COVID-19 vaccines. Dr. Dalgleish claims that the vaccines are not necessary given the average age of patients, and that it is not worth associated side effects. Dr. Dalgleish further claims that he has observed multiple cancer patients experience a severe surge in their speed of disease progression after they received a COVID-19 booster. Dr. Dalgleish suggests that this progression may be due to immunosuppression from COVID-19 vaccines and that it is a further reason to halt vaccination.

Anti-Vaxxers Use Out-of-Context Washington Post Headline to Discredit Vaccines

Source and Description of Threat	On 23 November 2022, The Washington Post published an edition of its health newsletter The Health 202 with the title "Vaccinated people now make up the majority of COVID-19 deaths." The headline, which has since been changed, was seized upon by anti-vaxxers on social media, who claim that it is an open admission by a major newspaper of record that COVID-19 vaccines are ineffective and harmful. Narratives claiming that The Washington Post has declared vaccines useless have been promoted across platforms and by influential actors and publications.

"It's no longer a pandemic of the unvaccinated"

This imagery of musical chairs seems quite fitting.

There was the music (the overwhelming body of evidence undermining the supposed tremendous efficacy of the jabs) bellowing throughout the room, the people dancing hardest were the censored scientists, and then there was the muted shell of an individual (the mainstream papers) shying away in the corner.

Except, suddenly, that shy individual found their mettle and joined in.

Of course, The Washington Post didn't really commit as they caved their piece with the words "It's no longer a pandemic of the unvaccinated". So, unfortunately, their participation in our little musical chair comparison amounted to little more than an embarrassing, half-arsed dad dance.

Viral Documentary Amplifies Narratives Around Vaccine-Induced Blood Clots, Sudden Deaths, and Depopulation

Source and Description of Threat	On 21 November 2022, digital media outlet The Stew Peters Network released a one-hour documentary on Twitter and Rumble called Died Suddenly. This documentary goes in-depth on a variety of false claims around COVID-19 vaccines that The Stew Peters Network has promoted over the past year. The film uses interviews with multiple embalmers to claim that COVID-19 vaccines have been causing people to die from massive fibrous blood clots. The film weaves these claims in with broader claims that young, healthy people have dropped down and died suddenly en masse across the world since vaccines were rolled out. Died Suddenly claims that this supposed mass death from vaccines is part of a project by global elites to cause human depopulation in the face of growing strain on world resources. The Died Suddenly Twitter account was created in October 2022, has 140k followers, and is verified. Prominent Anti-Vaccine Doctor Claims There are No Real Studies that Prove Vaccine Reduces Severity

Source and Description of Threat	On 26 August 2022, an anti-COVID vaccine conference called the Gateway to Freedom Conference took place in St. Louis, Missouri. The conference was attended by notable anti-vaccine influencers, including Dr. Robert Malone and Dr. Peter McCullough. In his featured speech , Dr. McCullough echoed numerous false narratives about COVID-19 vaccines. In a clip of his speech that has gone viral, he claimed that there are no legitimate studies that have demonstrated that COVID-19 vaccines reduce the severity of COVID-19 infections. He additionally claims that the FDA has never backed claims that COVID-19 vaccines reduce virus severity.

Substack Writer Claims that Vaccine Proven to Shed in Breast Milk

Source and Description of Threat	In an article published on 26 September 2022, anti-vaccine Substack writer Igor Chudov claimed that a new research note published in Journal of the American Medical Association proves that the contents of the vaccines are shed to infants during breastfeeding. The study found that 7 samples from 5 of the 11 participants had traces of mRNA up to 45 hours after vaccination. The study writers caution against breastfeeding infants six months and younger for the first 48 hours after vaccination until more safety studies are conducted, but assert that breastfeeding is safe after this period. However, Igor Chudov claims that this assertion is actually an attempt by the researchers to bypass censorship and that their findings are definitive proof that breastfeeding after vaccination is harmful to infants.

The times are changing! Remember how we said that vaccine shedding is a real thing and breastfeeding after vaccination is dangerous? Our warnings were dismissed as “misinformation” and we were cast as ignorant, science-denying cranks.

Well, now the Journal of American Medical Association published a letter (archive link) that proved conclusively that mRNA vaccine shedding is real! The vaccine mRNA is indeed shed in breast milk and is affecting babies that receive said milk.

This letter provides lab results proving that concerns of the so-called “antivaxxers” were fully justified!

Claims that Israeli Government is Covering Up Vaccine Adverse Effects Promoted by NYC-Based Writer

Source and Description of Threat	On 22 August 2022, the Israeli digital outlet rtmag[.]co.il published an article claiming that a leaked video from June revealed that a study commissioned by the Israeli Ministry of Health found that the Pfizer vaccine is causing significant severe adverse effects for Israeli citizens. The speaker in the video supposedly suggests that these findings may result in lawsuits due to the Israeli government not maintaining a sufficient reporting system for vaccine adverse effects. The article goes on to claim that the official Ministry of Health report on the study misrepresents the data and covers up the pattern of adverse effects. This narrative has been taken up by New York City-based writer Kyle Becker, who promoted it in a Substack article published on 25 September 2022. Kyle Becker connected it to other supposed claims of government cover-ups to claim that a mass international fraud is being perpetuated to force COVID-19 vaccines upon people. Rtmag[.]co.il regularly publishes anti-vaccine content. Breaking: Leaked Video Reveals Serious Side-Effects Related to the Pfizer COVID-19 Vaccine Covered Up by the Israeli MOH

The Israeli MOH had no adverse events reporting system for the entire year of 2021. They commissioned a research team to analyze the reports from a new system implemented on December 2021. A leaked video reveals that in June, the researchers presented serious findings to the MOH, that indicated long-term effects, including some not listed by Pfizer, and a causal relationship – so the Ministry published a manipulative report, and told the public that no new signal was found

Anti-Vaxxers Discourage Blood Transfusions Following Red Cross Tweet Regarding Vaccines

Source and Description of Threat	On 13 September 2022, the official Twitter account of the American Red Cross tweeted, “We don't label blood products as containing vaccinated or unvaccinated blood as the COVID-19 vaccine does not enter the bloodstream & poses no safety risks to the recipient. If you have safety concerns about potential blood transfusions, please speak with your medical care team.” This announcement has been met with outrage by anti-vaxxers on social media, many of whom have as a result declared that they will not accept blood transfusions from the Red Cross and other healthcare providers that do not differentiate between vaccinated and unvaccinated blood. These arguments are based on claims that the blood of vaccinated individuals is toxic and will harm unvaccinated individuals if they receive it in a transfusion. This narrative has been promoted by numerous prominent anti-vaccine influencers, including Steve Bannon and Kyle Becker.

Anti-Vaxxers Tie Moderna Booster to Heart Attack of New York Times Editor

Source and Description of Threat	Following news reports that New York Times editor Carlos Tejada died of a heart attack at the age of 49, anti-vaccine blog sites reported that the death occurred one day after Tejada's COVID-19 booster shot, suggesting a causal link between the two events. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • For example, on 26 December, the Gateway Pundit published an article titled "49-Year-Old New York Times Editor Dies of Heart Attack One Day After Boasting About Getting Covid Booster Shot." • On 29 December 2021, the anti-vaccine site Natural News published a similar article, referencing a vaccine post made by Tejada on Instagram, and underscoring that he "died less than 24 hours later" (Figure 1). • At least one Twitter user on 27 December, suggested the heart attack may have been caused because Tajeda "mix and match[ed]" Pfizer and Moderna vaccines. • On 27 December, @echo_chamberz tweeted "...[Tajeda's death] is worth investigating, especially given that these injections are associated with a 5x increase in fatal cardiac mortality [sic], which may be even higher with the boosters."

Polish-Speaking Twitter Users Promote Vaccine Disinformation Using Hashtag #Nagle21

Source and Description of Threat	Beginning on 21 November 2021, Polish-speaking Twitter users started promoting vaccine disinformation using the hashtag #Nagle21 (English: “#Suddenly21”). In recent weeks the hashtag has grown in use, averaging 50 mentions per day the week of 23-30 December. While the origin of the #Nagle21 hashtag is unclear, it is being used to promote the alleged harmful effects of COVID-19 vaccines by highlighting cases of “sudden” harmful side effects and deaths. For example: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • On 24 December, @KarasekUS tweeted t#Nagle21 and a link to an article in English posted on the blog site godsciencing[.]com titled “392 Athlete Cardiac Arrests, Serious Issues, 230 Dead, After COVID Shot.” Godsciencing[.]com is a site that promotes the antiparasitic ivermectin as a treatment and other COVID-19 vaccine misleading information. • On 22 December, Twitter user @mietek_smutny tweeted “Dr. John Campbell looks at the latest research prior to the publication of the American Heart Association and concludes that, if true, we are at risk of an unimaginable number of additional heart attacks. #Nagle 21” (translated from Polish). @mietek_smutny included a video clip of British YouTuber Dr. John Campbell analyzing mRNA vaccine information. Dr. Campbell has made false claims about COVID-19 vaccines, and promoted ivermectin as a treatment (Figure 2).

French Twitter User Promotes WHO Chief Stumble During Remarks, Claiming Booster Shot “Kills Children”

Source and Description of Threat	On 22 December 2021, the French-speaking Twitter user @yas_laetitia tweeted “Scarified is the right word ‘the Booster kills children’” (translated from French). The tweet also included a 20 December video clip of remarks made by the WHO Director-General, Dr. Tedros Adhanom Ghebreyesus, where he appears to say “So if a [COVID-19 booster] is going to be used, it’s better to focus on the groups who have risk of severe disease and death, rather than, as we see, some countries are giving boosters to cil-children, which is not right.” @ya_laetitia and other anti-vaxxers are interpreting Dr. Ghebreyesus’ apparent stumbling over his words as saying that the vaccines are being used to kill children.
Reach	@yas_laetitia’s tweet was retweeted 33 times and received 49 likes. Pseudo-news outlets and other social media users have also seized on the WHO Chief’s statements. Popular Substack Writer Suggests that Vaccines are Impairing Immunity in Newborn Babies

Source and Description of Threat	In an article published on Substack on 30 June 2022, popular anti-vaccine writer el gato malo addressed recent news that a high number of babies in Australia who were conceived and born during the pandemic are being hospitalized for respiratory conditions. The writer suggests that, based on when they were conceived, that the babies may be experiencing immunosuppression due to their mothers being vaccinated. Although el gato malo says that correlation does not equal causation, he argues in favor of the theory that COVID-19 vaccines are causing babies to be born without immunity to respiratory conditions.

French-Speaking VK User Claims Monkeypox Will Lead to New Lockdowns

Source and Description of Threat	On 24 June 2022, VK user Jordan Mordani created a post promoting various conspiratorial claims regarding global institutions and the COVID-19 pandemic. The user claims that the pandemic originated as a plot by global elites to crumble the world economy and institute mass surveillance. The user then turns to the monkeypox outbreak. Jordan Mordani says, “ ‘Monkeypox’ will allow [global elites] to reintroduce a campaign of fear and impose new draconian restrictions, and this is their ticket to the implementation of a digital identity / social credit system in which the fundamental human rights that we all have will be lost forever.” The user thus argues that monkeypox is a plot to reimpose lockdowns and further institute surveillance.

Ms. Buettner claims to have observed only five to six myocarditis cases among children in her unit under normal conditions, and virtually none during the early stages of the pandemic. However, she claims that since vaccines against COVID-19 had been rolled out she has seen a tenfold increase in cases in her unit, particularly concentrated among teenage boys. Ms. Butter claims there is no doubt that this increase is directly caused by COVID-19 vaccines, and that as a result she would not vaccinate her own children against the virus. Steve Kirsch is the founder of the Vaccine Safety Research Foundation, a prominent promoter of anti-vaccine narratives. GROUPSENSE NYC COVID-19 VACCINE MIS/DISINFORMATION CADENCE REPORT

31 March 2022

NYC Vaccine Command Center

Recently Observed Mis/Disinformation Potentially Impacting NYC Vaccination Efforts

 GroupSense continues to track multiple disinformation narratives surrounding the vaccine and its distribution. We include below a sample of the most prominent recent narratives and highlight information specific to New York City where applicable.

Creole-Language TikTok Promotes a Variety of False Narratives

Source and Description of Threat	On 28-29 March 2022, TikTok user @leprophete9 posted two videos discussing COVID-19 vaccines, with a third video planned. The TikToks appear to be screen recordings of a Facebook Live stream. The speaker in the videos promotes multiple false narratives. Several of the claims have been commonly observed across a variety of languages: the vaccine ingredients and side effects have not been disclosed, vaccine creators are refusing to take their own product, the vaccines cause HIV and cancer, and that governments will soon back off of vaccine drives. However, the speaker in @leprophete9's videos promotes two narratives that GroupSense has not observed before. The speaker says that a person claiming to practice voodoo will be exempt from vaccine requirements, and if authorities refuse then they must sign a consent form. The speaker also claims that COVID-19 vaccines contain an ingredient called S-Vitamin, which when injected will weaken a person's immune system to the point that the common cold will become life-threatening. @leprophete9 does not include details in their bio beyond the name Luckenson Le Prophete. GroupSense identified an Instagram account using the handle prophete.9. The profile picture of this account matches that of a Facebook account named Luckenson Prophete. This account self-reports as living in Buin, Region Metropolitana, Chile and as having attended school in Port-au-Prince, Haiti.
Reach	The original Facebook Live stream that these videos record was viewed by 790 accounts at time of recording. On TikTok, the first video has received 408 views and the second has received 418 views.
Demography	Haitian Creole-speakers
Geography	Unknown

Language	Haitian Creole
NYC Specifics	Given New York City's large Haitian community, there is a risk that this video could spread misinformation among this group if it achieves virality.
New or evolving narrative?	New narratives: GroupSense has not previously observed narratives claiming that voodoo practitioners are exempt from vaccines or that the vaccine contains S-Vitamin.
Response	GroupSense reported these videos to TikTok for Misleading Information COVID-19 Information

Widely-Shared Article Claims Omicron Variant Made in a Lab

Source and Description of Threat	On 31 March 2022, blogger Will Jones published an article claiming that the omicron variant of COVID-19 was made in a lab. In the article, he marshals spurious evidence to suggest that this variant is not actually a natural evolution of the original strain of SARS-CoV-2, but rather had its evolution artificially accelerated before being released into the world through a lab leak. Will Jones does not advance claims of the original strain of COVID-19 being man-made, but claims that the human creation of omicron suggests that dangerous virology research must be reined in. In his author bio, Will Jones self-reports as holding a Ph.D in political philosophy from the University of Reading. He is based in the United Kingdom and writes on politics and religion.
Reach	This article was shared in a Telegram channel called Robert Monotti + Dr Mike Yeadon + Cory Morningstar (98,278) subscribers. It has received 56.3k views on this channel. GroupSense observed it shared on Facebook, Twitter, Gab, and Gettr as well.
Demography	No specific demographic targeted
Geography	United Kingdom
Language	English
NYC Specifics	No NYC-specific nexus identified
New or evolving narrative?	Evolving narrative: the lab-leak and man-made narratives for COVID-19 have been persistent, but GroupSense has not encountered narratives claiming that omicron was artificially developed in a separate way from the original virus.
Response	GroupSense will continue monitoring the spread of this narrative.

Hope you see this. I began the list 3/2021 when a few friends within 2 weeks had family die after jab. I began writing all down. People I could verify! As of 3/2022, Injury & death count: over 50. 14 dead in that. Someone wake me up bc this is no fun.

1. Linda's fiancé-her husband passed
2. I B mom-died
3. Don's friend at church- died 2 days after shot. No explanation. 50's
4. Rachel's perfectly healthy mom:
Linda heart valve & uncontrolled BP
5. Janet G. 55, had heart attack after her shot. No previous health conditions.
6. J E, 40, stroke. 35. Chest pain, shivers, resting heart rate has doubled
7. Mike P former boss-Moderna shot, 3 days of being sick and had chest pain. In his 40's
8. Rachel's someone in small group had a pacemaker and now his heart won't respond to pacemaker.
9. Mandy P friend Daniela told me her mom-coded after the second shot
10. Josh M 40yrs. Got shot, diagnosed with covid later and hospitalized for a long time
11. Diane N MB, 40 y. Within minutes, fanning at the mouth, bronchitis and swelling for her. Since then, 4 months later, has had 2 Grand Mal seizures
12. Julie R. Knows from HS, 3 weeks after jab, head pain so bad she had to have many diff pain meds, scans, they don't know what's wrong. Not connecting it
13. Jn B niece: "My 45 yr old niece has been fighting serious cancer for over a year and been on chemo all that time. Was given 3-6 months recently. Doctors convinced her to get the shot. 1st couple days was fine, but now in the hospital with a bleeding liver and great pain. They are killing her, first with chemo, now with an experimental chemical shot. She passed away"
14. Liz B- friend got shot, passed out in car, broke tooth, had a seizure, paramedics "checked" him out and then told him how to go home
15. Sara, her ex-husband is a doctor and got the jab and developed blood clots in her legs
16. Nicole Ann... (friend has kids on soccer team and the coach's son had a severe reaction. He is 12. Nicole sent me this: "His room still doesn't connect y'all to his symptoms (itch, ear issues etc) But I did convince her to try some supplements and she's working on it." He was a healthy kid and now has itch.
17. Kev-cancer mild and doing well. He was expected to make a full recovery. Suddenly he gets shot and is in hospice within a month. Passed away 3 months later. He was mid 50's. Went to our church.
18. E F elevated liver enzymes recent blood work, within a week after jab. She is college-age

Hate that for him he got covid one week after the shot."
25. I went to my dentist 3/29 and he said they chose for himself to get the shot but his wife and his kids are not getting it for now. His wife has too many health issues and his kids are not gonna be getting it for now. He is probably 57 or 58 years old and he said he has never been the same since he got it. His left arm is sore all the time and he now has oblonged ulcers before the shot he never had an allergy in his life. I asked him to give me an example and he said when he goes outside to cut the grass his nose just does not stop dripping and his left arm just won't stop hurting it's always achy. He has had a sore arm since he got the Moderna shot. In January 2021.
26. Julie Dan-"My friend battled with her work back-and-forth over the past couple weeks. They pretty much told her to take the vaccine or you lose your job at 29 years. She was extremely reluctant to consent in order because if she was literally the only one in the entire office I didn't take it. And for financial reasons needed her job. The day after her second shot she developed a large lump on the right side of her neck. She was in tears just sharing the story as she said she could literally put her hand on the lump and physically move it all around. She said her intuition and gut feeling told her it was jab. said it was weirdest thing she's ever experienced and it dissolved next day."
27. Linda P best friend- brother in law got both jabs and is in hospital with double pneumonia and heart issues

36. US daughter severe bleeding 2 strokes
37. Julie B cousin... "On a sat night, the former friend of the CEO I was telling you about passed yesterday. He was in a coma for a week, which started 2 days after his 2nd shot. He was not hospitalized to get the shot. It was his choice, believing the media that it was safe. His family is really upset, but I noticed on his FB page it was not even mentioned that he got the shot, even after people asked. They'll never talk about it publicly, the silence is killing thousands more because families and the Media will not admit the problem."
38. Liz P friend got jab and within a couple days came down with Covid pneumonia. A year later has irreversible fibrosis in the lungs and other issues

Vietnamese Telegram Channel Claims Smallpox and COVID Vaccines Cause AIDS

Source and Description of Threat	On 17 August 2022, a Vietnamese-language Telegram channel called Anons shared a post and series of photos linking Anthony Fauci and the development of smallpox and COVID-19 vaccines to the AIDS epidemic. The post lends credibility to this narrative by citing a 1987 article in The Times that has since been debunked. GroupSense has observed narratives linking COVID-19 vaccines to AIDS since early 2022. Israeli Doctor Claims that Monkeypox Outbreak is Caused by Vaccine-Induced Immunosuppression

Source and Description of Threat	On 28 July 2022, Israeli doctor and medical researcher Dr. Shmuel Shapira tweeted, "Monkey pox cases were rare for years. During the last years a single case was documented in Israel. It is well established the mRNA vaccines affect the natural immune system. A monkey pox outbreak following massive covid vaccination: *Is not a coincidence." Dr. Shapira's tweet was immediately removed by Twitter, but his claims quickly went viral among anti-vaxxers. Dr. Shapira's claims that COVID-19 vaccine-induced immunosuppression is fueling the monkeypox outbreak have been promoted by prominent anti-vaccine voices, including activist group Children's Health Defense, the influential disinformation outlet Great Game India, and popular Substacker KanekoaTheGreat. GroupSense has observed this narrative be promoted in multiple languages. Popular Substacker Claims Vaccines are Dangerous for Children and Downplays Risks from Virus

Source and Description of Threat	On 17 August 2022, a Substack writer with thousands of paid subscribers using the name egyptius published an article commenting on a recent preprint study of cardiovascular response to the Pfizer COVID-19 vaccine among teenagers in Thailand. egyptius calls the study's results horrifying and points to its observation of cardiovascular side effects in a third of recipients. Despite the study's observation that observed myopericarditis healed within two weeks, egyptius claims that the study is further proof of the dangers of COVID-19 vaccine to teenagers. Additionally, the writer claims that there is nearly zero risk to teenagers from COVID-19, and that as a result vaccination of teens should be stopped immediately.

Retired Yale Epidemiologist Claims COVID Vaccines Weaken Immunity to New Variants

Source and Description of Threat	On 20 July 2022, the digital news outlet The Epoch Times published an interview with Dr. Harvey Risch, a professor emeritus of epidemiology at Yale University. In the interview, Dr. Risch claims that due to being based on the spike protein of the original variant of SARS-CoV-2, the vaccines produce a narrow range of antibodies to that spike protein. Dr. Risch claims that as a result, the vaccines encourage antibody production toward this specific protein, but actively inhibit antibody production geared toward new variants of the virus. Dr. Harvey Risch has a history of promoting unfounded claims surrounding COVID-19, including promoting hydroxychloroquine as a treatment to the disease. The Epoch Times frequently promotes misleading narratives around COVID-19 vaccines in its reporting.

Resurgence of Narratives Claiming that Haiti's Low Case Count Due to Low Vaccination Rate

Source and Description of Threat	In July 2022, GroupSense has seen a resurgence of narratives claiming that Haiti's low official number of COVID-19 cases deaths is due to its extremely low vaccination rate. We initially reported this narrative in our report of 2 May 2022. The recent surge in this narrative is driven by an article by Jim Hoft published in The Gateway Pundit on 8 July 2022. In this article, Jim Hoft compares Haiti's COVID-19 cases and vaccine rates to much more highly-vaccinated countries, and concludes that Haiti has been able to keep COVID under control by avoiding mass vaccination.

The image shows a screenshot of a VK post by Valery Sirotkin, dated 17 Jul at 1:57 am. The post is titled "ИТОГИ ВАКЦИНАЦИИ В МИРЕ" and contains several paragraphs of text. The text discusses the author's concerns about the safety and effectiveness of COVID-19 vaccines in Russia, comparing mortality rates between 2021 and 2022. It also mentions the author's interactions with law enforcement and consumer protection agencies, and references a blog post from 'The Gateway Pundit'.

ИТОГИ ВАКЦИНАЦИИ В МИРЕ

Я пишу и пишу в Следственный комитет России и в Генпрокуратуру о том, что в России под видом вакцинации гражданам вводят инъекции неизвестной жидкости, которая никогда должным образом не проверялась на её эффективность и безопасность, мало того, не известно и что за компоненты входят в эту «вакцину». Сообщаю в заявлениях, что смертность только от последствий простудных заболеваний (от COVID-19) за вторую половину 2021 года, по сравнению со второй половиной 2020 года (когда никакой вакцинации граждан России ещё не проводилась) увеличилась на 125 тысяч умерших россиян. Мало этого, смертность от осложнений от COVID-19 и заболеваемость не уменьшились и продолжили расти и в 2022 году. В январе 2021 года, когда вакцинация едва началась, заболело 681 751 и 16064 умерло, а за январь месяц 2022 года, когда было привито уже 52,4% населения России) заболело 1 474 660 и 22 690 умерло. В тоге в январе 2022 года по сравнению с январём 2021 года стало в два раза больше заболевших и почти в полтора раза больше умерших. И ничем иным кроме «вакцинации» непонятной жидкостью этот рост объяснить невозможно.

И ноль эффекта. СКР перебрасывает мои заявления в МВД, которое не имеет права проводить проверки и возбуждать дела фактически о геноциде граждан России, а Генпрокуратура отправляет мои заявления преступникам – в Роспотребнадзор – для сообщения мне из Роспотребнадзора, что преступники Роспотребнадзора не преступники потому, что они чихать хотели на числа и факты итогов «вакцинации».

Но что-то похожее происходит и в мире.

В США есть новостной портал «The Gateway Pundit», который поддерживает Трампа, во время его избирательной кампании посещаемость «The Gateway Pundit» достигала 1 миллиона уникальных посетителей в день и тогда эксперты назвали этот ресурс четвёртым по влиятельности в консервативном лагере. То есть это не случайный, вновь появившийся блогер. И вот теперь этот ресурс проанализировал данные ВОЗ на первую половину этого года по пресловутому COVID-19 в мире в зависимости от вакцинации, и автор портала Джим Хофт опубликовал этот анализ 8 июля 2022 года <https://bit.ly/3PsU7sq>

Автор по данным института Хопкинса сравнивал ежедневные подтвержденные случаи смерти от COVID-19 на миллион человек, в среднем за 7 дней.

Telegram Users Suggest that Record High Stillbirths in Germany Due to Vaccines

Source and Description of Threat	On 15 July 2022, the Telegram channel USMortality posted a graph showing trends in the number of stillbirths in Germany from 2017 to 2021. The graph shows an 11.1% increase in stillbirths in 2021. In the accompanying post, the channel administrator claimed that the number of births during 2020 was actually lower than the pre-pandemic average. USMortality does not directly ascribe this trend to the vaccine; however, the channel regularly shares statistics they claim show that COVID-19 vaccines are ineffective or dangerous. Many users in the comments to the post have interpreted it as meaning that vaccines are causing stillbirths in Germany.

GROUPSENSE NYC COVID-19 VACCINE MIS/DISINFORMATION CADENCE REPORT

Recently Observed Mis/Disinformation Potentially Impacting NYC Vaccination Efforts

 GroupSense continues to track multiple disinformation narratives surrounding the vaccine and its distribution. We include below a sample of the most prominent recent narratives and highlight information specific to New York City where applicable.

Widespread Claims of Vaccine Ineffectiveness and Fraud Following Former COVID Response Coordinator's Interview

Source and Description of Threat	On 22 July 2022, Fox News journalist Neil Cavuto interviewed former White House Coronavirus Response Coordinator Deborah Birx about the most recent COVID-19 wave. In the interview, Dr. Birx advocated for vaccination, but also said she did not think that vaccines would reduce transmission and admitted that she believes that the White House overplayed vaccination as a method for controlling the virus's spread. She also mentioned that 50% of omicron deaths were among vaccinated senior citizens. Dr. Birx's comments have been met with outrage by anti-vaccine social media users, who have claimed that it is proof that the government is lying about the effectiveness of COVID-19 vaccines. Among the narratives promoted are that the government knew that the vaccines would not prevent spread, that lockdowns and vaccine mandates were based on lies, and that the government is spreading fraudulent data about the relationship between vaccination and COVID-19 deaths.
Reach	GroupSense observed this narrative spreading on Twitter, Facebook, Gettr, Parler, and Gab. It has also been promoted by multiple anti-vaccine online news outlets.

NYC Specifics	Narratives building off this interview have been promoted by prominent NYC-based anti-vaccine journalist Kyle Becker.

Replying to @SKMorefield

The fact that 50% of Omicron deaths were 'older and vaccinated' leads you to one of two ineluctable conclusions:

- 1) Mortality statistics are fraudulent
- 2) Vaccine efficacy rates are fraudulent

Take your pick. But one of these observations, perhaps both of them, are true.

Dr. Deborah Birx says she 'knew' COVID vaccines would not 'protect against infection'

NEW You can now listen to Fox News articles!

Former White House COVID response coordinator Dr. Deborah Birx said she "knew" that COVID-19 vaccines "were not going to protect against infection" Friday on "Your World."

PRESIDENT BIDEN TESTS POSITIVE FOR COVID-19

DR. BIRX: I knew these vaccines were not going to protect against infection. And I think we overplayed the vaccines, and it made people then worry that it's not going to protect against severe disease and hospitalization. It will. But let's be very clear: 50% of the people who died from the Omicron surge were older, vaccinated. So that's why I'm saying even if you're vaccinated and boosted, if you're unvaccinated right now, the key is testing and Paxlovid. It's effective. It's a great antiviral. And really, that is what's going to save your lives right now if you're over 70, which if you look at the hospitalizations, hospitalizations are rising steadily with new admissions, particularly in those over 70. And so if you live in the South - I know people keep talking about the fall - I'm worried about the South.

Conspiracy News Site Suggests that Ivana Trump Died Due to COVID and Monkeypox Vaccines

Source and Description of Threat	On 18 July 2022, conspiracy news site Real Raw News published an article reporting that New York businesswoman Ivana Trump had received a second COVID-19 booster shot and a monkeypox vaccine days before her death on 14 July 2022. The article claims that Mrs. Trump had been extremely concerned regarding both diseases and had received her vaccines in preparation for a vacation. The article claims that she suffered significant side effects following prior COVID-19 vaccination doses, including facial paralysis, neural damage in her legs, and extreme feverishness. Although the article's author claims to be only reporting facts and to not take a stance on what caused Ivana Trump's death, the framing and reporting heavily implies that she died of vaccine side effects.

Recently Observed Mis/Disinformation Potentially Impacting NYC Vaccination Efforts

 GroupSense continues to track multiple disinformation narratives surrounding the vaccine and its distribution. We include below a sample of the most prominent recent narratives and highlight information specific to New York City where applicable.

Anti-Vaccine News Outlets Promote Narrative that Monkeypox Vaccines are Untested

Source and Description of Threat	In recent days, GroupSense has observed a narrative emerge among anti-vaccine outlets claiming that the monkeypox vaccine is a mass clinical trial, thereby suggesting that the vaccine has not been tested for health or safety. This narrative is based on a clip of a World Health Organization panel discussion including Tim Nguyen, the Unit Head of Global Infectious Hazards Preparedness at the WHO Emergency Programme. In the clip, Tim Nguyen says that the WHO does have uncertainties regarding mass monkeypox vaccination due to the vaccine having not been used at this scale and in this context before. He says that as new monkeypox vaccines are developed, they should go through clinical trials to determine effectiveness, but does not describe current vaccination campaigns as a clinical trial. This narrative appears to have first been promoted on Twitter by Texas Lindsay, a Substack writer. Since then, the narrative has been picked up by The Epoch Times, The Gateway Pundit, InfoWars, and other anti-vaccine outlets.

Article Claims that Vaccinated Individuals Stay Contagious Longer than Unvaccinated

Source and Description of Threat	On 22 July 2022, digital media outlet The National Pulse published an article reporting on a recent study by multiple Boston doctors published in New England Journal of Medicine. The article claims that the study shows that individuals who have been vaccinated against COVID-19 stay contagious for longer than unvaccinated individuals based on the data in the study. It then claims that this is further evidence that COVID-19 vaccines are not effective. However, these claims directly contradict the authors of the study, who say that there is no discernible difference in duration of contagion among vaccinated and unvaccinated individuals based on the small size of the study. The National Pulse is an online news outlet that frequently publishes anti-vaccine content.

Anti-Vaxxers Suggest Canadian Doctors' Deaths Due to Vaccine

Source and Description of Threat	Between 16 July and 19 July 2022, four doctors in Toronto, Ontario, Canada passed away at rather young ages; three of the doctors worked in the same hospital network, Trillium Health. This story has gone viral among anti-vaxxers, who claim that the deaths are due to the COVID-19 vaccine. An article by vaccine-skeptical site Hollywood LA News noted that Ontario began recommending a second booster shot on 13 July 2022, which many readers of the article appear to have interpreted as a suggestion that the booster killed the doctors. The hospitals have denied that the doctors' deaths are attributable to the vaccine, but the denials have been met with scorn among many in the anti-vaccine community.

Viral Article Claims CDC Data Shows 18 Million People Hospitalized by Vaccines

Source and Description of Threat	On 6 October 2022, the website American Liberty Report published an article claiming that court-ordered release of CDC vaccination data shows that 18 million people have been hospitalized by COVID-19 vaccines. The data released does not make such a claim; however, American Liberty Report claims that the data gathered from the CDC's v-safe program showed 800,000 out of 10 million participants were hospitalized. The article extrapolates this data to claim that when looking at all COVID-19 vaccinations in the U.S, 18 million people would have proportionately been hospitalized. Despite being published a month ago, this article has gone viral on social media in recent days. It has been boosted and shared by prominent anti-vaccine advocates, including Dr. Robert Malone.

Microbiologist Claims Vaccines Causing Autoimmune Damage

Source and Description of Threat	On 29 October 2022 conspiracy theorist Greg Hunter released an episode of his internet show USAWatchdog in which he interviewed German microbiologist Dr. Sucharit Bhakdi. In the interview, Dr. Bhakdi claimed that the human body naturally contains “locks” that prevent the spread of harmful proteins, but that COVID-19 vaccines create spike proteins in the body that bypass these locks. He further claimed that these spike proteins create a dangerous autoimmune response that causes the human body to attack and destroy itself, particularly in the cardiovascular and neurological systems.

Former Australian MP Claims Vaccine Causing Miscarriages on The Alex Jones Show

Source and Description of Threat	On 8 November 2022 American conspiracy theorist Alex Jones interviewed former member of the Australian Parliament George Christensen about COVID-19 vaccines. In the interview, George Christensen claimed that Australian government statistics show a dramatic rise in miscarriages and stillbirths that tightly correlate to COVID-19 vaccines and alleges that the vaccines are the direct cause of infertility. He further claims that as many as 75% of pregnant women who are vaccinated miscarry. Alex Jones agreed with this assessment and claimed that such trends are being observed in all developed countries.

Russian Media Outlet Claims Johns Hopkins Scientists Predicted Vaccine Injuries

Source and Description of Threat	On 17 November 2022 Russian-language media website redko-da-metko[.]ru published an article discussing a 2017 report from the Johns Hopkins University Center for Health Security. The report discusses public health communication strategies in the event of a global pandemic, with the analysis provided through the lens of a roleplay exercise of a hypothetical coronavirus outbreak in 2025. The article from redko-da-metko[.]ru draws attention to a portion of the report discussing messaging around vaccine injuries. The article notes that the fact that this was prepared suggests that public health professionals have been aware for years that there is a risk of vaccine injuries from a coronavirus vaccine, and implies that current downplaying of injuries from COVID-19 vaccines is driven by malicious intent.

Polish-Speaking Gloria[.]TV User Suggests COVID-19 Vaccines Causing Sudden Convulsions

Internet obiegły nagrania, ukazujące ludzi, którzy nagle upadają na ziemię i dostają drgawek.

Długo zastanawiałem się, czy podjąć ten temat. Jednakże skala zjawiska, o którym dziś napiszę, jest tak duża i występuje praktycznie na całym globie, że nie mogłem tego tematu nie podjąć. Tak więc, jest coś, co teraz się dzieje na świecie. Coś bardzo dziwnego, wręcz przerażającego. To zjawisko zostało uchwycone przez kamery w różnych miejscach globu. Początkowo myślałem, że jest to odosobniony przypadek, jednakże z czasem natrafiałem na kolejne dowody, świadczące o tym, że jest to zjawisko coraz bardziej powszechne. Dowody na to, że to samo dzieje się z różnymi osobami, w różnych miejscach w różnym czasie. I w takiej sytuacji nie można, nie zadać pytania: „co się dzieje”? Mówię o nagraniach, ukazujących ludzi, którzy dosłownie wpadają w jakieś napady, upadają na ziemię, dostają drgawek, a nawet kręcą się dookoła siebie wymachując nogami i rękami.

Jest wiele teorii próbujących wyjaśnić to zjawisko, o którym w mediach „głównego nurtu” jest cisza, panuje pełna zмова milczenia. Ciekawe dlaczego? Niemniej jednak nie ulega wątpliwości, że poziom zdrowia u człowieka maleje, odporność jest systematycznie niszczona (jak chociażby za pomocą tych tak zwanych „szczepień” na COVID-19), ludzki organizm jest systematycznie podtruwany, czy to po przez produkty spożywcze, czy promieniowanie (na przykład 5G).Efektem

Substack Writer Claims 1 in 10 Boys Experience Cardiac Injury After Vaccination

Source and Description of Threat	On 16 November 2022 Substack writer Per VAERS published an article discussing reports of chest pain among minors in the VAERS reporting system. In the article, Per VAERS claims to have conducted a statistical analysis of myocarditis-associated symptoms that have been reported to VAERS following vaccination of COVID-19. After laying out their definitions and formulas, Per VAERS claims that their math demonstrates that 1 in 100 girls under 18 and that 1 in 10 boys under 18 experience cardiac injury within a week of receiving a second dose of a COVID-19 vaccine. As a result, Per VAERS claims that cardiac injury from COVID-19 vaccines is common among girls and very common among boys.

Former Healthcare Entrepreneur Claims that Pfizer Illegally Tested Multiple Vaccine Variants

Source and Description of Threat	On 30 September 2022 the Telegram channel Child COVID Vaccine Injuries UK posted a video of an interview with former healthcare entrepreneur Sasha Latypova from the outlet Steel Truth Media. The video, which appears to be from an interview conducted in early May 2022, features Sasha Latypova telling the host Ann Vandersteel that Pfizer used at least three variants of its COVID-19 vaccine formula during pre-clinical research and clinical trials. She claims that this was a violation of regulations on gene therapies at the time, and says that a disclaimer has since been added to the FDA website to make an exception for vaccines. She claims that such variation has resulted in numerous bad batches of vaccines that are toxic. Sasha Latypova and Ann Vandersteel additionally claim that there was no research into potential toxicity of spike proteins.

The FDA allowed Pfizer to trial different versions of the drug, different categories entirely; Modified RNA, unmodified RNA and self amplifying RNA.

Viral Article Selectively Reports Study in Manner that Discredits Boosters

Source and Description of Threat	On 25 October 2022, the media outlet The Epoch Times published an article reporting on a recent study published in JAMA comparing the effects of the original, delta, and omicron strains of COVID-19 upon vaccinated and unvaccinated first responders. The article, titled “Triple Vaccinated More Likely Than Unvaccinated to Get Symptomatic COVID-19: Study,” reports that the study found that individuals who had been vaccinated and boosted were more likely to be symptomatic and for longer than unvaccinated individuals. While the article does state that more boosted study recipients reported symptoms, the great majority of findings reported by the study found that vaccinated individuals experience fewer and less severe symptoms than unvaccinated individuals across the board. The article’s framing disproportionately emphasizes in such a way that users on numerous social media platforms are using it to discredit vaccines.

People who received two or three doses of a messenger RNA COVID-19 vaccine were more likely to contract COVID-19 with symptoms, according to a new study.

Researchers found that vaccinated people had higher odds of experiencing symptomatic COVID-19 than the unvaccinated, even if they had received a booster shot on top of a primary series.

VK Account Shares Video Suggesting that Vaccines Cause Depopulation

Source and Description of Threat	On 27 October 2022, a VK account called КПО - Канал повышения осознанности (translation: Raising Awareness Channel) shared a clip of an interview with Oxford immunologist Sir John Bell. At one point in the clip, the doctor says that the vaccine he's discussing will sterilize 60-70% of the population, and later that studies need to be done to determine if it will "do what we need it to do." Along with the video, the account posted in Russian, "A Freudian slip? Oxford professor talks about how the vaccine sterilizes only 60-70% of the population. Sir John Bell, a professor at Oxford Medical University (working for Bill Gates), said live about the COVID vaccine that 60-70% of the population will become infertile as a result of vaccination. Either he made a slip, or he told the truth - it's inaccurate. The video is already a year old."

Сэр Джон Белл, профессор Оксфордского медицинского университета (работает на Билла Гейтса), заявил в прямом эфире о вакцине против Covid, что 60-70% населения станут бесплодными в результате вакцинации.

То ли оговорился, то ли правду сказал - это неточно. Видео уже год.

Columbia Professor Claims that COVID-19 Vaccines are Responsible for Mass Deaths on Ask Dr. Drew

Source and Description of Threat	On an 11 October 2022 episode of his Rumble show Ask Dr. Drew , Dr. Drew Pinsky hosted Dr. Spiro Pantazatos, a professor at Columbia University. In the episode, Dr. Pantazatos claimed that COVID-19 vaccines are causing widespread death, as evidenced by significant upticks in excess mortality in the past two years. Dr. Pantazatos claims to have run the statistics and proven that there can be no cause for the excess mortality except for the vaccines, but that his paper demonstrating his findings has been refused by all mainstream journals. He claims that this is because of a refusal on the part of the journals and academia to rock the boat with findings contrary to the mainstream narrative.

Recently Observed Mis/Disinformation Potentially Impacting NYC Vaccination Efforts

 GroupSense continues to track multiple disinformation narratives surrounding the vaccine and its distribution. We include below a sample of the most prominent recent narratives and highlight information specific to New York City where applicable.

NYC Anti-Vaccine Activists Accuse Hospital of Normalizing Vaccine-Induced Myocarditis

Source and Description of Threat	On 19 September 2022, the Instagram account of New York Freedom Rally posted an ad by NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital that talked about child myocarditis. In a caption to the video, the account said, “How much will [NewYork-Presbyterian president] Steve Corwin make off of this year’s new epidemic, caused by the same people who paid him off last year? For God’s sake, how do these “doctors” sleep at night?” The same day, the TikTok account @bruknows0 shared the video and captioned it “New York Presbyterian trying to normalize myocarditis in children.” Reaction from these and similar posts on Twitter has claimed that NewYork-Presbyterian ran the ad so as to convince people that childhood myocarditis is a normal condition unrelated to COVID-19 vaccines. Misinformation narratives singling out specific hospitals may be of particular concern currently given a recent rise in misinformation-driven harassment campaigns against hospitals that are accused of mistreating children

Fitness Influencer Suggests that Monkeypox Cases Among People with HIV are Caused by COVID-19 Vaccines

Source and Description of Threat	On 19 September 2022, fitness influencer Frank Tortorici posted a TikTok in which he suggests that monkeypox cases among people with HIV in the United States are caused by COVID-19 vaccines. He discusses an NPR article noting high overlap between people with HIV and monkeypox cases, and notes the suggestion in the article that men who have sex with men (MSM) are at high risk for both. Frank Tortorici then points to surveys showing that gay and lesbian individuals are vaccinated against COVID-19 at rates above the national average. In order to avoid the video being taken down, he uses coded language, strategic pauses, and does not directly claim that the vaccines caused monkeypox in MSM, but claims he is connecting dots. Frank Tortorici is an online fitness influencer. He regularly posts anti-COVID vaccine content to his TikTok account.

Anti-Vax Accounts Promote Taking Zeolite to Eliminate Vaccine Effects

Source and Description of Threat	In the past two weeks, GroupSense has observed an uptick in narratives encouraging people to take zeolite supplements in order to purge COVID-19 vaccines from their systems. Zeolites are a broad category of aluminosilicate minerals with a variety of scientific uses. Though specific types have some medical uses, such supplements on the whole are unproven in effects on humans. Proponents of zeolite supplements have frequently claimed that they have a wide range of detoxification properties.
Reach	GroupSense has observed this narrative be promoted primarily on Twitter, Facebook, and Telegram. We have seen it spread in English and Vietnamese.
Demography	Vaccinated individuals; Vietnamese-speakers
Geography	United States; Vietnam
Language	English; Vietnamese
NYC Specifics	No NYC-specific nexus identified
New or evolving narrative?	Evolving narrative: zeolite supplements build on pre-existing narratives claiming that a range of unproven supplements can mitigate supposedly toxic effects from COVID-19.
Response	GroupSense will continue monitoring for the spread and evolution of this narrative.

Bác sĩ Howard nói thêm về Zeolite Gần như tất cả các bệnh tật đều có thể là do

Gần như tất cả các bệnh tật đều có thể là do các chất độc phá hủy tích tụ trong cơ thể. Chúng ta tiếp xúc với chất độc mỗi ngày từ không khí, thức ăn và nước. Chúng loại bỏ độ pH của cơ thể và đưa nó vào trạng thái có tính axit. Khi cơ thể có tính axit, đây là lúc virus, nấm, vi khuẩn và ký sinh trùng có thể dễ dàng phát triển và lấn át hệ thống miễn dịch. Zeolite hấp thụ và loại bỏ các vật liệu độc hại như một nam châm, và đưa chúng ra khỏi cơ thể một cách an toàn. So với các phương pháp cai nghiện khác, zeolite cực kỳ nhẹ nhàng.

Ngoài ra, zeolit là một khoáng chất có tính kiềm, vì vậy nó giúp đẩy cơ thể vào trạng thái kiềm khi nó lưu thông trong cơ thể. Điều này rất quan trọng nếu bạn bị ốm hoặc đang chữa bệnh vì nó đẩy cân bằng pH lên cao hơn một chút, để giúp tạo ra môi trường lành mạnh cần thiết trong cơ thể.

Thực tế là không phải tất cả các chất bổ sung zeolite đều được tạo ra như nhau là một khái niệm cực kỳ quan trọng cần hiểu trước khi mua một cách mù quáng một chất bổ sung zeolite.

Có hàng chục chất bổ sung zeolite trên thị trường. Nhiều thương hiệu biến mất khỏi thị trường trong vòng một hoặc hai năm, và một số thương hiệu lớn đã bảm trụ. Nhưng chỉ vì bạn của bạn đã sử dụng một chất bổ sung zeolite nhất định trong nhiều năm không có nghĩa là đó là một chất bổ sung chất lượng.

Zeolite lỏng không hiệu quả để giải độc

Chất lỏng zeolite thường có giá rẻ hơn, điều này khiến chúng trở nên hấp dẫn đối với những người dùng zeolite lần đầu tiên, những người không muốn đầu tư nhiều như vậy để dùng thử sản phẩm. Mặt khác, một số chất lỏng zeolite rất đắt vì chúng được bán bởi các công ty tiếp thị đa cấp (MLM), những công ty này có giá cao ngất ngưỡng để các nhà phân phối có thể kiếm lời.

Claim that Bivalent Booster Killed Canadian Woman Spreading Among Anti-Vaxxers

Source and Description of Threat	On 14 September 2022, sixty-eight year old Carol Pearce of Saskatoon, Saskatchewan collapsed and died in a drug store within minutes of receiving the new bivalent COVID-19 booster. The Saskatchewan coroner's office ruled that the death was from natural causes. However, Carol Pearce's daughter Stephanie Foster claimed in a now-viral Facebook post that the ruling was wrong as her mother was healthy, and thus she must have died from the booster shot. This incident has been taken up by many anti-vaccine activists as proof of the harms of the latest round of COVID-19 boosters as well as the vaccines broadly. It has been most prominently promoted by The Defender, the newsletter of the anti-vaccine advocacy organization Children's Health Defense.

Canadian woman dies 7 minutes after booster shot, coroner rules 'natural causes'

A Canadian woman on Sept. 14 died suddenly in a drug store within minutes of receiving the new bivalent COVID-19 booster shot, according to her daughter.

Carol Pearce texted her daughter, Stephanie Foster, at 12:31 p.m. to say she received her booster shot and was waiting the recommended 15 minutes at the drug store. At 12:38 p.m., Pearce was unconscious.

An eyewitness told SASKTODAY.ca she was in the store when she heard screaming and crying. "They were saying in the store that it was about seven minutes," after Pearce got the booster shot that she collapsed on the floor, the witness said.

A spokesperson from Saskatchewan Health told SASKTODAY.ca on Thursday Pearce died from natural causes.

"The Saskatchewan coroner's service has investigated this instance and determined that the person died from natural causes," Dale Hunter, a communications consultant from the Saskatchewan Ministry of Health said in an email.

"I do not believe this was caused from natural causes," Foster said. "My Mom had no health conditions. I believe had she not gotten that Covid shot then she would be here with us today!"

Polish Twitter User Claims that mRNA Vaccines are Gene Therapy

Source and Description of Threat	On 23 September 2022, Twitter user @grodzkirobert tweeted, “Pfizer i Moderna przyznały w aktach federalnych, że ich zastrzyki mRNA są terapią genową. To zdecydowanie nie jest szczepionka i możliwe są liczne skutki uboczne” (Translation: Pfizer and Moderna admitted in federal records that their mRNA injections are gene therapy. It is definitely not a vaccine and there are numerous possible side effects). Accompanying the tweet was a video clip of anti-COVID vaccine attorney Thomas Renz speaking in a U.S Senate hearing in March. Doctor Claims that Omicron is Not COVID-19, Vaccines Do Not Work Against It

Source and Description of Threat	On 25 September 2022, Dr. Randall Bock published an article in the digital outlet The Daily Skeptic in which he claimed that the omicron variant is not a form of COVID-19. Dr. Bock alleges that variants through delta were indeed COVID-19, but that the omicron variant is too genetically distinct to be considered COVID-19. As a result, he claims that both the original vaccines and recent booster shots are completely ineffective against omicron and that continued COVID-19 mitigation efforts are fearmongering. Dr. Randall Bock is a primary care physician in the Boston, Massachusetts metro area.
